Philadelphia barber displays a sign which announces that he is "proprietor of a facial decorating saloon, tonsorial artist, physiological hair dresser and facial operator, cranium manipulator and capillary abridger."

The Siamese Prince now in this country speaks English fluently, wears European dress, and is a very intelligent man. He received his knowledge of English from F. H. Chandler, who was at one time American consul at Bangkok.

Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes begins to feel worn and weary with overwork, and shows a general breaking down of his system. He makes few visits and is husbanding his strength, passing most of his time quietly among his books.

To get out of a thunder storm J. H. Douville rode his horse into an old school house near Eckerty, Ind. In doing so he disturbed a hornet's nest and they attacked the horse so savagely that he died within an hour from the effect of the stings.

A Washington correspondent has been figuring out the amount paid by the Government in pensions. The aggregate paid in twenty-one years, 1867 to 1887, both inclusive, is $855,631,098. In 1873 there were 99,804 pensioners; in 1882, 173,854; at the present time, 265,654.

The number of mysterious murders occurring recently in Paris leads Galliani's Messenger to suggest to the police the desirability of enlisting the press in the detection of the murderers. It pledges itself "to spend its money freely in all such enterprises, and to keep faith with police or private individuals."

The tomb of Gen. Lafayette, in the private cemetery of the Convent of the Sacred Heart, in Paris, was decorated by a large number of Americans on the day before the French national holiday. A society was formed for the purpose of presenting a statue of Lafayette to the city of Paris.

Life seems more human when things like this come true: "It is stated that Mr. Robert Bonner, publisher of the New York Ledger, had, unknown to Mr. Cobb, carried a $30,000 insurance on the life of the late Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., for the benefit of his family."

The house of Krupp, the German gunmaker, is about to institute legal proceedings against several French and Italian newspapers for having published articles alleging that the famous establishment had become pecuniarily involved to the extent of downright failure.

The death of Katkoff, the Russian editor who so hated M. de Giers and Germany, is openly rejoiced at by the German journals as a public blessing. Certainly the event transforms the European situation, weakens the military party in Russia and removes Germany's most potent foe.

THE DAILY REVIEW

VOL. XI.

WILMINGTON, N. C., MONDAY, AUGUST 15, 1887

NO 193

At the village of Liss, in Hampshire, England, an ox was boiled whole on Jubilee Day. A huge tank was placed in a hole in the ground, and was bricked all round. The whole carcass was lowered into the tank, with quantities of vegetables, and, after boiling seven hours, the resulting soup and the meat were served to the people of the village.

During the recent convention of colored veterans in Boston it was stated in the discussions that the first colored troops enlisted in the late war came from Massachusetts. Gen. B. F. Butler states that this is a mistake, and he asserts that in 1862 he enlisted three regiments of colored troops in New Orleans and had them in action a long time before colored soldiers were used elsewhere.

Numbers of counterfeit one dollar pieces of glass and composition are being circulated just now in New York and Philadelphia, causing much annoyance to business men. When fresh from the hands of the counterfeiter it is difficult to detect the coin except by its weight, it being lighter than a genuine piece. After a little use the coins tarnish. It is supposed that the pieces are the work of skillful counterfeiters in the West.

In the new Holburg Theatre, now building in Vienna, special stairways lead to the different orders of seats. Electric lights only will be used, candles, and not gas, being resorted to in case of accident. The stage (except the flooring) and its machinery are of steel and stone, and the former is supplied with two metallic curtains, one of which divides it in two parts, and extends from the footlights to the rear wall, while the other falls behind the conventional drop. The second curtain is made of two sheets of iron, and as it is lowered the space between the two sheets will be filled with water.

Their Business Booming
Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at W. H. Green & Co.'s Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Brace Up.
You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with Headache, you are fidgety, nervous, and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very bad, cheap whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alternative to purify your blood, start healthy action of Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at W. H. Green & Co.'s Drug Store.

Rain here to-day, yesterday and Saturday; none at Southport yesterday.

The thermometer got up to 90 degrees at 1 o'clock, which was the highest point reached to-day.

The first bale of new cotton is expected by many to drop in on us this week. Charleston had hers on Saturday.

The first rice birds of the season were heard at Orton Plantation on Thursday night. Passengers coming up the river on the Louise this morning say that the birds were being fired at as the boat passed that point.

