CONSTIPATION

Called the "Father of Diseases," because there is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by the absorption of poisons into the stomach and bowels. It is caused by a Torpid Liver, not enough bile being secreted from the blood to produce Nature's own cathartic, and is generally accompanied with such results as

Loss of Appetite, Sick Headache, Bad Breath, etc.

The treatment of Constipation does not consist merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but be a tonic as well, and not produce after its use greater costiveness. To secure a regular habit of body without changing the diet or disorganizing the system

"My attention, after suffering with Constipation for two or three years, was called to Simmons' Liver Regulator, and, having tried almost everything else, concluded to try it. I first took a single dose, and afterwards reduced the dose to a teaspoonful, as per directions, after each meal. I found that it had done me so much good that I continued it until I took two bottles. Since then I have not experienced any difficulty. I keep it in my house and would not be without it, but have not used it, it having cured me."—Geo. W. Sims, Asst. Clerk Superior Court, Bibb Co., Ga.

There will be full employment and steady wages in the iron trade. For every 29 immigrants up to this time last year 41 have arrived this year.

The building operations in Washington during the past year foot up $1,000,000.

T. T. Wescott, of Accomac, has been appointed and qualified as Senator Daniel's private secretary.

President Cleveland is said to be worth about $100,000, much of which is invested in real estate that is rapidly increasing in value.

Ex-Secretary Holcomb, of the American legation at Peking, says that out of the 400,000,000 inhabitants of the Chinese Empire fully 350,000,000 spend less than $1.50 a month for food.

Judge Stewart, of Georgia, has prepared a bill providing for a large penitentiary at Atlanta, for the reception of Southern convicts who would otherwise be sent to Albany, N. Y.

New York Commercial Bulletin: The truth is the day for costly stone fortifications is gone by when enormous projectiles devised to burn as well as to demolish can be thrown overhead miles beyond them to the cities which they are vainly expected to defend.

Hon. Thomas J. Jarvis has suffered a relapse of the Brazilian fever. He dislikes the climate of Rio Janeiro. It does not agree with him. He is coming home this summer, and the Washington correspondent of the New York Sun says, will enter the contest for the seat now occupied by Gen. Ransom in the United States Senate.

Richmond Dispatch: The permanent location in a State of the main offices of any railroad system is of great advantage to that State. This fact has been recognized by the Legislature of many of our sister States, and has been kept prominently in view in granting privileges to railroad companies. Our Legislature should also keep it in view and act upon it as far as possible.

Pathetic and tragic stories of little fishing villages are frequently the subject of pictures and poems wherein imaginative art tries to convey to the world an idea of the cost in human suffering of the fish caught at sea to supply with food the great markets of the world. But neither poem nor picture can be as impressive as the simple statistics telling us that last season sixty-nine fishermen belonging to Provincetown, Massachusetts, lost their lives by being caught in destructive storms along the coast. These deaths by accident alone of the strong men of the community represent a mortality of about fifteen per thousand of the community—two thirds the death rate from all causes in a fairly healthy town or district of country.

President Cleveland's speech to the delegates attending the conference of the Evangelical Alliance has attracted wide editorial attention in London. The Globe devotes a column to comments on the President's remarks, which it generally endorses, and concludes by saying:—"To apply Christian doctrines in a practical way requires some sort of organized authority. It is doubtful whether conflicting denominations can set up a common platform."

The sensation in Richmond society this winter will be over the dramatic performance to be given for the benefit of the Confederate Soldiers' Home. In this arrangement Governor Lee is to occupy the position of general manager of the troupe, and the young ladies who are to take part are such beauties as Miss Amelia Rives, the authoress, Mrs. Willie Allen, Mrs. Philip Haxall, Miss Myers, while Messrs. Charles Cowardin, Byrd Warwick, S. H. Pulliam, Conway Myers, Tom Bolling, Frank Davenport, Charles Wortham and E. Courtney Jenkins are to essay the male parts. Mr. Lawrence Barrett has taken great interest in the project, and he will probably select the play.

