

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. XI. WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1887 NO 40

Paris is to have 200,000 electric lights planted in its streets.

John Russell Young, it is said, has returned to the New York Herald, and is writing for the editorial page.

H. Luder Haggard is said to have two more literary monstrosities in course of construction.

Dogs are dogs in Texas. A jury in that State recently gave a verdict of $19.75 to a man whose favorite hound had been run over and killed by a railroad train.

A man has been discovered in Portland, Me., who has been for many years a secret agent of the Mormon Church. It is said that he has made a number of converts in Maine and Massachusetts, and has shown his faith by his works having taken seven wives.

Corea recently broke down her ancient barriers so far as to send an envoy to Japan, but the Government was so poor that it could not support him, and soon coming to the end of his resources, he had to ask aid of the Japanese Government to avoid being put in desperate straits.

Two items of show news come from across the Atlantic. One is that in London a pack of trained wolves are delighting the little folks by doing tricks such as are taught to performing dogs; the other is that in Paris a lot of cats are doing much the same tricks at the winter circus.

The gold mines of Australia continue to be very productive. Some of them are more than two thousand feet in depth, and many will be sunk even lower than that in the near future. This is contrary to the predictions of old mining experts, who said many years ago that no gold would ever be found in Australia at a depth greater than a hundred feet.

A constable paid a recent visit to a drug store in Bangor, Me., and here is a partial list of some of the drugs found: Seventeen bottles of larger beer, a bottle with one and a half pints of whiskey, four bottles each containing a gill of whiskey, one bottle with a half a pint of wine, one bottle with a pint of wine, and a bottle with a pint and a half of wine, a pint of gin, two quarts of alcohol, and two gallons of alcohol.

It is reported from Paris that M. Henry Buchet has found in the National Library at Paris, on the covers of a prayer-book, the likenesses of King Charles VIII, of France, and his Queen, Anne of Bretagne. The covers are of mahogany and must be among the earliest specimens of that wood brought to Europe. These, it is said, are the only known likenesses of the royal pair extant.

In China all the roads except the imperial highways are tracks over private land. The owner does all he can to restrict them. When the soil washes down into the road—the road is always deeper than the land—the owner digs out the road to get back his soil with interest. This makes the roads in the rainy season successions of deep puddles, and over all northern China traffic is suspended for four or five months every year on account of the impassability of the roads.

Col. Emerson, of Auburn, Me., has been giving an account of a dog that became famous during the war. He belonged to a Portsmouth, Maine, man who enlisted at the beginning of the war and took the dog with him. Both returned safely at the end of three months; but as the 10th Maine passed through Portsmouth on its way to the front some of the boys stole the dog and took him with them. His owner sent telegrams to Boston, New York and Baltimore demanding his release, but the boys laughed and kept the dog, who served two years with them, and then went back to Maine. Then the owner tried to get him, but two of the 10th boys hid him and carried him to Auburn, where he re-enlisted with the 29th Maine and again went to the front, and was killed at Sabine Crossroads. He loved a battle and became terribly excited in action, barking and gnawing at the earth where the bullets struck.

Largest assortment of pocket knives in the city at Jacobi's Hdw. Depot.

Spirits turpentine is on the rise, and was quoted to-day firm at 35 cents per gallon.

A light rain this afternoon made out of door exercise rather disagreeable to ladies and children.

There were no market reports from Chicago nor New York to-day, on account of the elections.

Workmen were engaged to-day in taking out the stone front of the Purcell House, to be replaced by a front of iron.

We regret to learn that Mr. J. S. McEachern is very sick and confined to his house, having been stricken with paralysis on Sunday last.

Br. steamship Corn Marth, arrived in at Southport this forenoon, but had not come up to the city when we closed our report. She was here last year and loaded cotton for Liverpool.

Several flats loaded with wood arrived at the docks this morning, and their cargoes were quickly disposed of, as wood has been a scarce article in this market for the past few days.

The demolition of the building on the Southeast corner of Front and Chestnut streets, recently owned and occupied by Hon. R. R. Bridgers, is about complete and the place has indeed a desolate appearance.

The addition which is being made to the Orton House begins to indicate how the structure will look when it is completed. The work has been much delayed on account of the rains, but it is being pushed as fast as the weather will permit.

Rev. Dr. Yates, of Grace M. E. Church, by invitation of Rev. Dr. Mendelsohn, will deliver a lecture at the Temple of Israel next Friday night. His subject will be, "The Influence of Woman—A power against Infidelity."

