THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. XI. WILMINGTON, N. C., SATURDAY DECEMBER 3, 1887 NO 286

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

(Sp. Corr. Daily Review.)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 2, '87.
 The city is filling up very rapidly with all sorts and conditions of men, such as every session of Congress brings with it. There are perhaps a hundred or more members, and every train adds to the number, so that 12 o'clock on Monday will doubtless find a full House at both ends of the capitol. Nearly all the Democrats will be here in time for the party caucus on Saturday night, of which S. S. Cox, it is now thought, will be made chairman.
 The House officers are the principal bones of contention, especially that of Doorkeeper. The contest seems to have narrowed down now to Hart and Donnellson, the latter having been the Doorkeeper of the last House. Both claim a majority of votes and both are certain of election, which is hardly possible. The reelection of all the other old officers seems to be conceded; and no doubt is entertained of the return of Mr. Carlisle to the Speaker's chair. He has "been so clear in his great office," as to win golden opinions from even his bitterest political opponents.
 Many of the leaders of the party have been here off and on for several weeks considering questions that will require action at the approaching session, of which the tariff is the most pressing and most difficult of adjustment. The differing opinions are not limited by party lines; Democrats and Republicans are on both sides. The surplus in the Treasury must be reduced, is the cry in all parties, but what staple shall be left to fight its battle without specific protection is not agreed upon. Ohio don't want free wool and Louisiana don't want free sugar, and so of all States having a special interest. Whatever is done must be by compromise. Party affiliation can't control it. One of the ablest free trade speeches ever made in Congress was by Daniel Webster, while Mr. Calhoun was counted on the other side. The interests of New England became centered in manufacturing, while those of the South were in agriculture, and so, these great men changed places.
 The Chief Postoffice Inspector in his annual report put down the whole number of arrests for violation of the postal laws at 773. In this District there was one postoffice clerk, one letter carrier and one other employe arrested. The report speaks of the robbery and of the efforts made to bring the perpetrators to justice. Twenty-two men have been arrested and the prospect is that all will be. Three have been tried and two have been sent to the penitentiary for life.
 A case presenting some peculiar features occurred here during the Grant administration. A young man was employed in the P. O. Dept. in some capacity which gave him the handling of the office mail. Money letters were missed, he was suspected, watched and finally arrested, accused of the theft and confessed it, at the same time taking letters, freshly stolen, from his pocket and delivering them to the detective. As a relative of his said: "He told the truth for the first time in his life, and then he ought to have told a lie."
 You could suppose that, with a case so clearly established, there would be nothing but routine work for the Court, and that the thief was certain of conviction and punishment; but not so. His family, some of them good people, went to work to prevent the trial for the sake of the family. Every one who had the remotest influence in the case was "seen." The President, the P. M. General, the District Attorney and the grand jury. One of the latter was approached in my presence. Grant wrote a letter to the District Attorney in his behalf, which was shown to the grand jury, and came very near preventing the finding of a bill against him. A juror told me that the effect of the letter upon the negroes on the jury was wonderful. They at once declared that no bill could be found against the wishes of the President, and the horrors of perjury alone prevented it being ignored. The indictment was presented in Court, but was quashed before trial, and so, the scoundrel, a bad boy and worse man, went unwhipped of justice.
 The M. C. from Texas who, on his arrival here, a week ago, had his hair cut off, and blow out the gas and went to bed, and escaped suffocation by a hair's breadth, has furnished his share of amusement to the loungers in the hotel corridors. He was more modest than the newly pledged M. C. usually is. Such generally leave their lights burning at night that they may see how a Congressman looks when he sleeps.
 The cold weather that has been threatening our ears and noses for several days past has made the tramp draw upon his wits for creature comforts. One yesterday picked a pair of boots from the front of a shoe store, and adjourned to a neighboring alley and put them on, discarding his old shoes. He had just made himself comfortable when a policeman picked him up and escorted him to the station, and removing his new boots he was "sent down" for 60 days.
 A warm time is expected in the next House of Representatives. There are 27 red headed members.

 Best shoes for boys, at French & Sons.
 Sch. Belle Brown, Perry, which arrived here to-day from New York, while off Cape Lookout last Thursday morning in a gale of wind, lost her foresail and jib, and shipped a heavy sea which filled her cabin with water.

Large and elegant pictures of the German Emperor, German Crown Prince, Bismarck and General Von Moltke have been received from Germany and will be interesting attractions at the "Jahrmarkt" at the City Hall next week.
 Lieut. Francis Winslow, Col. A. M. Waddell, Col. Walter Steele, John Robinson, Esq., Col. Wharton J. Green, Hon. Z. B. Vance, Hon. Matt. W. Ransom and Charles R. Thomas, Esq., have been invited and are expected to deliver addresses at the Oyster, Fish and Game Fair, to be held at Beaufort, N. C., Dec. 14, 15 and 16.
 500 pair heavy Canton flannel drawers, just the thing for cold weather, from 35 cents and upwards, at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, No 27 Market street, J. Elsbach, Prop. Drawers made to order.