Senator Blair is just as sanguine as ever over the prospects of the passage of his bill to provide Federal aid for education. He has not canvassed the new House at all closely, but steps into the contest once more with all the hope that first set him at his task. Perhaps this is because his State Legislature, after a long fight, endorsed the Blair bill this summer. Senator Blair seems even more benignant than ever this session, as the observant spectator gazes from the gallery upon him. There could hardly be a greater contrast in manner than exists between him and his new colleague, Ex-Secretary William E. Chandler. Blair is large framed, phlegmatic, slow of movement, and slow of speech. Chandler is short, quick, nervous, snappy, and rattles off his questions and answers like lightning.

Look Here, Mister! A man's first duty is to himself and that is to keep warm and comfortable. Good clothing is cheaper than doctors' bills and nasty medicine. Heat is life, cold is death. Protect the body with warm woolen under-clothing and stout over clothing and you will be ready for any blizzard, little or big, that may stray in this direction. You can get the best clothing and furnishing goods of A. Shrier, and for the least money. Every article warranted as represented at the new clothing house of A. Shrier, at the old stand, on Market street.

The wind blew a gale at Southport this morning, but it was not heavy.

Services in St. John's Church to-morrow, at 7.30 and 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m.

There were seven interments in Pine Forest Cemetery this week—five adults and two children.

It commenced raining soon after midnight, and with the coming rain the wind freshened until it blew nearly a gale before morning.

Two young men who can give unexceptional reference desire to obtain board in some quiet family.—Particulars given at this office.

A valuable piece of real estate on Third street will be offered for sale at the Court House door at 12 o'clock on Monday next, by Alfred Howe, Commissioner. For description see ad. in this issue.

Christmas Eve will be in just one week from to-night, when the little girls and boys in the city will go to bed, after hanging up their stockings, to dream of a visit from jolly old St. Nicholas.

Commencing with to-morrow the days will begin to slowly lengthen, in the afternoon, the sun setting one minute later to-morrow than it does to-day. This is balanced by the fact, however, that it rises a minute later.

For North Carolina, warmer, with rain, light to fresh—and on the coast fresh to brisk winds, becoming cooler and Northwesterly, preceded by Easterly winds.

Yes, Indeed.

One of our largest shippers makes the inquiry if at any time in the past a full-rigged vessel has been loaded at this port. Can anyone answer?—Wilmington Messenger, Dec. 17th.

Yes. By reference to the shipping list in this morning's Messenger, there are now 21 full-rigged vessels in this port besides several that are reported on their way here. Ask us something easy.

Last Night's Festival.

The festival of St. Agnes' Guild, at the City Hall last night, was a social and financial success, although from several causes the attendance was not as large as had been expected. What they lacked in numbers, however, they made up in liberality, and of the abundance of refreshments that were for sale, nearly all was disposed of. We have not the exact figures, but we are aware that the net proceeds were more than $100, which should be a cause of gratification to the management. During the evening Mr. Armand Myers in behalf of St. James choir presented a cake which had been made purposely for the occasion, to Rev. Mr. Strange, the new rector of St. James', in a neat and pleasant speech. This was appropriately responded to by the recipient of the gift. There was a pleasant party of ladies and gentlemen present and the entire entertainment was highly enjoyed.

School shoes for children, best in the city, at Geo. R. French & Sons.

City Court.

There was a small docket for the Mayor's consideration this morning, but it was of more than ordinary importance, as the following report of the proceedings will show:

Moses McFarlane, colored, was charged with the larceny of a bag of coal from Mr. E. G. Barker. The evidence was conclusive of guilt, and the defendant was required to give a justified bond in the sum of $100 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was committed.

George Sadgwar, colored, was drunk and down over in Brooklyn last night, and the officers who made the arrest had to carry him by main strength to the guard house. The judgment of the Court was, that it was worth ten dollars to carry him so far and a fine of $10 was imposed, with the alternative of 20 days in the guard-house.

