In this emergency Mr. J. T. Branch engineer of the Vim. entered the water and after hours of hard labor succeeded in cutting away the rope. Mr. Branch had no diving suit and hence his stay under, water each time that he dived was limited. At 11 o'clock Saturday night be propellor was clear and the steamer went to sea.

Information Wanted.

A gentleman at Bridgeport, Conn., is very auxious to get some information relative to a large blockade runner cargo of cotton, some time during the latter part of the year 1864 or early in to have been the Magnolia. The said steamer was captured on the coast, soon after leaving this port, by U. S. steamers Queen and Quaker City and was taken into Hampton Roads in charge of a prize crew from the latter city. The information sought is of a personal nature and it any of our readers can remember enough of the circumstances to locate the vessel we will be glad it they will let us know it.

Drowned in the North East. Mr. H. M. Hocutt, at Ormsby's Bluff, on the North East river, sends us an account of the drowning there, on Friday atternoon, of a young colored man by the name of Grant Carr. The aecident occurred within a quarter of a mile of Mr. Hocutt's place. Carr was at work on a flat for Mr. T. B. Cowan along with three other colored men. Frank Ashford, Barney Bannermann and Andrew Tate. The parties who were at work with bim on the flat report that he either jumped off or fell off. and did not reappear on the surface -They say that he was trightened by a large nest of wasps on a bush by the side of the river and was trying to get away from them. He was a good, industrious young man. His body had not