Paints and Varnish. Best in city at JACOBSON'S, and at lower prices than you can buy elsewhere.

A large excursion party is expected here to-morrow morning from Goldsboro and for their accommodation the Passport will wait the arrival of the train, so as to take them down to the Beach. She will leave at 10:15, instead of 9 o'clock, her usual hour.

The English sparrows with which the city is filled play havoc with the seedling plants in the flower gardens. They are going about in flocks and are literally devouring the seed of the sunflower.

Carolina Beach. Keep cool and remember that the headquarters for bathing suits is at the Wilmington Shirt Factory. Suits made to order. Ladies a specialty. J. ELSHACH, Prop. 27 Market street.

At St. John's Sunday School, yesterday afternoon, one of the teachers asked a mite of a scholar what it was that God made on the sixth day, and after considerable cogitation the young one replied: "Oh, I know now, Carolina Beach." Fact.

New to Us.
Mr. R. H. Orrell has presented us with a big sunflower, grown in his garden, that is of a species of sunflower we have never before seen. It is the regulation yellow in color and of the usual size, but instead of the spiked leaves around the edge, enclosing a mass of growing seed, it is all one mass of bloom, consisting of short spikes, which show beautiful changes of color when held to the light. It is more like a huge yellow dahlia than a sunflower.

For the Mountains.

It is said that the latter part of August or the first part of September is the best time of the year to visit the mountains. At that time the days are not too warm and the nights are cool and pleasant. Those who want to go West now are offered the opportunity. Tickets have been placed on sale at the Carolina Central office in this city and at the office of the Atlantic Coast Line. Passengers can go either by Goldsboro, Columbia or Lincolnton and round trip tickets will be sold at $8.50. These tickets are good only for trains leaving here next Friday, the 19th, but are good to return until September 5th.

The Salvationists.

His Honor, the Mayor, had a slim docket but a big crowd this morning. Two trifling cases of disorderly conduct were disposed of and then came the event of the session, the hearing of the two officers of the Salvation Army, Capt. Thomas Hunton and Lieut. Wm. Dronkley, who were arrested a week ago on the charge of violating a city ordinance by holding meetings on the street. Mr. E. S. Martin appeared for the city and Mr. John C. Davis for the defendants. There was a large array of witnesses and also a large attendance of interested spectators. The defendants were bound over for appearance at the Criminal Court in the sum of $50 each.

Personal.

Mr. R. W. Hicks has gone to Charleston, W. Va., where his wife is visiting her relatives.

Mr. Geo. Harriss, Jr., of Philadelphia, is in the city.

Mr. E. P. Bailey is in New York on a business visit.

We are sorry to say that Maj. Foster is still quite ill and unable to sit up.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Edward Sprunt, of Savannah, are visiting relatives here.

Major C. W. McClammy has returned to his home at Scott's Hill from a visit to Moore and Harnett counties.

Rev. C. M. Payne, formerly Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, is expected on a visit here this week.

His Honor, Mayor Fowler, we are pleased to note, has so far recovered as to appear in his office to-day. He presided at the City Court this morning with his usual grace and dignity.

Mr. W. Alden James, of the U. S. Engineer Department, who has been on duty at Georgetown, S. C., ever since last November, is in the city and will proceed in a few days to Washington N. C., where he has been ordered to report for duty.

Ex Mayor Fishplate and his daughter, Miss Ella, will leave for the North to-morrow morning. They will visit New York, Saratoga and Lake George.

While in New York Mr. Fishplate will purchase a Fall and Winter stock of goods for his business in this city.

Lieut. F. M. Munger, of the U. S. R. M. S., who has been at the head of the list of First Lieutenants for some time past, has at last received his promotion to the grade of Captain and is now on waiting orders. He is an exceedingly clever gentleman, as well as an accomplished officer, and has many friends who will rejoice at his promotion.

Knight of Honor.

Carolina Lodge No. 434, Regular meeting this (Monday) evening, at 8 o'clock. Full attendance is desired.

Mr. C. P. Locky, Commissioner, advertises in this issue a valuable piece of city real estate, which will be sold at public auction, at the Court House door, on Monday, September 5th.

Indications.

