SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR
PURELY VEGETABLE.
It acts with extraordinary efficacy on the LIVER, KIDNEYS, AND BOWELS.
AN EFFECTUAL SPECIFIC FOR Salaries, Bowel Complaints, Constipation, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Kidney Affections, Jaundice, Mental Depression, Colic.

BEST FAMILY MEDICINE
No Household Should be Without It, and, by being kept ready for immediate use, will save many an hour of suffering and many a dollar in time and doctors' bills.

THERE IS BUT ONE
SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR.
See that you get the genuine with red wrapper, prepared only by J. H. ZEILIN & CO., Sole Proprietors, Philadelphia, Pa. PRICE, $1.00.

Isaac Blystone, of Meadville, Pa., aged 85 years, is cutting a few set of teeth.

An unfortunate Maine baby who happened to be born on the day of her grandparents' golden wedding was named Anna Versary.

A house in New Jersey, which had been insured for $9 years, burned up the other day between the lapse of one policy and the taking out of another.

Grinnell, Ia., enjoys the distinction of never having a saloon and of not having furnished an inmate of the poorhouse or penitentiary for 28 years.

At Newcastle, Cal., there is a famous tree. One foot from the ground it measured eight feet four inches circumference and its branches cover 2,500 feet of surface.

It is said that of 2,619 female graduates of American colleges 998 are married, 949 are teachers, 133 are in other occupations and 539 are not engaged in remunerative work.

The wife of John B. Shelton, of Patton, Mo., recently gave birth to three fine boys, weighing twenty-two and one-half pounds. They have been named Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

The sales of diamonds in New York are estimated to foot up $50,000,000 a year. Two of the largest firms are said to keep a stock of $1,500,000 each. The importations are chiefly from London. The demand is increasing rapidly.

Mrs. Rea, wife of the National commander of the grand army of the republic, has a hobby for the collection of spoons. In every town she visits she purchases a silver spoon and has it engraved with the date and place.

Benjamin Franklin, a veteran of the Minnesota volunteers, is the only pensioner who lost both hands and both feet in the war. There is provision in the law for such a case. A special bill will be presented increasing his pension to $150 per month.

Henry L. Miller, of Burlington, Iowa, has a German Bible that was printed in 1520. It is still in its original cover and in very good shape. The lids are of wood, covered with leather. It is said that only thirteen Bibles of this edition were printed.

More than $10,000,000 worth of oysters were shipped from Maryland to all parts of the world this season. Over 50,000 persons are employed in the industry in the State, and it supports 1,500 schooners and boats. To enforce the law for the regulation of these vessels the State maintains an "oyster navy," consisting of five steamers, six schooners and eight sloops.

The Dutch authorities are reported to intend constructing a line of railway in Sumatra for the purpose of utilizing some coal fields discovered twenty years ago. The coal is stated to be superior in quality to the best English coal, and the yield is estimated at 200,000,000 tons. To build the railway will take over six years, and the cost will be about 16,000,000 florins.

Payton Wilkes and his wife, of Greenville, Ore., have been married seventy-three years, and they have every expectation of celebrating their diamond wedding two years hence. Mr. Wilkes was a soldier of the war of 1812, and crossed the plains from Virginia in 1845. He is 97 years of age, and his wife is 91. They have forty-one great-grandchildren living and eight great-grandchildren.

Two great enemies—Hood's Sarsaparilla and impure blood. The latter is utterly defeated by the peculiar medicine.

The REVIEW did not correct the statement as to who got first at the fire on Wednesday night for the reason that the statement was not made in our columns. The Adrian hose reel was first at the scene on that occasion.

The supper given last night at the residence of Mr. Geo. W. Williams, for the benefit of the First Presbyterian Church, was largely attended, and a handsome little sum was realized. The proceeds are to be devoted to some renovations needed in the interior of the church.

Ladies will find a nice line of good reliable scissors at Jacob's Hdw. Depot.

Hades, Sheol or Hell.
This will be subject of the second of the series of sermons on Future Punishment, to be delivered to-morrow night by Rev. Mr. Coerr at St. Mark's Church. The text will be "Fear Him who hath power to cast into hell." Seats are free and you will be cordially welcomed.

Railroad Matters.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the South Atlantic & Northwestern Railroad, was held at Southport to-day. The Louise took down this morning those who had arrived here and who wished to attend the meeting and will bring them back to-night. Up to the time of going to press, we had received no report of the proceedings.

City Court.
There was a small and rather unimportant docket for the Mayor's consideration this morning, which was disposed of as follows:
Henry Martin, colored, throwing rocks in the streets. Judgment, $10 fine or 20 days in the chain gang.

One man, charged with disorderly conduct, was discharged, as there was not a particle of evidence against him. This was a case where the party making the complaint evidently accused the wrong man.

A Corrected Statement.

