The Daily Review.

"MY HOUSE IS LEFT UNTO ME DESOLATE."

A little while, you tell me, but a little while, And I shall be where my beloved are;
And with your eyes all large with faith, you say,
"Thy dear ones have not journeyed very far."
"Not very far." I say it o'er and o'er,
Till on mine ear mine own voice strangely falls,
Like some mechanic utterance that repeats
A meaningless refrain to empty walls.
"Not very far," but measured by my grief,
A distance measureless as my despair,
When, from the dreams that give them back to me,
I wake to find that they have journeyed there!

"Not very far." Ah! me! the spirit has
Had its conjectures since the first man slept;
But, O the heart, it knoweth its own loss,
And death is death, as 'twas when Rachel wept!
—Chambers' Journal.

Opposition is what it wants. That will make it solid; we mean Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. It has entered the lists and come out far ahead. In the ranks of legitimate household remedies for the cure of coughs and colds, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup stands first. Price 25 cents.

Unselfish but Curious.
Mr. Sampson, (passionately)—"I love you devotedly, Miss. Chumley, but my pecuniary affairs have prevented my making a declaration until now. But I have put enough away now to feel justified in asking you to become my wife."
Miss Chumley (hesitating but sweetly)—"I confess that I am not wholly indifferent to you, but—"
"But what, dear?"
"Would you mind telling me how much you have put away?"—Siftings.

Consumption Surely Cured.

To THE EDITOR—Please inform your readers that I have a positive remedy for the above named disease. By its timely use thousands of hopeless cases have been permanently cured. I shall be glad to send two bottles of my remedy FREE to any of your readers who have consumption if they will send me their express and post office address. Respectfully, T. A. SLOCUM, M.C., 181 Pearl St., New York.

Politeness in the Rockies.

Eastern Lady (traveling in Montana)—"The idea of calling this the Wild West! Why I never saw such perfect politeness anywhere."
Native—"We're allers perlitte to ladies, marm."
Eastern Lady—"Oh, as for that, there is plenty of politeness everywhere, but I am referring to the men. Why, in New York the men behave horribly to one another, but here they all treat each other as delicately as gentlemen in a drawing-room."
Native—"Yes, marm; it's safer."
—Omaha World.

I have received great benefit from Ely's Cream Balm for catarrh. I cannot express the suffering I have endured the past year from Nasal catarrh.—C. L. Robbins, Caraway P. O., Randolph Co., N. C.

For several years I have had very bad Nasal catarrh. I tried Ely's Cream Balm and it has cured me. I can recommend it to all suffering from catarrh as being the best remedy. DAVID Mc K. SMITH, Middle Brook Va.

Making Pottery With Great Rapidity.

A novel and remarkable exhibition was given at the Westminister Museum, when Harry Flaxman, the clever pottery worker, undertook the feat of making an entire tea-set of forty-four pieces in the short space of 7 1/2 minutes. When it was announced that such an attempt would be made, those who were acquainted with the record of the young man from Wedgwood's great pottery establishment, England, offered wagers that it could not be accomplished. Much interest was manifested by the large number present when Manager Bingham gave the word and Flaxman began his task, while several watches ticked off the minutes. The pliable clay was manipulated with deft and skilful fingers and twelve cups and saucers adorned the board in short order. Then twelve plates were piled upon each other, and then four large plates, a teapot, sugar bowl and two vessels sprang up as if by magic, all shapely and almost perfectly formed. When the last piece was finished the hands on the majority of the watches indicated the lapse of eight minutes from the time of starting and the remarkably quick workman rested, beaten by a half minute. But he can make the set in seven and one-half minutes under more favorable circumstances. The whole work, including molding, is accomplished by the fingers, and the only tools used are a thin brass wire for cutting the clay and a small revolving wheel.—Providence Journal.

Advice to Mothers.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP should always be used when children are cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. July-6 deod & wly