500 pair heavy Canton flannel drawers, just the thing for cold weather, from 35 cents and upwards, at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, No 27 Market street, J. Elsbach, Prop. Drawers made to order.

See the Othello Range at Jacobi's Hdw. Depot. It is unequalled as a baker; it is finely finished; has a reversible grate for either coal or wood. Can be changed in a second by the most inexperienced. Just the stove for Winter use.

Indications.

For North Carolina, fair weather, light to fresh variable winds, slight changes in temperature in the Eastern portion and slightly cooler in the Western portion.

Thanksgiving Services.

At the minister's meeting held this forenoon at the Library room, in regard to Thanksgiving services, it was decided that services suitable to that day should be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and that Rev. D. H. Tuttle, of Fifth Street M. E. Church, should preach the sermon on that occasion.

Evangelical Work.

At the minister's meeting held at the Library room this morning, Rev. Dr. Pritchard was requested to write to Rev. R. G. Pearson, the evangelist, to see if the services of the latter could be secured to conduct a revival of religion in this city. Action in regard to this matter was appointed for a meeting which was to be held to-morrow, but as the necessary action was taken to-day, no meeting for that purpose will be held to-morrow.

Steamer Ashore.

A dispatch was received here from Southport, at half-past 3 o'clock this afternoon, stating that the Br. steamship Corn Marth, was ashore on a pile of rocks near that place, but would probably come off at the next high water.

Deaf and Dumb.

Deputy sheriff Theodore McKeithan, of Brunswick county, came up from Southport on the steamer Louise to-day with Miss Alice DeBoise, a deaf and dumb girl, 17 years of age, whom he will convey to the Deaf and Dumb Asylum at Raleigh, and will leave on to-night's train for that purpose.

Sacred Songs.

Mr. C. H. Lincoln and wife, who have assisted at revivals in the State by beautiful singing, are in the city. They sang to the pupils of Brooklyn Baptist Sunday School last Sunday afternoon and were listened to with real delight. They will remain in the city some time and will conduct a praise meeting at Brooklyn Hall next Friday night.

Of Course.

A lady yesterday forenoon had the misfortune to lose her watch. She advertised her loss in the REVIEW yesterday evening and, as a matter of course, her watch was returned to her this morning, it having been found on Princess street, near the Opera House, probably soon after it was lost, as it was running when found. Advertise in the REVIEW.

City Court.

Anna Robinson, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, was the first case for the Mayor's consideration this morning. It appeared by the evidence that Anna was drunk and down in the vicinity of Nutt street last night, and was shouting murder at the top of her voice, for which it was ordered that she pay a fine of $20 or work for the city 30 days in the chain gang.

William Murchison, a colored boy who came in from the country and got left, was found asleep in a stable on the wharf. He was discharged upon his promise to leave the city and go home.

William Howe, colored, disorderly conduct. Case continued for the defendant until to-morrow morning.

Magic and Ventriloquism.

To-morrow night our amusement loving people will have an opportunity of witnessing the performance of Prof. Lowanda's Double Hibernian Star Specialty Company and mammoth gift festival. The company has met with success wherever it has appeared, which is not remarkable when we consider the wonderful feats of legerdemain, mind-reading and ventriloquism which goes in part to make up the entertainment. Aside from the attractions of the show proper, there will be given away with every night's entertainment many valuable presents. The Nanticoke (Pa.) Herald, in speaking of the performance, said:

For three nights this week Prof. Lowanda's Specialty Co. and Gift Festival have crowded Broadway Opera House. Presents of furniture, silverware, money and various articles were given to ticket holders. The distribution of the gifts was made impartially, and all were pleased with their treatment at the hands of the Professor. Madame Lowanda gave exhibitions of her power as a mind reader. Some extraordinary feats were accomplished. The performances were very enjoyable.

The Beggar Student.

There was a large, cultured, appreciative and highly delighted audience at the Opera House last night to witness the performance of "The Beggar Student," by the MacCollin Opera Troupe. It was a splendid entertainment and a rich musical treat. The setting of the piece was good, and the artists were well trained and were gifted with musical voices which had been carefully cultivated and were under perfect control. In fact the artists fully sustained the reputation which they had acquired in other cities and proved themselves worthy of all the praise which had been so liberally bestowed upon them by the press wherever they have appeared. To-night they will give "The Merry War," and will give it in full without the cutting of a line, or a note, as they will not leave the city until to-morrow morning. They richly deserve the patronage of the people, and we hope that they may be greeted with a crowded house to-night.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses. Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.
