Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses.
Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

Death of Mr. J. H. Vollers.
We are truly grieved to hear of the death of Mr. J. H. Vollers, which occurred at the residence of his brother, Mr. O. O. Vollers, on North Water street, at 6:15 o'clock this morning. Mr. Vollers had been sick for less than two weeks only, he having left his business at Nichols, S. C., to come to this city early last week. He was but 27 years old. He was born at Point Caswell, and was the second son of Mr. L. Vollers, of that place. Some years ago he removed to the city and was a clerk in the store of his uncle, Mr. Luhr Vollers, for three years. He then embarked in business here with his brother, Mr. O. O. Vollers, but in January last this copartnership was dissolved and the deceased went to South Carolina and engaged in business for himself, at Nichols.

Mr. Vollers was a member of St. Paul's E. L. Church and a close attendant on the services when in the city. He was universally beloved by all who knew him. The remains were taken to Point Caswell to-day, and will be interred there to-morrow.

Strange Characteristics of Bees.

We have often heard it said that bees were very intelligent insects, but as we have had very little to do with the little ideals of industry have never witnessed an instance of their peculiarities, but we are now convinced that they have ways of their own. A gentleman of this city who for several years kept a number of hives of bees, died a few days ago, leaving them without a master, and on Tuesday last one of the hives "swarmed." The men in the neighborhood tried to "hive" them but were unsuccessful. Some of the men had previously had experience in the business, but they could not get them to as much as "pitch." They left the place.

We have also been told that anyone can be "introduced" to a lot of bees. That if the person who has tended to them will take his intended successor to where they are kept and knock on the hives the bees will come out in force and that if he speaks to them and tells them that the person accompanying him is to be his successor they will buzz around, on a tour of inspection as it were, and will not sting either of them. That if bees are always treated with this respect they will not give the person who will have them in charge much trouble in attending to them.

Again, they can be used as an index to different dispositions. For instance, if any one of a mild, loving and friendly disposition approaches a hive of bees they will pay no attention whatever to their presence. On the contrary, if a person of a harsh, cruel and unfriendly disposition nears their place of abode they will immediately cover and sting him. In connection with this trait of character we were told of a gentleman of Pender county, who had a very bad disposition, was cross, crabbed and unpleasant, whose son purchased a few hives of bees from a neighbor farmer and carried them to his father's house. The son had a much better disposition than his father and he could mingle with the bees, but the father could not enter the garden where they were kept without being stung. On one occasion he became angry and determined to go to the bench on which the hives rested. He started, but before he had gotten to within thirty feet of them he fell to the ground, stung to unconsciousness. His son, who was near at hand, rushed to his rescue and, strange to say, was not hurt by a single bee. We remember once, when a small boy, seeing a young man walk deliberately up to a hive one sultry afternoon in August and scoop up a handful of bees, and we are positive that he was not stung.

Accident on the W. & W. R. R.
Yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock as No. 23, passenger train on the W. & W. R. R., was within about four miles of Barefield, a disaster occurred which barely missed being a very serious one. The rails at that point had become warped by the heat and had spread and a part of the train, two coaches and two sleepers, was overturned. There were not many passengers on the train at the time or there might have been a serious loss of life. As it was but two persons were seriously hurt, one of these a young man by the name of Lanier, from Rocky Mount, and the news agent on the train, Mr. Morgan. Capt. Filyaw, the conductor, Mr. Horne, the engineer, and the other employees gave all of the assistance possible and the injured men were carried to Enfield where under the directions of the officers of the road in this city they received every possible comfort. To-day they are reported as better, Mr. Morgan as much better and Mr. Lanier as improving. Within two hours the track was clear and the trains have been running as usual to-day.

The accident was one of those things which are simply unavoidable, inasmuch as they are unforeseen and cannot be provided against.

A meeting of the citizens of Wilmington will be held at the Produce Exchange on Tuesday, May, 3d, at noon, to take action in the matter of the approaching encampment, looking to the reception of visitors, the raising of funds &c.

First Blood for the Review.

For the present we must respectfully decline to compare subscription lists with Bro. Bonitz, of the Messenger. A little later on we may accept his kind invitation and in the meantime we would suggest to Bro. Bonitz that he haul down that ancient romance which floats at the masthead of his paper. If it has ever had a day of usefulness that day is certainly past now.

Queen Street.
Queen street is in a bad way. There is a good deal of traffic there and very little room in which to do it. There is the usual width of the street, but all but 16 feet of this is impassable. If the depot of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. is located there it will become one of the most prominent thoroughfares in the city. It should be filled in at once. A petition to this effect, we understand, is being prepared.

A Quick Trip.
The steamer Sylvan Grove may be looked for at this port to-morrow. At just what hour she will put in appearance here we can't say but those who want to see her may be on the lookout about 3 o'clock. She left New York on Saturday morning and put in at Norfolk that night, for coal. This was fast work. It takes the big Old Dominion line of steamers from 24 to 28 hours to make the same trip. Capt. Harper telegraphed here that he would leave Norfolk to-night and if he does we may surely look for him to-morrow afternoon.

