The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 1,753 bales.

We learn that another horse race is the talk among the sporting fraternity.

Christmas falls this year on Sunday. And what are you going to do about it?

The Aeme Manufacturing Company will make a handsome exhibit at the Virginia State Fair.

The President has issued his proclamation for Thanksgiving Day, on Thursday, Nov. 24th, just four weeks from to-morrow.

At the meeting of the stockholders of Bellevue Cemetery last night there was no quorum present, so it adjourned without action.

Steamer A. P. Hurt, which arrived late yesterday afternoon from Fayetteville, brought down 350 bales of cotton as a part of her cargo.

There is a much larger attendance at the public graded schools in this city than was ever known before, and the number of pupils is constantly increasing.

Mrs. Goodale, who is to lecture upon temperance at Fifth Street M. E. Church to-night, is the wife of Hon. W. Goodale, of Louisiana, and is corresponding secretary of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of that State.

We saw two citizens of Wilmington in conversation together, this morning whose united ages aggregated 162 years, and both gentlemen were remarkably hale and hearty for men of such advanced age.

The first of the series of cotillions for the season of 1887-88, to be given by L'Allegro Cotillion Club, takes place this evening. The Governing Committee are Messrs. Walker Taylor, D. T. Cronly, R. S. French, J. H. Boatwright, C. C. Chadborn, Edward Daniel, W. M. Howey.

Messrs. Montgomery & Cameron have opened at No. 115 South Front street, with a handsome stock of fresh groceries, tobacco, cigars, &c., to which the attention of their friends and the public is invited in advertisement published in this issue.

Mrs. Lumsden has recently returned from the North with a carefully selected stock of millinery goods, which will be opened and displayed to the ladies this week. Mrs. Lumsden's taste and judgment in making selections are well known and her opening days always attract a large attendance.

Indications. For North Carolina, warmer with rain, followed by fair weather, light to fresh Northerly winds, shifting to Southeasterly.

Going Away. The Atlas dredge boat Vini, accompanied by the steam tugs Biard and Stetson, will leave the waters of the Cape Fear in a few days for Currituck, N. C. Capt. Snell, of the steamer Louise, will pilot them to their new field of labor, and will be absent for a few days for that purpose.

New Uniforms. The new winter uniforms for the police have been completed and were delivered to the force this afternoon. They are of dark blue cloth, with the coats trimmed with brass buttons, and are good and substantial garments. The overcoats are also of heavy blue cloth, and are excellent for winter service. Mr. C. L. Cowles was the contractor for furnishing the clothing at $22.30 for the suit and $12.50 for the overcoat.

The helmets for the men and caps for the officers arrived here to-day on the steamer Gulf Stream, from New York, and will be delivered to the force to-night.

The cheapest place to buy your school books and school stationery is at Heinsberger's.

Rain for the Fair.
 Rain seems bound to lay the dust and moisten the proceedings at all the agricultural fairs this year. Last week at the State Agricultural Fair at Raleigh, there was almost a continuous rain, and Wayne County Agricultural Fair, which is being held this week at Goldsboro, seems to have the same rainy luck.

The Difference.
 Charlotte has a candy factory and the Chronicle says:
 Candy that costs 40 cents per pound in Baltimore is made and sold in Charlotte at 30 cents, and a customer cannot tell the difference between a lump of Baltimore candy and a lump of Charlotte candy.

Candy that costs 40 cents per pound in Baltimore is made and sold in Wilmington at 25 cents, and a customer can tell the difference at once between a lump of Baltimore candy and a lump of Wilmington candy, the said difference being decidedly in favor of the Wilmington candy, in quality as well as in price.

City Court.
 The following cases were on the docket for the Mayor's consideration this morning:
 Donald Stewart, a tramp who was charged with disturbing the citizens in the vicinity of Nun and Fifth street and with frightening the pupils and teachers of Tileston School. His case was continued until to-morrow morning.

William Lefferts, a tramp from New Jersey, who said that he was bound to Florida, was given the honor of an escort of an officer as far as the city limits.

William Lumley, a deserter from the Br. steamship Coventry, was ordered to be confined until Friday when the ship would sail and he would be turned over to the Captain. Lumley seemed very anxious to return to the ship immediately, but the Court denied him the privilege.

Alice White, colored, was drunk and down last night and was required to pay a fine of $10 or work on the streets for 20 days.

Archie Ellerby, colored, charged with keeping an unlicensed dog, admitted the fact and was willing to get a badge, but the Court thought that, as the defendant had allowed five months to pass without obtaining a license, he should pay a fine of $6, but would remit $1 when the badge had been obtained.

