The first snow of the season fell at Peoria, Ills., Saturday morning.

The statue of Abraham Lincoln was unveiled in Lincoln park, Chicago, on Saturday.

The Alpha oil company, of Detroit, the young rival of the Standard, has assigned. Its capital was $1,000,000.

The town of Ketab in Bucharea, Central Asia, has been destroyed by fire and half its inhabitants have been burned to death.

The total reward given to Express Messenger Smith, of El Paso, Tex., who killed five train robbers a week ago, will, it is thought, reach $6,000.

The State Fair last week was a great success in everything save the weather. It is suggested that the fairs continue hereafter for two weeks, instead of one.

Pinafore Mikado Gilbert's latest bon mot addressed to a literary circle, is this: "It is easy enough for bishops to be good on salaries of $5,000 a year, but we have to be good for nothing—and some of us are."

John Yocum, of Valley Bend, W. Va., died the other day, aged one hundred and six years. There were gathered at his bedside his six children, all old, gray-haired, and in one or two cases, quite feeble. The old man had not been ill for seventy five years.

The popularity of Judge Gary, of Chicago, the Republican judge before whom the anarchists were tried, is so great that the Democrats have nominated him for re-election on their ticket. The Republicans are certain to place him on their ticket, and his re-election is sure.

The famous cloak and helmet of red feathers once worn by the King of Sandwich Islands, and given by him to Captain Cook a few days before the death of the latter, was lately brought to light in a closet in a Yorkshire country-house, where they had been lying unknown for half a century.

Lady Brassey died on board the Sunbeam, her husband's yacht, while bound for Australia, and was buried at sea. She was the author of several interesting works describing her extensive travels. She had made a journey around the world in her husband's yacht.

The Princess Eugene, of Sweden, who some years ago disposed of her jewels and devoted the proceeds to the poor, has taken a contingent of the Salvation Army under her wing with a view to testing the sincerity of their religious fervor.

The five story building of the Scarritt furniture company, in St. Louis, stored from cellar to garret with valuable new furniture, was destroyed by fire Saturday night, and the conflagration threatened to devour the entire block. The loss may reach $300,000.

Mr. Gladstone has lately expressed himself in favor of some plan by which members of Parliament will receive salaries for their services.

John K. Cowen, the Baltimore independent, has reiterated his charges against Ex-Mayor Latrobe and invited the latter to contest their reliability in a court of law.

The Duchess of Cumberland, sister of the Princess of Wales, who was put into an insane asylum some months ago, has completely recovered her reason.

Lew Simons and Charles Mason have been offered by Chris von der Aher, president of the St. Louis baseball club, $35,000 for their two thirds interest in the Athletic club of Philadelphia, but they ask $100,000.

Rev. Henry W. Kuhns, who has recently accepted a call to an Omaha church, owns some property in Omaha which he tried to sell a few years ago for $1,000, and for which he has since refused $100,000.

Major Campbell Wallace, Railroad Commissioner of Georgia, is over 80 years of age and is still actively busy. He got rich by buying Elyton Land Company stock at 18 cents and holding it at $4,000 a share.

The Rev. Dean Martyn Hart, an Englishman by birth, but now of Denver, and the Republican of that city are engaged in a lively controversy over the question whether the sun really stood still at the command of Joshua.

No steamers from the upper Cape Fear arrived here to-day.

School Books and School Stationery you can buy cheapest at Heinsberger's.

Remember the lecture on temperance at Fifth Street M. E. Church to-morrow night.

The recent rise in the river has caused a number of flat loads of wood to be brought to the city.

More cloudy, rainy, disagreeable weather, to delay carpenters, masons and painters in their building operations.

50 good experienced hands wanted for making shirts and pants. Good wages and steady work guaranteed. Enquire at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, No 27 Market street, J. Elsbach, Prop.

Mr. F. M. Foy, of Scott's Hill, passed through the city this morning with five hogs for exhibition at the Goldsboro Fair. The hogs were of the "Red Jersey" breed and were fine specimens of swine.

One of the handsomest compliments that could be paid to an entertainer was in the fact that Mr. Creston Clarke's appearance in Richmond last Saturday was telegraphed to the New York Herald in a lengthy and handsome critique. It is something that is not often done for actors who appear in the South.

See the Othello Range at Jacobi's Hdw. Depot. It is unequalled as a baker; it is finely finished; has a reversible grate for either coal or wood. Can be changed in a second by the most inexperienced. Just the stove for Winter use.