It seems that several mistakes have occurred regarding the shipwreck of the schooner William & Richard on the 31st of December last, and the subsequent rescue of her crew and passengers by the Br. S. S. Timor, which took them to Liverpool. The reported interview with Capt. Patrick, of the ill-fated schooner, which appeared in a recent New York paper, is a matter of imagination and conjecture merely, as he was not seen by either marine or local reporters while in that city. He has furnished the following authentic statement of the casualty to the Boston Herald, which originally appeared in a Liverpool paper, and it is the first correct account that has been published in this country:

"The schooner was commanded by Capt. Andrew Patrick, who had Henry Olsen, a Norwegian, as first mate, and five others, including the steward, in the crew. He had taken with him his wife and two daughters for the voyage from Wilmington, N. C., to St. Pierre, Martinique, so that altogether there were ten souls on board the vessel, which carried a load of lumber. They left Wilmington on the 26th of December, and the weather during the next two days was very changeable and culminated in a heavy gale on the 29th, during which the vessel sprung a leak and filled in a very few minutes. Great seas swept over the schooner, entirely destroying the cabin and forward house, and the masts were carried overboard. The captain had previously put his wife and daughters in the mainsail for safety, and they, when the mast fell, were precipitated with it into the sea, but were fortunately rescued, although they had sustained serious injuries from the fallen spars and wreckage. The crew then lashed themselves and the ladies to the after house until the storm had moderated. The gale had, however, entirely destroyed the supply of water, and the only food available was a little tinned meat. About two days elapsed before the Timor hove in sight, and the crew and ladies were rescued from the water-logged schooner. Capt. Hodgson, of the Timor, treated them most kindly, and brought them on to Liverpool, after several ineffectual attempts had been made to land them at Cape Hatteras."

It will be seen that all the ladies were in the mainsail and that when the mast fell they were all carried overboard, and that all were rescued, so that the story of the gallant conduct of Frank Davis, the colored steward, is not correct.—There is no reason to think that he failed for a moment in courage or endeavor to rescue those ladies at that perilous time, but it will hardly be assumed that he alone saved them all. We would not in the least detract from his heroism in that hour of fearful emergency, but unless the direct contrary is proven, we are bound to think that every man did his duty and braved fearful perils to rescue those helpless ladies. It was a time to incite men to heroic deeds, and we doubt not that all were heroes on that occasion. That all were saved is but a little short of a miracle, and it needed every exertion of every man and the unflinching fortitude of every woman on that trying occasion.—Capt. Patrick has communicated by letter with friends in this city, and the above statement of facts is verified by him.

The S. P. C. A.
These letters are not in any way allied to the old Roman S. P. Q. R., which those old fogies used to have printed—no, not printed—painted on their standards and which we are told meant "Senatus Populus Que Romanus"—the Senate and the People of Rome. They represent the new society formed in our midst, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, the members of which are engaged in one of the most laudable undertakings that their kindly hearts have ever prompted them to. They met last night and completed the organization of the branch of the Society in this city.

The President, Mr. J. H. Watters, was not present and Mr. A. S. Heide, one of the Vice Presidents, therefore assumed the chair.

The Committee on Constitution and By-Laws reported and read those which had been prepared, after which the chair stated that they were before the meeting for amendment and discussion.

On motion of Mr. Geo. S. Willis Article 1st, Section 1, of the By-Laws was changed to read thus: The membership of the Society shall be unlimited and consist of white males only.

No other amendments having been offered, on motion of Hon. John J. Fowler, both instruments were adopted.

The preamble of the constitution recites that it is of paramount consideration to alleviate distress and suffering and minister to the wants and comfort of all animals, and it is the purpose of the Society to provide effective means for the prevention of cruelty to animals throughout the State of North Carolina; to enforce the laws for the protection of animals and to secure the arrest, conviction and punishment of all persons violating such laws. Elections will be held on the second Monday of January of each year. The membership of the Society is unlimited and confined to white males; applications for membership to be made in writing and signed by the applicant. The initiation fee is one dollar. Assessments may be levied to meet necessary expenses. The Secretary and Treasurer shall collect and have charge of all funds and pay such bills against the Society as shall be approved by the President, and shall receive, as compensation ten per cent. on all moneys collected by him. All society badges shall be the property of the Society, and of such design as the Governing Board may direct. Members are enjoined to wear their badges and to report and prosecute all violations of the laws for the prevention of cruelty to animals. Any member of the Society convicted of cruelty to animals shall be expelled from membership. The governing board consists of the President, the five Vice Presidents and the Secretary and Treasurer.

On motion, the Secretary was instructed to purchase the books, etc., necessary for the Society.

A motion was adopted that the Constitution and By-Laws shall be considered inactive for ten days and that a committee of three be appointed to endeavor to increase the membership of the Society and to solicit funds. The chair appointed on this committee Messrs. John Roddick, J. H. Daniel, Geo. S. Willis.

On motion, the Secretary and Treasurer were added to the committee.

Mr. F. A. Lord was elected fifth Vice President.

Col. F. W. Foster addressed the Society, expressing his hearty sympathy with its purpose, after which the meeting adjourned until the 22d inst.