Mary Ann Barnes, colored, was proven guilty of embezzlement and was required to give a justified bond in the sum of $100 for her appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which she was committed.

After an absence of several weeks, Capt. Tribon is again upon our streets, have arrived here yesterday in command of the Beaufactor, of which he was so long the efficient and popular commander.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ended December 17th, 1887, foot up 7,331 bales as against 7,235 bales for the corresponding week last year; a decrease of 4 bales. The receipts for the crop year to date foot up 141,570 bales as against 106,099 bales for the corresponding period last year; an increase of 35,471 bales.

In order to promote the efficiency, drill and discipline of the police force, Mayor Fowler has requested Capt. J. H. Daniel, of the Wilmington Light Infantry, to exercise them in a drill, two evenings in each week, which the latter has kindly consented to do, and will begin a course suitable for the police immediately after Christmas.

The Capt. W. J. Price spoken of in the article copied by us yesterday from the Raleigh News and Observer, relative to the North Carolina Regiment in the Mexican war, is the late Dr. W. J. Price, one of the most highly esteemed citizens of Wilmington just prior to the late war, "the rebellion" falsely so-called. Dr. Price was, we believe, the only commissioner officer from Wilmington in that regiment. He was the father of Capt. Joseph Price, of this city.

The Jail.

Mr. J. J. Ligon, general manager of the firm that built the new jail in this city, came here this morning, accompanied by two of the commissioners of Charleston, S. C., for the purpose of having the latter inspect that building. At the time of the earthquake the Charleston jail was rendered worthless and since then prisoners have been confined in a wooden structure. The authorities now propose to build a substantial jail and their inspection to-day was to see if our jail was made in such a manner as the people of Charleston would demand. They expressed themselves as highly pleased with what they saw.

Drawn as Jurors.

The following were drawn to-day as jurors for the next term of New Hanover Criminal Court, which will convene in this city on the first Monday in January, 1888:

W. H. Sneed, J. E. A. Grissom, John A. Everett, J. H. Hewitt, Wm. Watters, J. W. Barnes, John A. Wilson, J. M. Donlan, Charles M. Bonham, W. W. Campen, J. W. Fulcher, A. J. Johnson, T. B. Henderson, Archie L. Freeman, C. J. Elwell, R. B. Freeman, Thomas E. Davis, N. E. Bunting, M. J. Corbett, W. J. Beach, H. Von Glahn, W. J. Burton, J. R. Williams, T. C. Bonham, C. H. Ward, H. H. Kure, F. G. Sellers, W. R. Beery, W. A. Springer, J. T. Hancock, J. T. McIver, John Dyer, D. J. Fergus, H. H. Woebbe, W. A. Cornish, Frank Meier.

Rose Osborne.

This talented actress with her fine supporting company appeared at the Opera House last night in "Article 47," a play which has had an extensive run in all the Northern cities. There was a good and an appreciative audience who were much pleased with Miss Osborne as Cora, as well as with the support that was given the star. Miss Osborne is certainly a fine actress and she is supported by a good company, and they are richly deserving the patronage of the theatre-going public. The orchestra is a fine one, every performer being a soloist of undoubted merit. The cornet duet by Prof. Whiting and wife, was skillfully rendered and received the hearty plaudits of those present. The company gave a matinee this afternoon, which, considering the threatening aspect of the weather, was well attended. Their engagement here will close with to-night's performance, when "Fortune's Fool" will be given.

50 dozen all wool flannel shirts, in all shades and colors, for men and boys, from 75 cents and upwards, at the Wilmington Shirt Factory, No. 27 Market street, J. Elsbach, Prop.

This charming actress, who needs no words of commendation from us, so far as a Wilmington audience is concerned, will appear at the Opera House in this city next Monday night, when she will undoubtedly have a crowded house. She is brimful of rollicking, good natured, innocent fun, and will make you laugh whether you will or not. Her happiness is contagious, and she keeps the audience in a bubble of merriment all the time.