John S. Clarke, the comedian, with his company, will only play at six places South of Richmond in their Southern tour, as follows:—Wilmington, N. C., one night; Savannah, Ga., three nights; Macon, Ga., two nights; Atlanta, Ga., three nights; Chattanooga, Tenn.; one night; Knoxville, Tenn., two nights.

Attention, Cinderilla.

A lady's fine shoe, evidently just purchased, as it had not been worn, was found on South Front street this morning. It had the appearance of having just been dropped accidentally from a bundle while being conveyed home. Whoever has lost the article may find it at Col. J. J. Hsdrick's, corner of Front and Market streets.

The cheapest place to buy your school books and school stationery is at Heinsberger's.

John S. Clark.

This great comedian is, virtually speaking, a true Southern actor. Born and reared in Baltimore, he at an early age showed a predilection for the stage and was with Edwin Booth (his brother-in-law) "the head and front" of a little band of juvenile Thespians. The two lads enacted opposite parts in tragedy, which Clarke conceived at that time to be his forte. His mother hoped to make a lawyer of him, but Clarke preferred Shakespeare and the drama to musty parchments and the Acts of the Revised Statutes. He began his first regular engagement in Philadelphia in a minor role but soon was promoted to be leading comedian at the Chestnut street Theatre. Here he remained two seasons and then appeared in Baltimore for several seasons. After this he became a leading member of the old Arch street Theatre Stock Company, a position he held for two seasons. He then became joint lessee and manager with Wm. Wheatley, making occasional visits to Southern cities, which were always highly successful. When Mr. Clarke retired from the Arch Street Theatre he appeared in New York and made a hit almost unprecedented, calling forth the unstinted praise of the critics. Geo. W. Curtis, then editor of Harper's Weekly, said of him: "He is by far the finest artist that has been seen upon these boards since Rachel." He played starring engagements in New York, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Boston for several years with the greatest success. He went over to England some twenty odd years ago and was soon recognized as the greatest comedian of the day. A simple announcement in the press was all that was necessary to pack the theatre in which he appeared. His great success in England is the obvious cause of his not being better known to the lovers of pure comedy in this, his native country. It was at the earnest solicitation of the veteran manager, Mr. John T. Ford, that he decided to remain in this country and show his own people what a great comedian he actually is.

Mr. Clarke has played the part of Adolphus Shad in the Round Trip for an entire season in England, the press being unanimous in their endorsement of his new comedy, and placing it in the same class as his creation of Maj. Wellington DeBoots—a character he sustained quite two thousand times—Toodles, The Hair at Law, The Rivals, etc. Mr. Clarke to-day is the largest owner of theatrical property in the world, being sole owner of the Walnut Street Theatre, (the oldest place of amusement in America); the Opera House, South Broad Street, in the same city, also the Strand Theatre, London.

All who wish to enjoy a rare night of pure comedy should not fail to attend. He will give in addition to the Round Trip a one act comedietta entitled "A Fair Encounter." Both of these plays will positively be given in their entirety. The performance will begin promptly at 7:45 o'clock.

City Court.

The attention of the Mayor was devoted for quite a long time this morning to the investigation of the case of Tate Croom, charged with selling spoiled fish in violation of law. There was a large number of witnesses in the case, some of whom swore most positively that the fish in question were spoiled and unfit for sale, while the others swore just as strongly that the fish were good, sound and wholesome. Mr. DuBrutz Cutlar appeared for the city, and Mr. M. Bellamy appeared for the defendant. The case was finally thrown out of Court, and thus ended an annoying suit.

Charlotte Hooper, colored, charged with allowing her hogs to run at large, was found guilty and was fined $2 for the offense.

Richard Stowe, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was not really for trial, and the examination of his case was continued until to-morrow.

Henry W. Robinson, a tramp with a crippled arm, said that he was in the hotel business and was bound from Norfolk, Va., to Florence, S. C. He was placed in charge of an officer to be escorted out of the city.

Best $3 shoe for gents in the city at French & Sons.

Br. steamship Dalbattie, Gregory, cleared for Liverpool to-day with 3,900 bales cotton, valued at $170,000, shipped by Messrs. Alex. Sprunt & Son.

The officer of the Lutheran Publication Company has been located in the old First National Bank building with the entrance on Princess street.

