JOSH. T. JAMES. Editor & Prop WILMINGTON, N. C.

TUE DAY, SEPTEMBER 20. '87 Entered at the Postofice at Wilmington, N as second-class matter.

John Sherman, James G Bisine and about one hundred wealthy followers of their school of politics, have combined ngether to subscribe $100 a year for the circulation of projectionist literature during the coming campaign. It s proposed to increase the number of aguers to one thousand, which will give the neat sum of $100 000 to be used for monopoly politics. But even this large amount, as the New York Star says, will be only the cover for the immense corruption fund that will be used o contest important States this year. preliminary to the national campaign of

Gov Hill, of New York, is talking sense to the tarmers of his State. He is reported as denouncing "those adventurers who are now clamoring for a division of property." "How long," he pertinently asks, "even if their wish were granted, would it be before they would want another division?" "An undue desire or mania for speculation, he continues, "seems to have seized upon the people. Too many men are anxious to become suddenly rich with out working. Speculation is not an honest trade or business enterprise -Times have changed when Henry Ives can emerge from obscurity, become hailed as a young Napoleon of finance | And at chewing gum none can surpas. and in two years fail for thirty millions of dollars."
