

THE DAILY REVIEW.
IF ONE MUST WEEP.

Two meet life's lonely path along—
Two part and meet again no more.
Yet, ever they vanish 'mid the throng,
Perchance one heart may never more.

Regain the peace it knew before;
If one must weep and one forget
'Twas better far they had not met.

The fleeting hour so quickly fled
One never will recall again,
But one shall mourn the moment
sped
And peace of heart no more regain.

While one will never feel a pain,
Since one must weep and one forget
'Twas better far they had not met.
—W. E. Hunt.

The Chinese New Year Day.

A Star reporter saw Mr. Ho Shen Chee, translator and attache of the Chinese legation, yesterday, concerning their New Year Day ceremonies and celebration. "The first day of our new year," he said, "comes on a different day each year and this year we have thirteen months, an intercalary month, that brings the New Year Day on the 12th of this month, which is on Sunday; but we have no Christian Sabbath in China, so that we need not put off the celebration until Monday, as you do in this country in like event. The Chinese Emperor will hold a reception, not like your President's reception" (with a laugh) "but for his ministers and the gentlemen of the court. These ceremonies will begin before dawn and continue through Saturday, the 11th, as the new year comes in by 11 o'clock Saturday night. The holidays continue from four to fifteen days, finishing when all the ceremonial calls have been made. The Emperor holds audience for his ministers and high officials, and in every province the chief holds audience for his subordinates. Our ceremonies will begin on Saturday, but will be of a private order. If we give a reception it will be on Monday. There is a mistaken notion prevalent here," continued Mr. Ho, "that the Chinese are independent of China, when, in fact, Corea is but a province of our nation." — Washington Star.

Justice of the Peace. "Had you ever saw this man before?" Witness "Yes." "Had he come before you had went?" "No." "Is them your eyes what you say was stole?" "Yes." "Would you have recognized them if you had seen them before they were bring here?" "Yes, I could have knowed them." "Speak grammatic, young man! It ain't proper to say 'have knowed'; you should say 'have knew.'" — Cincinnati Enquirer.

Delicate persons, and all whose systems have become debilitated, should bear in mind that Simmon's Liver Regulator is not a drastic, purging medicine, does not weaken or deplete the system as other purgatives do, but acts gently. It invigorates like a glass of wine, but is no intoxicating beverage to lead to intemperance; will promote digestion, dissipate headache, and generally tone up the system.

Hon. A. H. Stephens, of Ga., says: "Simmon's Liver Regulator is mild and suits me better than more active remedies."

A project is on foot among the existing Confederate Veteran Association in New-Orleans to hold in that city in the carnival week a general camp-fire or social gathering. It will add to the attractions of carnival week, and contribute to draw many visitors from other parts, Louisiana and surrounding States. The Association of the Army of Tennessee is particularly engaged in promoting this interesting project.

Advice to Mothers.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty five cents a bottle. Truly & deod&wly
