Jacob Sharp's health is steadily improving since he was released on bail.

An effort is being made to organize the working women of New York on the plan of the trades-unions.

Col. F. D. Grant's friends are actively at work to secure his appointment as quarantine commissioner at New York.

A reception will be given to the President and other distinguished Democrats in New York early in January.

The French commandant of the New Hebrides has been ordered by his government to evacuate the islands in January.

Marmaduke Blake Simpson, the late city editor of the London Times, left an estate valued at $620,000. Young journalists, go East.

The ways and means committee has been made up by Mr. Carlisle, Mr. Mills being at its head. Mr. Randall, it is said, will again head the appropriations committee.

Bouvin, the painter whose death occurred in Paris last week, died from starvation. He was an eccentric man, who reduced himself to poverty by his brusqueness to his patrons.

Sarah Bernhardt's new play, "La Tosca," is announced an artistic and financial failure, in consequence of which Sardou is raging against the critics and the slender Sarah is in despair.

We do not think that the whiskey tax will be abolished. The Democrats in North Carolina would probably be willing to compromise on the abolition of the tax on tobacco, and fruit brandy and a change in the internal revenue system of collecting the tax on whiskey.

The contract for the erection of the Hendricks monument at Indianapolis will be let January 1, all but $3,000 of the $95,000 subscribed for the fund having been collected. The largest sum contributed was $500, given by W. W. Coreoran, of Washington.

Now while Congress is getting ready to debate propositions to establish a Government telegraph system, involving the expenditure of millions on millions, it is instructive to recall the urgent but futile endeavor that Morse made to sell out his entire claims and profits for $100,000.

In addition to the dividends which will be payable January 1, amounting to many millions, the disbursement of which will tend to make money easy, the United States treasury will have on deposit with the National Bank depositories about $50,000,000, and after that date it will be able to anticipate interest to the extent of another $50,000,000 for the coming year.

It is thought now in England that there will be no international yacht contest next year for the America's Cup, and that the Volunteer will go over there and contest with the Thistle in British waters. General Payne's visit, they say, will be made with a view of winning back, if possible, the Brenton Reef Cup, which was won by the Genesta on this side of the water three seasons ago. It is also expected that the famous centre-board sloop will hoist her racing flag on the Clyde in the great match for £1,000, which has been arranged to take place in connection with the Glasgow Exhibition. In the meantime Mr. G. L. Watson is preparing to get his hand in with centre-boards, and is building a boat of the latter type for an American gentleman. This points somewhat conclusively to the fact that the next British boat built to contest for the America's Cup will be entirely on American lines, and not partly so, like the Thistle.

There are some things hard to believe and others equally hard to disbelieve. Here is an item from an Atlanta paper which may be classed under both heads: The relatives in Georgia of one Frank Hicks, a negro, over whose woolly head 117 summers have passed, have received, as a sort of Christmas greeting, information of the old slave's whereabouts. With the assistance of his fourth or fifth wife, who is upward of ninety years of age, he is working a small farm in a settlement in Texas. The proof that Hicks has reached that almost incredible age is conclusive, and is afforded by a bill of sale from a slave trader to P. H. Welch, dated 1850, and certifying that Hicks was eighty years old. As in the sale of a slave, like that of a horse, the vendor, while he might have an object in under-rating the age of his chattel, could have no possible motive in adding to his years.

Hicks, though a little bent, is in perfect health, not looking a day over seventy and giving hope of lasting a quarter of a century. When sold to Mr. Welch he was "thrown in" with his wife, but in the thirty-seven years that have since elapsed he has never failed doing a man's work at hoeing; and this year, with the aid of his wife, he has harvested eight bales of cotton. The cotton was grown on the plantation of Mr. Welch, who, out of regard to his former slave's old age and diligent service, allows him free use of all the land he can farm. By his present wife Hicks has fifteen children, thirteen of whom are living; and by his former wives he had many children—he says the good Lord only knows the number—some of whom, if yet living, must be centenarians. His descendants exceed a thousand.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a purely vegetable preparation, being free from injurious ingredients. It is peculiar in its curative power.

A Happy Time.
Last night a complimentary hop by the Premier Club, to visiting young ladies, was given at Germania Hall, which was undoubtedly enjoyed in the highest degree. There were fifty couples in full dress who tripped the light fantastic until the god of day made its appearance in the Ea. At 12 o'clock the dancing stopped to allow the participants to enjoy banquet prepared for the occasion. All departed saying and feeling that they had indeed passed an excellent evening. The German was led by Mr. J. D. Shaekelford, to whom the success of the occasion is greatly due.