Fourth Street Bridge.
 There is now a fair prospect of having in the near future some sort of a bridge across the railroad at Fourth street, as the Bridge Committee of the Board of Aldermen, the City Surveyor, the Mayor and the Chairman of Board of Audit and Finance had a conference in the Mayor's office yesterday afternoon with a representative of the Smith Bridge Company, in reference to the matter. The Smith Bridge Company, it will be remembered, are the contractors for building the bridge, and by the terms of their contract it was stipulated that the work should be completed in forty-five days from the time of notification of the completion of the abutments. These were finished several days ago, but the Bridge Company are not prepared to fulfill their part of the contract, but propose to erect at once on the West side of Fourth street a temporary bridge, not less than twelve feet wide, and as much wider as practicable, that should be safe and secure for vehicles and foot passengers. The time of completing the bridge is to be extended so that the East half shall be completed in every respect (except painting) by the 15th of January, 1888, and the remainder by February 15th, 1888, with a forfeiture of $25 per day for each day's default, provided that the forfeiture shall not exceed $25 per day in any event, and the forfeiture shall not apply to the painting until the time when the entire bridge shall be completed under the new arrangements.

These propositions were accepted by the city and work will at once begin on the temporary bridge, which is to be completed in fourteen days.

50 good experienced hands wanted for making shirts and pants. Good wages and steady work guaranteed. Enquire at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, No 27 Market street, J. Elsbach, Prop.

Cruelty to Animals.
 There ought to be and we hope that there will be a society formed in this city for the prevention of cruelty to animals. There is a crying need for such an organization which shall be legally constituted and by legislative enactment have full power to arrest offenders and bring them to punishment. And there should be more stringent laws enacted for the punishment of those convicted of the shameful offense of abusive treatment of dumb animals in their charge and under their control. We may safely and truly say, for the credit of our people, that nearly all the dumb beasts in use in the city are kindly cared for and well fed and treated. The condition of the animals shows this, but there are isolated cases where there is abundant evidence of cruel and inhuman treatment, and these we would have remedied by the strong and protecting arm of the law.

Personal.
 Lt. Gov. Stedman returned to the city last night.
 Mr. J. A. Lewis, of Southport, is in the city and paid us a visit to day.
 Ex-Gov. Drew and Mrs. Drew, of Jacksonville, Fla., are in the city.
 Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Flanner have gone to Goldsboro on a visit to relatives there.

Mr. Frank W. Clark, G. F. and P. A. of the Seaboard Air Line, was in the city to-day.

Mr. W. G. Pulliam returned to the city last night from a short business trip to Richmond.

Mr. Josh. W. Meares has been appointed to a position in the Auditor's Department of the W. & W. R. R.

Mr. A. T. Holmes has gone to Clinton on a short visit to assist a friend of his who is to be married this evening.

Mr. D. A. Culbreth, formerly connected with the Clinton Caucasian, but now engaged in the insurance business, is in the city to-day.

We were pleased to receive a call to-day from Mr. W. H. Gibson, the general Special Agent of that popular insurance company, the National Life and Maturity Association, of Washington City, who is here for a few days in the interests of his company.

Literary.
 We have received the November number of Scribner's Magazine, which presents the following table of contents: "Wagner and Scenic Art," By William F. Apthorp. With illustrations from the original designs for the setting of the Bayreuth stage; "Seth's Brother's Wife," Chapters XXXIII.-XXXV. (Conclusion). By Harold Frederic; "The Physical Characteristics of the Athlete," By D. A. Sargent, M. D. (Being Dr. Sargent's second article on Physical Training); "To Rhodocleia, on Her Melancholy Singing," By Andrew Lang; "Tirary Sout," By Rebecca Harding Davis; "In Grand Kabylia," By Henry M. Field; "A Confession," By Henrietta Christian Weight; "A Diplomatic Episode," By Olive Riskey Seward; "In Her Garden," By Susan Coolidge; "The Viking Ship," By John S. White; "The Haunts of the Halcyon," By Charles Henry Luders; "Song," By Ellen Burroughs; "What Shall We Tell the Working-classes?" By Francis A. Walker; "An Old Lesson from the Fields," By A. Lanpman; "A Complete Misunderstanding," By Margaret Crosby.

Fine Silk Scarf for 21 Cents, Worth 65 Cts.
 I. Shrier, next door to McIntire's dry goods store, on Front street, will sell on Saturday, October 29, fine gents' silk scarfs for 21c really worth 65 cents. Remember for one day only, Saturday, Oct. 29. Please bring the right change along. His fine clothing, of which he makes a specialty, will be sold from 25 to 33 per cent lower than they can be had this side of Baltimore; under no circumstances will shoddy goods be sold in his house. Remember the name and place, I. Shrier, the Old Reliable clothier, sign of the golden arm on Front street.
