Harper's Young People. AN ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY.

"the model of what a periodical for young reasers ought to be," and the justice of this ommendation is amply sustained by the arge circulation it has attained both at home and in Great Britain. This success has been reached by methods that must commend themselves to the judgment of parents, no less than to the tastes of children—namely, by an earnest and well sustained effort to provide people at a low price. The Illustrations are copieus and of a conspicuously high standard

Fairy Gold.

Once on a time." the stories say, The wee green elves would often cast, Bright heaps of gold in mortals' way; But fairy gold would never last. I know 'tis true; you ask me how? My dears, they so netimes do it now!

If you some more will come with me,-My blue-eyed lad, my brown-eyed

I'll take you where you'll shout to see The gay gold glistening on the gras-Your small, hot hands you both may

And leave the meadow shining still.

But hidden watchers, all the while Are tittering softly to themselves: Alas! you little guess the guile

And roguish mockery of the elves! Too soon you'll find, as I have told, That buttercups are fairy gold! -Helen Gray Cone.

A Remeay in Kidney Affec-

"My kidneys were so affected I have been compelled to get up as much as ten times in one night. I had pains in my side back and left shoulder, and when down could hardly rise. I was moable to bend my body without great pain. I tried Simmons Liver Regulator and my condition has improved so much that I hardly ever teel any of my old trouble." W. JOHNSON, Express gent. Macon. Frozen in Midsummer.

In speaking of the large number of deaths of Engli h sparrows during the late rainstorms Prot. Outo Lugger sain yesterday that, instead of having been dashed to death, be believed they had been frozen in m dsummer. One day last week he counted forty sparrows lying stiff add cold within a distance of three squares. He carried eight nome, examined all of them, and found on bones broken. Four of them he warmed and they were revived The other four never showed signs of life. Prof. Lugger gave the following explanation of the apparent lifelessness, after the storm, of the birds, most of which were against the wind. Should the wind suddenly change and blow in the same a greater rate of speed, the birds feathers are blown forward, the skin is exposed, and a cold. driving rain soon chills the birds and causes their death In this way, strange as it may seem the birds may be said to have been trozen in midsummer.—Baltimore Sun -----
