The Daily Review.
MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1888.
STATE NEWS.

Raleigh News and Observer: Thro' the courtesy of Mr. J. T. Patrick, Commissioner of Immigration, we have been shown several letters received by him within the past few days from parties who wish to come to North Carolina to locate and to establish industries. Among others Mr. Patrick has just received a letter from parties in Canada who represent a company who are operating a mammoth wood work factory and who represent a capital stock of $1,500,000. They have written to inquire concerning a favorable location in North Carolina for establishing a plant. They propose to manufacture every thing in wood work from a clothes pin to a set of furniture, and desire a location in timber lands upon a stream. They express their determination to locate a plant in North Carolina, and are only debating the question of where it shall be.

Greensboro Patriot: Preaching continues with unabated interest at the revival which is going on at the Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. Mr. White, of Raleigh, who preaches with great power and earnestness. The congregations have been large all through the meeting, and up to this time twenty-five persons have signified their intention of connecting themselves with the church. The people of High Point seem determined to practice what they preach and have a local option law that will prohibit. To that end they have perfected a permanent organization with Capt. W. H. Snow President, and F. M. Pickett Secretary, with an executive committee to attend to violators of the law. $120 has been raised with which to ferret out and prosecute those who violate the law as it stands.

Durham Recorder: Mr. John W. Bowles, a highly respected and hard-working farmer of Person county, came to Durham yesterday with a load of tobacco, which he sold at Parrish's warehouse. Returning home he went into camp at Hopkins' Grove. About dark, when it was barely possible to see persons at any distance, Mr. Bowles was approached by a low, chunky, dark complected negro, wearing a cap, who deliberately fired upon Mr. Bowles three times. The shots proving ineffectual, neither one of which struck Mr. Bowles, the negro overpowered him and robbed him of the contents of his pockets. The highway thief secured two pocketbooks, one containing a 15 cent silver piece and the other eight $10 bills. He then made his escape. Mr. Bowles made frequent calls for help while struggling with the highwayman, but there was no one in hearing distance to assist him. Mr. W. H. Hanks lives near the Wood Hills, and at present his wife and his wife's mother, Mrs. Jasper, are quite sick, so much so that it requires persons to sit up with them. This morning about 3 o'clock his dwelling was the scene of a fatal burning accident. It seems that a colored woman by the name of Penny Fuller, twenty-five years of age, was in one room attending Mrs. Jasper. In the other room were a number of neighbors sitting up with Mrs. Hanks. About the hour named, Mrs. R. D. Blackhall, hearing a noise in Mrs. Jasper's room went in to ascertain the cause. When she opened the door a most horrible sight was presented to her. The colored girl, Penny, was standing in the middle of the room completely enveloped in flames and perfectly helpless. Mr. Hanks ran in and used every endeavor to relieve her. He succeeded in putting out the fire but was severely burned on his hands, wrist and feet, though not seriously. Dr. A. G. Carr was summoned with all possible speed and rendered all the aid he could to the victim of the flames. The girl lived scarcely five minutes and died a most horrible death. The cause of this serious catastrophe is not known, but it is supposed the girl laid down before the fire and that a coal popped out on her clothing.

LOCAL NEWS.
The receipts of cotton at this port to-day foot up 18 bales.
Apples are very scarce and high. They sell for 75 cents a peck.
Hen fruit appears to be plentiful and retails at 15 cents per dozen.
Steamship Equator, Capt. Nelson, arrived here yesterday from New York.

A lady fainted at the Pearson meeting last night and had to be conveyed home in a carriage.
Bishop Watson preached last night in St. John's Church the last of his eloquent series of sermons on "Conversion."

Very interesting services were held last night at St. James' Home, conducted by Rev. Robert Strange, Rector of the Parish.
Bishop Watson was present at St. James' yesterday morning and administered the rite of Confirmation to a class of 14, of whom 6 were ladies and 8 gentlemen.

A slight rain has been falling here all day, off and on. There has not been much of it, but just about enough to make it a nuisance either to have to carry an umbrella or to go without one.

The Early Birds had a good house on Saturday night. The audience, however, was, with one single exception, all of the masculine persuasion. The entertainment was fairly good and the "boys" certainly enjoyed it.

The grand Easter opening at Taylor's Bazaar will take place on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The grand Spring opening will take place later, and due notice will be given of it through the columns of the DAILY REVIEW.