For North Carolina, light local showers, followed by fair weather, slightly warmer in Eastern portion and stationary temperature in Western portion.

Murder Most Foul.

A colored man by the name of Moses Garrett was shot and fatally wounded early this morning by another colored man named Anthony McDamett. There was a woman in the case and her name is Fanny McDaniel. The shooting took place at about 1:30 o'clock; at that hour Garrett was returning with the woman from a "bush meeting" at Hilton and when just beyond the bridge over the Carolina Central R. R. on Fourth street known as "Little Bridge" they were met by McDamett who advanced toward them, said, "good evening" and then immediately fired at Garrett. The ball struck him fairly in the right side and he fell to the ground. The murderer fled and the woman gave the alarm and assistance was summoned and the wounded man was carried to the City Hospital, where he died at 5 o'clock this morning. Coroner Miller summoned a jury and an inquest has been held but the report is not yet in.

It seems that jealousy on the part of McDamett was the cause of the trouble. He has been intimate with the woman for some time past and was jealous of Garrett's attentions to her. The deceased accompanied her to the bush meeting last night and met his death on the return.

Moses Garrett was a shingle maker by occupation and McDamett has been employed for some time past as a train hand on the Carolina Central R. R.

The murderer has not yet been apprehended, and it is feared that he has made good his escape. It is certain he left the city before daylight this morning as at that hour Capt. Brock, Chief of Police, had the avenues of escape carefully watched. It is thought that he fled across the railroad bridge at Hilton immediately after he committed the fatal deed and that he has headed for South Carolina, from which State he hailed.

The Streets of Wilmington.

For some of our streets are only such in name, every other characteristic they fail to possess. In some of them it would be utterly impossible to define the line where the street begins and private property ends. And some of them it is the bitterest irony to pronounce streets at all, with their winding courses, their overgrown fields of luxuriant vegetation, and the hills and valleys which abound.—Messenger

To put it piously, this is simply an exaggeration, and it is difficult to conceive why a newspaper published in Wilmington should have uttered it. Any one at all conversant with the streets of our city will see at a glance how palpably unjust it is. We doubt if there is a more handsomely and correctly laid out city in the United States. The streets, with one or two exceptions—where it was found impossible to comply with the original plan—are at perfect right angles with each other, running North and South and East and West. There are no streets which "are only such in name"; there is not one where "it would be utterly impossible to define the line where the street begins and private property ends"; and there are none "with winding courses" and "overgrown fields of luxuriant vegetation."

Of course our remarks will apply only to the settled portions of the city, and not to parts of the suburbs where, although streets have been laid off there may be no houses and hence no enclosures.

On the contrary, we have often heard our people complimented for their wide and shady streets and for the regularity with which they are laid off, thus enabling strangers to readily find their way from one point to another.

The Last Chance.

To buy clothing at 40 and 50 cents on the dollar. Don't miss the opportunity of getting a slice of the numerous bargains now to be had at I. Shrier's. Remember that this is no humbugging scheme. Every dollar's worth of goods must be sold before Shrier's removal to the mammoth store in the Purcell building on Front street. It would be advisable for country merchants to give him a call and get bargains in job lots.

Headquarters for base ball supplies is at Heinsberger's.

The REVIEW JOB OFFICE is the place to get good work at moderate prices.

Railroad Talk.

Nothing positive has yet been developed as to the early intentions of the Wilmington, Onslow & East Carolina R. R. Co. except the fact that work on the line will probably be begun at an early day. There are some rumors, however, that point to an active progress of at least a portion of the work. It is said that the company have secured an option, until Thursday, on the purchase of a one-half interest in Col. George Harriss' property at Wrightsville, that known as Sneed's hammock and the banks, North of the Club House and Capt. Manning's bath houses, extending to the inlet, and a part of the beach North of the inlet. It is also said that the ten gentlemen who form the syndicate will put up the $5,000 each, the full amount of their subscription, and that they will at once build the road to Wrightsville expecting to have it open early next season. The amount thus raised, together with the subscription of $2,500 per mile on the part of the city, will be ample, we suppose, to build the road from the city to the beach.

The matter of a continuation of the road on towards Onslow to be determined on the completion of the road to the beach. We do not think that the threatened injunction will be applied for.
