The Cape Fear Steam Fire Engine Company received their new drop harness yesterday, and were busy all day in practicing the horses with it.

Br. steamship Roraima, Luke, arrived here to-day from Cow Bay, Nova Scotia. She is 761 tons register, and will load cotton for some European port. Her consignee is Mr. C. P. Mebane.

There were seven interments in Oak Grove Cemetery during the month of October 1887, all colored. Three of these were adults and four were children. The interments in the preceding month (September) were 22, which makes 15 more than for October. This information was given us by Capt. F. M. James.

Indications.
For North Carolina, fair weather, winds generally light and variable and stationary temperature.

In Distress.
Schr. Joseph Rudd, Hallock, lumber laden, and bound from Brunswick, Ga., to New York, sprung a leak during the recent stormy weather, and put into this port in distress, arriving here last night.

The Railroad Conference.
The commissioners appointed by the city to confer with the authorities of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railroad with reference to its extension to this city, will meet with the officials of that road on the 9th inst. The meeting will be held at Fayetteville and the committee from this city consists of the following gentlemen: Cols. W. L. DeRosset and Roger Moore, and Messrs. B. G. Worth, Jas. H. Chadbourn and B. F. Hall.

Music and Dancing.
The ball of the Germania Cornet Band, given last night at the hall of Howard Relief Engine Company, was a most enjoyable as well as profitable affair. It was gotten up for the band, who were there in full uniform. They presented an attractive appearance and the pieces they played gave ample evidence of improvement in musical ability. The selections were carefully made and finely rendered. The Italian barpess furnished the music for the dancing. There was a large attendance of ladies and gentlemen and the festivities were kept up until a late hour.

A Race Track.
The race track project seems to be assuming something of a definite shape. We learn from the Messenger that a meeting was held last evening in the office rooms of that paper, for the purpose of considering the matter. Those present manifested deep interest in the matter, and encouraging messages were received from others who found it inconvenient to be present. On motion Messrs. T. J. Southerland, W. A. Bryan, W. R. French, F. Rheinlein, Pembroke Jones, T. M. Emerson and Louis S. Belden were designated a committee to canvass the question among our people and to enlist the co-operation of our public-spirited citizens. The meeting adjourned to meet again at the Orton on Monday next at 8 p. m., when all who feel interested in the project are earnestly requested to be present.

Personal.

Dr. S. S. Satchwell was on our streets to-day.

Col. and Mrs. Kerchner returned to the city last night.

M. E. G. Polley is at Charleston, taking in the gala week there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson, of Clinton, were in the city yesterday. Mr. L. Vollers, of Point Caswell, was here yesterday for a few hours. Capt. John D. Kerr is in the city in attendance on the U. S. District Court.

Mr. C. D. Willson arrived in the city last night, looking well and hearty.

Mr. D. K. Williams, who has been absent for some days, has returned to the city.

We regret to learn that Dr. J. T. Barnes, of Southport, is quite sick and confined to his house.

E. W. Kerr, Esq., of Clinton, was in the city to-day, on professional business before the U. S. District Court.

Hon. George Davis, Judge Russell and Mr. Thos. W. Strange are in Raleigh, for the purpose of arguing the Onslow R. R. case before the Supreme Court.

Mr. W. A. Edwards, Business Manager of Prof. Lowanda's Specialty and Mammoth Gift Festival, is in the city arranging for the appearance of his troupe here next week and paid us a visit this forenoon.

City Court.

The first case for the Mayor's consideration this morning was that of Edward Wallace, colored, who was charged with disorderly conduct. The testimony showed that, although guilty in the eye of the law, there were weighty extenuating circumstances, and judgment was suspended in his case.

Joe Gause, colored, for disorderly conduct, was required to pay a fine of $10 or work in the chain gang 30 days.

M. B. Mansfield, for disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

Mrs. Jackson, charged with keeping an unlicensed dog, had procured a badge and the case was dismissed.

Mrs. Morgan, unlicensed dog, case continued.

Opera House.

There was a large audience at the Opera House last night to witness the rendition of "The Pearl of Savoy," by the Jessica Thomas Comedy Company. The play was well mounted and was acted in a manner to call for the hearty approval of all present. Miss Thomas and Joe Physioc sustained the hold upon the people which they earned at the performance of the first night. Aside from her fine acting as a charming soubrette, Miss Thomas is a vocalist of much more than ordinary ability. In her acting last night she sustained the role of the insane girl to perfection, for which she received the plaudits of the entire audience. To-night the company, by special request, will repeat the programme of Tuesday night, when "The Daughter of the Regiment," and "The Loan of a Lover" were given. The troupe is entirely deserving of patronage and we hope that crowded houses may reward their efforts.

The November Magazine of American History is one of the brightest issues of the year. Oliver Cromwell's portrait appears as its frontispiece, incident to the story told by Mrs. Lamb entitled the "Historic Home of the Sylvesters." Rev. Philip Schaff, D. D., contributes a second paper on the "Relation of Church and State in America," a discussion of our government's attitude toward religion. A pleasant sketch is by Weinstein Root, on the "Hamilton Onaida Academy in 1794." The fourth article in this number is a study by Charles H. Peck of the life and character of "Aaron Burr." Then follows "An Interesting Dialogue in 1676, between Bacon, the rebel," and John Goolle, of Whitby. Judge J. Tarbell contributes "Horace Greeley's Practical Advice to the Reconstructionists in Mississippi"; and T. J. Chapman, A. M., writes on the "Religious Movement in 1890." Price, $5.00 a year. Published at 743 Broadway, New York City.

This has been a beautiful day, after a sharp frost this morning, and the ladies and children have improved the opportunity to make the streets lovely and cheerful by their presence.

The Grandest Outfitting Establishment in the South.

I. Shrier will, on or about the 25th of November, open in the Purcell building, one of the grandest outfitting establishments for men and boys. He will display the most extensive and superb line of Men's and Boys' Suits and Overcoats for the season of 1887-8 ever placed before the public. He will also display the most complete Toilet Articles, Umbrellas, Canes and Traveller's Supplies, without a doubt it will be the handsomest establishment in the South. Mr. Shrier will go North shortly in order to buy a full line of goods for the grand opening. For the present he will sell goods on hand at 25 to 33 per cent lower than any other house in Wilmington.