Personal.
 Mr. and Mrs. John F. Loughery, of Manning, S. C., but formerly of this city, will spend Christmas in Wilmington.
 Rev. F. W. E. Peschau returned yesterday from Savannah, Ga., where he has been in attendance upon the Lutheran Synod, recently held in that city. He is well and had a very pleasant time during his absence.

In Distress.
 Sch. Lizzie Durey, Clarke, bound from Baltimore to Savannah with guano, experienced a heavy gale on the night of Nov. 30th, while between Cape Lookout and Frying Pan Shoals, during which she shipped a heavy sea which carried away a part of her stern, her compass and wheel and filled her cabin with water, besides causing her to spring a leak, in consequence of which she put into this port for repairs. This will necessitate the discharge of her cargo.
Death of Rev. Dr. Burkhead.
 The many friends of Rev. L. S. Burkhead, D. D., will learn with profound grief and regret of his sudden and entirely unexpected death last evening while in attendance upon the North Carolina M. E. Conference now in session at Fayetteville. Rev. Dr. Burkhead was twice presiding elder of Wilmington District, and has been pastor both of Front Street and Fifth Street M. E. Churches. A good and useful man, and an exemplary Christian gentleman has gone to his rest.

Opera House.
 There was a large attendance at the Opera House last night to greet Marie Prescott and her exceptionally fine company on their first appearance before a Wilmington audience. The performance was a most chaste, elegant and enjoyable entertainment and all present testified their appreciation in most unmistakable terms. The play, "Pygmalion and Galatea," was novel in plot, interesting as a study, and was presented without any hitch or delay to mar its beauty. The performance closed with two acts from Richard III, and the entire entertainment was such as to develop very superior acting and great versatility of talent in Miss Prescott. The company played the Shakespearean comedy of "As You Like It," at the matinee to-day to a fair house, and they will close their engagement to-night by presenting "The Merchant of Venice," one of Shakespeare's most celebrated dramas.
 Largest assortment of pocket knives in the city at Jacobi's Hdw. Depot.

WILMINGTON JAHRMARKT.

Preparing for the Festival to be given at the City Hall, Dec. 7, 8 and 9.
 The members of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church are making extensive preparations for their Jahrmarkt, a representation of the convocation of merchants of the European continent at their "yearly fair," an ancient custom of their friends across the sea.
 The ladies will, in appropriate costume, each represent a country of Europe, have charge of the booths and sell the wares of the nations they represent.
 The officers of the Jahrmarkt are Mrs. F. W. E. Peschau, President; Dr. F. C. Miller, Vice President; Mrs. F. C. Miller, Secretary; Andrew Smith, Treasurer.
 The executive committee are: Mrs. B. J. H. Ahrens, Chairman; Mrs. F. W. E. Peschau, Miss F. A. Knobloch, Dr. F. C. Miller and Mr. Andrew Smith.
 The committee of arrangements consists of the chairman, Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, Mrs. F. W. E. Peschau, Dr. F. C. Miller, Mrs. F. C. Miller and Mrs. Andrew Smith.
 Mr. Paul M. Knobloch is the floor manager, and his assistants are Messrs. C. Polvogt, H. L. Vollers, Henry Otten, and Mesdames H. Haar and E. Schulken.
 The ladies and gentlemen of the soliciting committee are Mesdames F. W. E. Peschau, B. J. H. Ahrens, H. A. Glaumeier, L. Vollers, E. Schulken, H. Cronenberg, A. Smith, J. H. Borneman, F. C. Miller, W. Genaut, H. Strauss, and Miss H. Schulken, Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, Dr. F. C. Miller and Mr. H. H. Gieschen, with Rev. F. W. E. Peschau as chairman.
 Messrs. Andrew Smith, C. Bissinger, J. G. H. Gieschen, J. Duls, J. Kueck, Carl F. Von Kampen, N. Hullen, J. G. Oldenbittel and M. Ratjen are the committee on decorations.
 The museum, menagerie and all the different booths will be presided over by the young ladies of the church, and there have been promised some rare curiosities under cover of the canvas. The managers are H. Cronenberg and H. Dingelhof, who will be assisted by Misses Kate Bremer and S. Smith, and Messrs. H. Haar, Jr., Alex. Adrian, William Niestle, C. Hutaff and John C. Boesch.
 There will be a "Winter Garden," where all the delectables of the season will be partaken of sub rosa, served by the fair sex. An opportunity will here be offered for Wilmington's citizens to partake of rare foreign edibles, as well as all the delicacies of our native land. The ladies will have full charge of this department, which will add to the pleasure of the occasion. Mesdames Jas. G. Grotgen and J. Haar, Sr., are the managers, and their assistants will be Mesdames H. Hutaff, A. D. Wessell, P. Bloome, W. Strauss, J. H. Borneman, William Genaut, A. Deumelandt, F. W. Hoyer, C. Wessell, C. Richter, C. Bissinger, J. F. Soll, — Kure, George Ziegler, and Misses Gesina Doscher, J. Guttersloh, M. Baker, M. Kueck, A. Stolter, E. Bissinger, A. Bremer, L. Steenken, F. Saule, L. Gerken, and Miss M. Leitzen, and Messrs. M. J. Dingelhof, Jr., and Fred Bissinger.
 The Spanish booth will be presided over by Mrs. H. Rehder and F. C. Miller and Miss Lillie Gerken, with the assistance of Misses G. Lessman, Kate Vollers, K. Stolter and F. Schroeder.
 The managers of the Bavarian booth are Mesdames A. Smith and H. Cronenberg; assistants, Miss H. Prigge and B. Runge.
 The committee on oysters are Mrs. H. Borneman, A. Deumelandt, J. Haar, Sr.
 Coffee will be served by Mesdames S. P. Bloome, H. Hutaff and Mrs. George Grotgen.
 Punch and Judy will be there, and we understand was imported especially for the occasion, from England, in all the regalia and glory of their native homes, and will give a performance during the festivities of the Jahrmarkt. This promises to be a unique and interesting feature of the "fair," as Mr. John Rheder, the manager, has spared no expense and attention, in order to produce this ever-pleasing, amusing play. Punch will be attired in the most costly of costumes, with his periwig—which is said to have been arranged by a Parisian artiste, neatly braided and tied with a costly fabric of fine tecture. Judy, his companion, and likewise his victim, will be chaperoned by a host of police, soldiers, etc., in their suitable paraphernalia.
 The ladies in charge of the Stambian booth are Mesdames L. Vollers and A. Prempert, the managers; Misses L. Ulrich and L. Peschau, assistants.
 Normandy booth—managers, Mesdames H. Vollers and H. A. Glaumeier; assisted by Misses Alma Knobloch, M. Runge and G. Ortman.
 There will be a Swiss booth, under the management of Mesdames Louis W. Wachsmuth and H. H. Gieschen, and their assistants, Misses Emma Hutaff and Maggie Peschau.