City Court.
May, Fowler and Clerk King were on hand this morning as usual and the calendar was disposed of in the following order:
Harry Wilson and G. F. Browden, two English sailors who, from the effects of too much tangle leg whiskey last night were rather pugnacious and wanted to fight every one with whom they came in contact, were the first on the list. The judgment of the court was that the former pay a fine of $10 or be imprisoned 30 days, while the latter was fined $20 or 30 days imprisonment.
John Gimer, colored, disorderly conduct. In this case, owing to a conflict in the testimony, the defendant was discharged.
Sarah hair, colored, an old offender and a nuisance, was required to give bond in the sum of $100 for her appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which she was committed to jail.
John M. M., a drunken tramp, was fined $10 with 30 days in the city prison as an alternative.
Thomas Hughes, a drunken tramp. The sentence of the court was that the defendant pay a fine of $10 or be confined 30 days in the city prison.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Observance in Wilmington—Topics of Exhortation and Days.
Monday, January 2, St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church—Thanksgiving.

For our acceptance with God through Jesus Christ and the liberty of united access by one Spirit to the throne of Grace; for the enduring goodness of God; for answers to prayer during the past year; for the growing spirit of Christian unity; for the maintenance of peace on earth; for everwidening fields given to the preaching of the Gospel; for souls gathered into the Kingdom; and for all who have dedicated themselves to the service of Christ.

Tuesday, January 3, Second Presbyterian Church—Confession: Of vices prevalent throughout Christendom, such as drunkenness, impurity, profane language and Sabbath-breaking; of great public wrongs, such as oppressive laws or demoralizing trades, like the opium and liquor traffic; of luxury and wasteful use of God's gifts by some classes of society, and, among others, lawless discontent and covetousness; of hindrances to the acceptance of the Gospel by the inconsistent lives of nominal Christians; of jealousies and rivalries among brethren; of personal unfaithfulness, imperfect consecration to God, faults of pride or temper, and the worldliness and inaction which render many believers unfaithful.

Wednesday, January 4, First Baptist Church—Prayer for Families and Schools:

For the hallowing of the home in all its relationships; for the blessing of the Holy Spirit upon the efforts of parents to guide sons and daughters to Christ; for invalid members of the family; for domestic servants; for both teachers and taught in universities, schools and colleges; for Sunday schools; for associations of young men and women; for every effort to protect the immature against temptations, and to equalize the standard of morality for both sexes.

Thursday, January 5th, First Presbyterian Church.—Prayer for the Church of God:

For every branch of the one universal Church, that all may be filled with the Holy Ghost and enabled to keep the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace; for more love and co-operation among Christians; for the removal of needless causes of division; for the better observance of the Lord's day; for greater wisdom and zeal to labor for the conversion of the ungodly, the religious education of the young, and the growth of believers; for the Spirit of Truth to guide students of His Word into a fuller understanding of it; for bishops, pastors, evangelists and Church councils; for the attainment by all the Lord's people of a higher standard of holiness and consecration to service; for a more faithful testimony against false teaching, and for the speedy coming of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

Friday, January 6th, Fifth Street Methodist Church.—Prayer for Missions:

For the quickening of a missionary spirit and for the outpouring of the Holy Ghost; for all agents in Gospel work, that they may be kept humble, devoted, and courageous; for native churches and converts, especially such as endure persecution for the Gospel's sake; for Mission Colleges, Bible and Tract Societies, and the spread of vernacular Christian literature; for the overthrow of all false religions, and for the conversion of Jews, Mohammedans and heathen to the faith of Christ; for the complete opening up of Africa to the light, and the cessation of its slave trade; for a blessing on all Missionary Conferences to be held this year.

Saturday, January 7, First Baptist Church.—Prayer for Nations:

For kings and for all that are in authority, that they may lead quiet and peaceable lives; for legislatures and judges, that laws may be wisely made and administered; for the abolition of the traffic in opium and intoxicating drinks, and the cessation of all forms of cruelty; for a pacific spirit among States; for soldiers and sailors; for emigrants and travelers; for the deliverance of the nations from all superstition; for just dealing and a Christian spirit between employers and employed, for the amelioration of the condition of the poor; for a plentiful harvest the world over; for the elevation of public morals, especially in respect of temperance and charity; for the cultivation of art and science in a reverent and Christian spirit; for the spread among the people of a pure literature; for all philanthropic work among the suffering or degraded.

The services will commence at 7.30 p. m., except on Saturday, when they will be held at 3.30 p. m. The services Monday night will be conducted by Rev. P. H. Hoge and Rev. T. P. Ricard. Other announcements will be made during the week.
