A REMONSTRANCE.

(Capt. H. E. Orr, in Norfolk Virginian!) "What care I for woman's sighs," A stoic coldly said; Tears well become a maiden's eyes

Whose heart long time has bled.

"What care I for blight of youth, For cheeks of rasiest bloom? Fond devotion and matchless truth. Are set in frames of gloom.

Are these the boasts of lordly men?
Is this the royal road to fame? Ah, no! a power beyond their ken Shall blanche their cheeks with shame.

Tney spurn and trample in the dust, Bright jewels when they're won, And recreant prove to saintly trust When life is but begun.

Shame, shame on the recreant one

Who, reckless of his sin,

Veils with clouds love's radiant sun, And shuts the stars of glory in. "Thou troublest me-I am not in the vein," he said when invited to make a Fourth of July oration. But he bought a bottle of Salvation Oil, and the National Holiday heard from the Eagle.

A Tool in His Courtior's Hands. As soon as breakfast is finished. As soon as breakfast is finished, says Oliver Harper, in an article describing the Turkish ruler's habits, the Sultan disposes himself to attend to the business of the day attend to the business of the day. He reads no papers and knows nothing of what is going on, except that his courtiers tell him what suits them best, and so distort it that he is a * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * * simple tool in their hands. When any event of importance takes place in any country they turn matters about so adroitly as to make him order that this or that shall be done, when it has already been done without his intervention, but he is then made to believe that he is responsible for the whole of the changes in the political world.

The Sultan, believing his power absolute, does not hesitate to order anything done that his courtiers tell him to do, and he is made to feel that he is so near divine that he could hardly sin no matter what he did. He is as capricious as a child and is the most complete puppet in the hands of his courtiers that could exist. The chief eunuch and chamberlain virtually hold the power and the peace of Europe is in their hands.

Intelligent Dogs.

A dog belonging to John Witherspoon, of Detroit, was taken with the family to New Mexico, nearly 2,000 miles away, but some weeks later turned up at his old home, having traveled, it is supposed, the distance on foot.

The bark of a dog was heard at the door of the King's College Hospital, London, and on being answered two terriers stood, one on each side of a wounded collie. When the porter stooped to wait upon their friend the two terriers ran off. A cut in the collie's leg was dressed and bandaged, when the dog went away after a bark of thanks.

A shepherd dog belonging to M. Marothers attacked a porcupine in the Big Bend near Emigrant Springs, Cal., and at once rolled over the ground and clawed at its mouth, evidently in great agony. Its mouth, Preserves, Fruits & Jellies was full of quills, and it became necessary to kill the dog. The por- JUSTLY RANK IN THIS COUNTRY WITH cupine, rolled up like a dog, lay still upon the ground, and was despatched also.

Two valuable dogs were chasing a rabbit near a drain and were suddenly lost, says the London Field. After ten days a ferret, with a string tied to him, was put into the hole the rabbit was seen to enter. In a short time the ferret stopped, measprement was made, and after a little digging the dogs were found firmly blocked. They were greatly emaciated, but recovered. A Norwich. Conn., bull dog was charged with biting the neighbors animals and destroying property, but as he was muzzled his owner laughed at the charges. Being carefully watched the dog was seen, when ready for business, to slip the muzzle off his nose, cast it around near his ear, go in and main his They will easily commend themselves to the victims, and quick as a flash slip the muzzle back with his paw, and act as innocent of wrong as a lamb.-The muzzle straps are now drawn one hole tighter.—N. Y. Sun.

The Duke of Argyle's latest hobby on his Scotch estates is the Ameri can starling. Inverary is said to literally swarm with species of this plucky, hardy warbler.

Advice to Mothers.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as button." It Doors, is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty five cents a bottle.

Is It Not Singular that consumptives should be the least apprehensive of their own condition, while all their friends are urging and beseeching them to be more careful about exposure and overdoing. It may well be considered one of the most alarming symptoms of the disease, where the patient is reckless and will not believe that he is in danger. Reader, if you are in this condition, do not neglect W the only means of recovery. Avoid exposure and fatigue, be regular in your habits, and use faithfully of D Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." It has saved thousands B. who were steadily failing.