 At the Holland booth, Mrs. Schwartz will superintend, with the assistance of Misses F. A. Knobloch and Minna Schwartz.
 The advertising committee are Messrs. H. P. Hevenor and Paul M. Knobloch.
 The cantons of Tyrol will be represented by Mesdames M. G. Tienken and N. Hullen; assistants, Misses Kate Bappler and Lena Ganzer.
 At the "Refreshment Garden" will be found Mrs. F. Rice and Miss M. Ulrich, who will be pleased to serve the wants of the inner man.
 Mrs. H. Gerken, as manager, and the Misses Annie Stemmerman and Annie Ulrich will supply the demand of the sterner sex at the "American Cigar booth."
 The Gypsies, on the occasion of the Jahrmarkt, at the "Gypsy Booth," will be impersonated by Mrs. J. H. Tienken and Miss H. Schulken, who will be aided by the little Misses Cora Peschau and E. Ortman.
 The rifle gallery, where the Wilmingtonian marksmen will have an opportunity to test their skill, will be superintended by Messrs. J. G. L. Gieschen, H. Gieschen, R. Richter and J. G. Oldenbittel.
 Sweden, not to be forgotten, will be given a separate booth on the evenings of the Jahrmarkt, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, December 7th, 8th and 9th, at the City Hall, and will be in charge of Messrs. A. Smith and C. Cristensen, with the assistance of Mesdames P. Eick and A. Marten.
 The price of admission has been fixed at ten cents, which will enable everybody to visit the festival and "yearly market."

A Bold Act.
 At about 7:30 o'clock on Thursday evening last, Mrs. C. H. Keen, who lives on Chestnut street, between Eighth and Ninth, had occasion to go to the kitchen, leaving a lamp burning in the house and a child asleep in a crib beside her bed; she entered the house, on her return, she saw a man rush out of the front door, but she could not tell whether he was a white or colored man. Further examination showed that, while nothing had been stolen, he had been concealed under the bed, as the crib had been removed to allow him to get out and there were also other signs of his presence there.
City Court.
 There was a formidable docket for the Mayor's consideration this morning, which was disposed of as follows:
 Isaiah Tillinghast, colored, assault with a deadly weapon. The testimony showed that he was guilty and he was required to give a bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court.
 John Love, colored, disorderly conduct, claimed a previous trial and conviction before a magistrate, and was discharged.
 Albert Baxter, drunk and down. Judgment in his case was $10 fine or 20 days in the chain gang.
 Andrew Foy, colored, for fast driving, was required to pay a fine of $5.
 Edward Roderick, for disorderly conduct, was required to pay a fine of $20 or be imprisoned 30 days. Defendant appealed and a bond of $100 was required to prosecute the appeal.
 J. D. Wesson, a countryman, was very drunk and down. He was very penitent this morning and submitted, as he wanted to go home, but $5 was required for the offense, with the alternative of 10 days imprisonment.
 Edward Fay and Thomas Smith, hailing from Jacksonville, Fla., applied at the guard house for lodgings. They said that they were going to ship and go to sea, and the Mayor gave them that privilege, providing they went at once. Otherwise a policeman would escort them outside the city.