There are big freshets in both the Cape Fear (North West) and Black rivers and at last accounts the water was still rising. The low lands on both sides of these streams are already overflowed, and if there is much more of a flood the water will be making for the interior.

There were in all 67 additions to Church membership in this city yesterday. Grace M. E. Church received 20, St. James' P. E. 14, Fifth Street M. E. Church 9, the First Baptist 7, First Presbyterian 7, Bladen Street M. E. 6, Brooklyn Baptist 3, and Second Presbyterian 1.

Criminal Court.
The court has been occupied all day in the trial of the case of the State vs. Daniel Biggs, charged with burglary. It will probably not be concluded before to-morrow afternoon. Solicitor Moore prosecutes and the defendant is represented by Messrs. Junius Davis, James T. Elliot and DeDrutz Cutlar, Jr., who were assigned by the Court for his defence.

All in Harmony.
Our County Convention was the most harmonious ever held in this city. Not a vote was cast in the entire county against the delegates to the County Convention, all of whom to-day unanimously presented to the State our distinguished fellow-townsmen, Lt. Gov. Charles M. Stedman, for Governor. The REVIEW heartily endorses the nomination of Lt. Gov. Stedman for Governor and trusts that the resolutions of our County Convention may be seconded from the mountains to the seashore.

Grace M. E. Church.
For the first time in more than two years the congregation of Grace M. E. Church were yesterday able to worship in an edifice of their own. The Sunday School room of the new church building, which is, in fact, a part of the church, as the whole can be thrown into one, was occupied by a large and devout congregation. Worship was conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. S. Creasy. The thank offerings which were collected amounted to about $250, a very handsome sum. Twenty persons were admitted to membership; of these 3 were by letter and 17 by profession of faith.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 27th, 1888.
MR. GEORGE D. ELDRIDGE, Sec'y,
National Life and Maturity Association,
Washington, D. C.
Dear Sir:—In acknowledging receipt of One Thousand Dollars this day paid me, being full amount of Policy in your company on the life of my late husband, Col. Ellery C. Ford of this city, allow me to thank you and the Company for the promptness displayed in the settlement. Col. Ford died on January 21st, 1888, and proofs of loss were furnished your company on February 23d. Under date of February 24th, I received notice that check was awaiting my order, and I have this day received the amount, as stated above, being in full, without discount, although the terms of the Policy gave you ninety days in which to make payment. Such promptness must commend itself to every one who can be added to the confidence felt by the public in your institution.
Respectfully,
JULIA A. FORD.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 26d, 1888.
Dear Sir:—The management of the National Life and Maturity Association of this city is, in my personal knowledge, in the hands of as good business men as there are in any city in the country, men whose names, with those who know them, are the synonym of integrity, business capacity and intelligence, and you can rest assured that they are not men who would allow their names to be thus used unless they had personal knowledge and supervision of the management of the business. Any company with which they connect their names is worthy of confidence and patronage, and this fact alone would convince me of the soundness of the National Life and Maturity Association. I had not other facts to justify my confidence in it. Very truly yours,
W. P. CANADAY.

VERMILION, KY., August 1887.
Mr. W. H. Gibson represents as Special Agent the National Life and Maturity Association of Washington, D. C. I am acquainted with the directors of this Association. They are gentlemen of the highest character, standing, and good financial standing. I had not other facts to justify my confidence in it. Very truly yours,
JO. C. S. BLACKBURN.

COVINGTON, KY., June 20, 1887.
Dear Sir:—I know several of the Directors of the National Life and Maturity Association of Washington, D. C. and know by reputation, and I take pleasure in saying that they are gentlemen of integrity, business capacity, and good financial standing. Very truly yours,
J. G. CARLISLE.

AND SEE WHAT SENATOR VANCE SAYS:
U. S. SENATE,
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 2, 1888.
Dear Sir:—An intimate personal acquaintance with several members of the Board of Directors of the National Life and Maturity Association of Washington, D. C., standing with a knowledge by reputation of the high business standing and character of the remaining members of the Board, enable me to say that any business enterprise managed by them will be conducted with integrity, intelligence and business sagacity. In my opinion no company could be better entitled to the confidence and the patronage of the public than such a company.
Very respectfully yours,
Z. B. VANCE.