A child's cloak, of elegant material and workmanship and elaborately trimmed, will be disposed of for the benefit of the Wilmington Light Infantry at the Produce Exchange at noon to-morrow.

Some of the town idlers have taken advantage of the bad weather to-day to get a little tipsy. We have seen several in that condition, although they all seemed to be entirely good natured and none of them were seriously drunk.

Personal.
 Mr. R. H. Murphy, of Moore's Creek, Pender county, was in the city to-day.

Indications.
 For North Carolina, cooler weather, rain, followed by fair weather, and light to fresh variable winds, becoming Northeasterly.

Have Arrived.
 The flags for the new storm Signal code have been received at the Signal Office here, and will be used with the next signal ordered. The code was published in this paper.

Death of an Old Man.
 We regret to learn that the venerable John P. Bannerman, of Bannerman's Bridge, Pender county, died last night, after a somewhat protracted sickness. We failed to learn his precise age, but he had seen considerable more than seventy years. Mr. Bannerman was a good citizen, a kind neighbor, a just man and an exemplary Christian, who had the profound esteem and confidence of all who knew him.

A Deserter.

William Sumley, a deserter from the British steamship Cowentry, Capt. Bacon, was arrested this morning and locked up for safe-keeping until the vessel is ready for sea. He had been ashore for two days, and had had his hair cut closely, his moustache shaved off and had otherwise so changed his appearance that Capt. Bacon passed him this morning without recognizing him, and Sumley would have failed of recognition, had he attended to business, but he had the temerity to bid his captain "good morning," when his voice revealed his identity and he was handed over to the officer who happened to be near by.

Points for Cotton Men.

The following rules of inspection went into effect at the New York Cotton Exchange yesterday as a result of the unanimous action of the board of managers:

Rules 25. For the government of the classification committee and the appeal committee on classification in dressing inspected cotton for classification:

Full grades are, fair, middling fair, good middling, middling, low middling and good ordinary.

Half grades are those designated by the term "strict."

Quarter grades are those designated by the word "barely," indicating the mean point between the half grade and the next full grade above, and "fully" indicating the mean point between the half grade and the next full grade below.

Stained cotton—In dressing cotton the same subdivision of grades into "full," "strict," "barely," and "fully" is to be followed as in white cotton, and for grades of stained or tinged better than "middling stained" the term "strict middling stained" may be used, indicating the main point between "middling stained" and "middling white," "tinged" indicating the mean point between "strict middling stained" and "middling white," and "fully middling stained" indicating the mean point between "strict middling stained" and "middling white."

The following amendment to the warehouse and delivery committee rules also went into effect on October 24th:

Section 58. Amended by inserting the following paragraph between the first and second paragraphs of the rule:

"The warehouse and delivery committee shall have general supervision and direction of the inspection bureau, subject to the board of managers, and shall decide all questions of detail that may arise in the certification and inspection of cotton and report to the board of managers at each regular meeting."

We received a pleasant visit to-day from Mr. G. M. Turner, Agent for G. G. Green, of Woodbury, N. J., proprietor of the famous August Flower and German Syrup.

We did not say yesterday that Rev. Robert Strange had accepted the call to St. James' Church, but that he had signified his intention to accept. This of course was not to the Vestry, who have not yet had his reply, but we have understood that intimations to that effect were given out privately to parties in this city.

Hon. A. M. Waddell's Address.

The Wilmington Messenger of Sunday, Oct. 30th, will publish in full Hon. A. M. Waddell's address to be delivered at the Reunion of the Army of Northern Virginia, at Richmond, on the 28th inst. Every Southerner should read it as an interesting and reliable contribution to Southern war history. An extra edition will be printed and orders filled by mail at five cents a single copy, or six copies for 25 cents. Address The Messenger, Wilmington, N. C.

Yesterday's Race.

There was a horse race at Capt. T. J. Southernland's race course yesterday between "Rosinante," ridden by Mr. George Grant, and "Bucephalus," ridden by Mr. W. B. Burkholder. Mr. L. H. Meares was starter and Messrs. Merritt, Hall and Quinlivan were the judges. "Bucephalus" was winner of the first heat, coming in three lengths ahead. In the second heat "Bucephalus" flew the track and tumbled into a ditch, after which he took to the woods. "Rosinante" was declared winner in the second heat and also in the third as it was found impossible for "Bucephalus" to run on account of injuries received in falling in the ditch.
