I suffered from a very severe cold in my head for months and used everything recommended but could get no relief. Was advised to use Ely's Cream Balm. It has worked like magic in its cure. I am free from my cold after using the Balm one week and I believe it is the best remedy known. Feeling grateful for what it has done for me I send this testimonial.—Samuel J. Harriss, Wholesale Grocer, 119 Front St.,

Two bottles of Ely's Cream Balm cured the wife of a well known U. S. A. General and also two army officers in Arizona of catarrh.

A Wise Young Wife.

"There," said the young wife, turning from the mirror to her husband and giving him a sweet smile, "what do you thing of these bangs. Charles? Do they become me?"

Charles, who was at that time engrossed in the task of reckoning up the total cost of bonnets, bangs, dresses, and so forth, answered with ANGLO-NEVADA ASSURANCE CORPORA'N. a clouded brow:

"I should think you would be ashamed to ask such a question, Mary Your vanity is becoming absolutely insufferable.'

"Charles," she said, in a tremu-lous voice, "if I am vain it is for you. You would not love me if I was a slattern and a dowdy. It is for your sake that 1 try to make myself as attractive as possible.'

Having said this she bursts into

Then Charles arose and gathered her into his arms and kissed her fondly and said: "Your bangs are lovely, dear, and you are lovely; and if all wives were as neat and desirous of attracting the admiration of their husbands as you are, there would be a great deal more conjugal happiness in the world than there is at present. There, my love. Now forgive me for my rudeness.

A Big Fish on a Small Hook.

The exploit of the Florida fisher- CAKES & CRACKERS larity for comfor and durability equal to man who landed a tarpon, more familiarly known as the silver fish, with rodand reel, has been excelled by a young lad of Handsborough named Germain, who, with a common fishing pole, a five-cent line, and an ordinary trout hook, landed a 300-pound tarpon at that place on the 4th. Germain was fishing for mackerel on the canning factory wharf, when his bait went under with a jerk. It seemed so like a mackerel bite that he essayed to land his game in mackerel style. The re- line. sistance offered and the immediate appearance of the silver coated monster, who broke the water and threw himself into the air only to dive back to the deep, showed that a tarpon was hooked. The lad held on to the pole like grim death and yelled. Messrs. Willie Hayward, a keen sportsman, Thad Lyons, an expert fisherman, and Jack Craig, another expert, being on hand relieved the lad at intervals, and the fish ed the lad at intervals, and the hish was skillfully played until, exhausted, it lay parting on its side by the pier posts. Three thrusts of the harpoon glanced off. The fourth transfixed him. Its jumps meantime had been immense. It threw itself from the water and turned with that peculiar wriggle which, it is said, throws the hook from the jaws, but every effort it made to get as The following quotrious represent a straight tension on the line was a small orders higher prices have to be charged pole, and, almost lifeless, the grand game lay by the posts of the pier. To get the monster on the pier was the next question. As he lay supinely on his side Jack Craig skinned down one of the posts and inserted a big hook in his gills. This movement of Craig's resulted in a retaliatory movement on the part of the fish, who gave what old whalers have described as the death flurry, and Craig was struck on the head by the end of the fish's tail, wich for a moment stunned him. Upon his recovery the parties pulled the grand catch upon the pier. Its weight was in the neighborhood of 300 pounds.-New Orleans Times-Deomerat.
