JOSH. T. JAMES. Editor & Prop. WILMINGTON. N. C.

WEDNE DAY, AUGUST 10. 1887 terest the Postofhee at Wilmington, N. C. us second-class matter.

A sensible correspondent from Europe advises American parents to educate their children in their native and He says: "There are here in Europe multitudes of American children who can speak French and German better than their own language. I met the other evening a family from Ohio, and found the son a boy of 12, reading Cooper's novels and 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' in German 'I under s'and them better in German than in English,' he remarked with a strong foreign accent. The parents spoke of the fact with evident satisfaction. Another American tamity, in which are five daughters, who have made great success in science, medicine. painting and music, employ German or French in their home circle, and cannot pronounce an English sentence without making a blunder of some kind."

The report that Secretary Lamar has requested that al! bureau officers shall bring in their reports much earlier than usual this year, by the middle of Septalk that he is to be appointed to the prepare his annual report as early as tion for a $10 man." was the reply. possible in order that, if it shall be deemed necessary, he may take his seat upon the Bench at the October term .-The fact that Secretary Lamar will go address and find out; if you are wise you will upon the Bench being generally conceded, Secretary Muldow's name is frequently mentioned as his successor. In the interior department his appointment would cause great pleasure. His qualifications, the fact that he would be recommended by Secretary Lamar, his executive ability, which has contributed so largely to the succe s of Mr Lamar's administration, and his association with the reforms instituted in the department are quoted in his tavor. Should be be appointed the policy of the department would not be changed

> Senator Pugh, of Alabama, conced ng that Cleveland's renomination is assured, says the time is drawing near for the selection of the second man on the ticket In his opinion the Vice Presidential nominee should come from the West, and the man chosen should be of the Presidential grade. I is not necessary that he should be soldier vote, because the Republican veterans will vote for anyone whom their party may nominee, and the Dear ocratic veterans will vote the Democratic ticket however it may be constructed. Therefore, he considers it bad politics to put a weak man on the icket with Cleveland, whose only qualdication is that he was a soldier twenty odd years ago. He does not fear the nomination by the Republicans of either Blaine or Sherman, since he beieves they would antagonize each other to the bitter end rather than one should be successful over the other. He considers a ticket composed of Senators Allison and Hawley probably the most dangerous one for the Democracy. although Allison's views on finance might not be acceptable to the New England States.

All the prominent Irishmen of New York deny any knowledge of Mooney, he man who tried to destroy the steamer Queen. Mooney's effects were found in a zinc covered, oak bound trunk and two valises, all carefully packed as though the man had made preparations for a hasty departure. In the trunk were found two pieces of gas pipe, packages of powder, sulphur, phosphorous, crystals of chloride of po tassium, several glass tubes and some blasting caps for Atlas powder, besides clothes and note-books. There was a picture of Dr. McGlynn and a few personal letters. The pipes were of heavy brass, of unequal lengths and at about one-third of the distance from one end of each was a cock, which the police did not attempt to turn. The shank of the cock was made of a soft metal that could be eaten away by acid placed in the smaller chamber and thus explode the contents of the larger. Capt. Gastlin, who made the examination, remarked: "Mooney was ready to blow up a fleet." Capt. Gastlin found good reason to believe that Mooney is the man who blew up the Old Dominion line steamship Gayandotte with a dynamite bomb on January 31, during the coal handlers' strike, and perhaps the man who tried to burn the Pennsylvania Railroad ferry boats Chicago and New York and the Morgan line steam.

At the age of three months a rash made its appearance on my face. A physician was called he said teething was the cause, he pre scribed some cooling medicine, but the sores spread to my ears and head. Another M D. was called He professed to know all about the case, called it "King's kvil", and prescribed gunpowder, brimstone, and lard mix ed into a saive, but the decase continued. They could not do anything with it. Another prescribed borax water and flour; an ther, inseed poultices. None of them did me any good at all, but ade me worse The disease continued unabated; it spread to my arms and legs, till I was said up entirely, and from continual sitting on the floor on a pillow my itmbs contracte tso that I lost all control of them, and was utterly helpless My mother would have to lift me out and into bed.
