FORTUNE FOR EVERY ONE. Millionaire Mackay's Advice to Young Men and Women.

Once in a while a man with a woe-begone face and a general aspect of seediness will say: "There is no chance for a poor man in this country."

It is not the men who make all the money, either. There are young women who can give ordinary men points on making safe and good investments.

When John A. Mackay the famous Bonanza millionaire, was at the Hoffman House recently, a Morning Journal reporter asked him how he got his first start.

"In a mining property," replied Mr. Mackay. "There is nothing like mines to make a fortune, and when a young man asks my advice as to what he shall do with his fifty dollars, or his hundred dollars, or his five hundred dollars, I invariably tell him: 'Put it in a good mine.'"

That the advice of Mr. Mackay is being pretty generally acted on by men and women who are smart enough to take advice from such a source, is shown by the wonderful demand which has sprung up for the stock of the Tortilita Gold and Silver Mining Company.

Such a chance to make a safe investment that is away ahead of savings banks and building associations is rarely offered to the public.

Shares are non-assessable and the man or woman who calls or sends to the office of the Tortilita Mining Company to invest but $2 is treated with as much courtesy as the millionaire who buys 5,000 shares.

Already the shares are a favorite investment in all parts of the country, especially with people who have small sums of money and who hope for large returns from a small purchase.

The stock has advanced 100 per cent. from the original price, and many believe it will go to $10 and even $20 per share. The price now is $2 dividends will begin September 1, and bullion is now being shipped.

And now a word about the mines and the officers of the company: Mr. Joseph H. Reall, president of the American Agricultural and Dairy Association, is president of the Tortilita Gold and Silver Mining Company.