Turned Up Safe and Sound.
Last Fall it was published that Mr. J. W. Barnes, a bridge builder, then a resident of Charlotte but at the time engaged in constructing a bridge across the Savannah river into Augusta, for the South Carolina Railroad, had been most brutally murdered for his month's wages by parties unknown. Mr. Barnes is now in this city. We had the pleasure of meeting him Saturday evening, and he told us that he did not know how the report got out; that the first he knew of it was when he was handed a telegram, which had been received by the railroad officials from his family, requesting them to send his body to Charlotte for burial.

Very Good Reasons.
The reasons why you can be benefited by buying from the King Clothier, S. H. Fishplate: You are in a Reliable House. A large assortment to choose from. A saving of 20 per cent. All goods steam sponged. Exclusive styles sold by him only. All goods guaranteed sewed with silk. His stores are well lighted by day and night and you can see what you are buying, plenty of light being the most essential thing for buyers of clothing. If you are not satisfied with any article purchased from Fishplate's return the same and he will cheerfully refund you your money. With the above plainly before you how can you refuse to trade with a house of that kind. tf

We Can't Afford It.
In view of the fact that Florida is already honeycombed with yellow fever germs, as the physicians tell us, we would like to ask the authorities here if they think it safe to allow the steamer Queen of the St. John's to come to this city and engage in passenger traffic on the Cape Fear. The Queen has been plying between Jacksonville and Sanford and it is said that there has been more or less of the fever all along the river during the entire winter. We don't want to run any risks here and we can't afford to run any. The Queen is really not needed on the Cape Fear as there is no work here for her to do. The boats put on the river by our own people can carry all of the passengers that will probably offer. But this is not the question. The important matter with us is to encourage, not only the good health of the city but the reports of good health, otherwise that which now promises a bright and prosperous season may end in disaster. Wilmington was never healthier than it is now and we can't afford to jeopardize our clean bill of health. Therefore we suggest that some official action be taken in discouragement of the proposal to place the Queen on the Cape Fear this season.

TORPID LIVER

Is known by these marked peculiarities:
1. A feeling of weariness and pains in the limbs.
2. Bad breath, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue.
3. Constipation, with occasional attacks of diarrhea.
4. Headaches, in the front of the head; or, in the temples, dizziness, and yellowness of skin.
5. Nervousness, loss of appetite.
6. Heaviness of the stomach and bowels by wind.
7. Depression of spirits, and great melancholy, with lassitude and a disposition to loathe everything for to-morrow.
A natural flow of bile from the Liver is essential to good health. When this is obstructed it results in which, if neglected, soon leads to serious disease. Simmons Liver Regulator exerts a powerful influence over every kind of biliousness. It restores the Liver to its proper working order, regulates the secretory function of the digestive organs in such a condition that they can do their best work. After taking this medicine no one will say, "I am bilious."

"I have been subject to severe spells of Congestion of the Liver, and have been in the habit of taking 15 to 20 grains of calomel which generally had me up for three or four days. Lately I have been taking Simmons Liver Regulator, which has given me relief without any interruption to business."—J. Hogg, Middleport, Ohio.

White paupers are buried at Atlanta, Ga., by colored undertakers because the white undertakers will not enter the bodies for less than $10, while the colored ones charge only $2.50.

The King of Dahomey has embarrassed the King of Portugal by sending him six negro girls, the "most beautiful" in his dominions. King Louis doesn't know what to do with them, and has housed them in the zoological gardens pending reflection.

The Baltimore city council have passed an ordinance that colored teachers shall be employed in colored schools that are hereafter established in that city. The new ordinance will not affect the present schools.

Four years ago a wagon factory at Hickory, in this State, had a capacity of 900 wagons a year. It is now turning out wagons at the rate of 6,000 a year, and is successfully competing throughout the South with the products of Northern and Western factories.

The committee in charge of the celebration of the 300th anniversary of the destruction of the Spanish Armada have arranged that an Armada window shall be placed in St. Margaret's, Westminster, England, where Lord Howard and Sir Walter Raleigh lie buried, and also that an Armada tercentenary exhibition shall be held at Plymouth.

The Philadelphia Evening Telegraph says that the fact can no longer be disguised, and certainly ought not to be kept from the public, that the small-pox is getting a serious foothold in that city, and that its introduction into Philadelphia is due to the constant and unrestricted intercourse with New York city and Brooklyn, where, especially in Brooklyn, the disease has existed for some time to a serious extent.

The coldest spot on the face of the earth is Werchojansk, Siberia. The mean temperature at that spot for last year was 2.9° below zero, or 29.1° Fahrenheit. For January and December it was 62.9° below zero, and in July it rose to 60.6° above zero. The lowest point in July was 28.2° above zero, while in January the mercury at one time fell to 88.6° below zero. Werchojansk is in latitude 67° and 34' north, longitude 133° 51' east. Altogether it is not a particularly inviting spot at which to reside for a permanency, even in summer.
