It is scarcely probable that Gen. Harrison will get much of the labor vote of the country. He is the last man they ought to vote for and probably the last man that they will vote for. A good deal has been said already of his remark to the effect that striking railroaders ought to be made to return to work or be shot. It occurred in the latter part of July, 1877, and the following, from the New York Star's Indianap olis correspondence, tells the whole

For several days only trains carying the mails had run into Indianapolis, or left the city in any direction. While there was a very bitter feeling against the railroads on the part of the strikers, there was no disposition on the part of any one to do injury to railroad property, and details of men from the brotherhoods guarded it day and night from attack. Naturally the strikers congregated in the vi cinity of the depot and yards, but the assemblages were always of the most peaceable character.

But this state of things was not at all satisfactory to the railroads and their attorneys. General Harrison was a railroad attorney. He proceeded to organize a so-called "Committee of Safery."

While Mayor Caven and Governor Williams were counseling peace and arbitration and doing everything in their power to bring about a settlement of existing difficulties by peaceful means, General Harrison was first and foremost in advocating the putting down of the strike by force. The memory of his humiliating defeat the year before by the honest working classes under the leadership of "Blue Jeans" Williams still rankled in his breast. He thought then that he had been politically killed past all hope of re-surrection, and felt that he had no further need to conceal his true position toward the laboring classes. And he didn't conceal it.

General Harrison induced the Governor to call out the militia and secured for himself the command. Immediately the men began drilling at the old arsenal grounds. When the militia went into camp General Harrison made a speech saying that they must not think they were there to play. They were there for hard work and "what may prove to be bloody work." To show that General Harrison meant business the following is taken from the News of July 27, 1877: "Four companies of volunteers under the respective commands of General Benjamin Harrison, Colonel N. R. Ruckle, Major J. J. Palmer and Captain Harry Adams marched into camp at the United States arsenal this morning. * * * The men to feet. I was advised to use Hood's Sarsapa-are armed with the new breech-rilla, and we have all taken it. The result loading Springfield rifle, a most formidable and efficient weapon."

Meanwhile General Harrison continued to combine with his military healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J. duties those of a member of the "Committee of Safety." On the 27th day of July a delegation of the strikers, headed by Fireman W. Sayre, waited upon the "Committee of Safety," being met by General Harrison, Senator McDonald, Judge Gresham and others. having left their work, they were entitled to no consideration either from the railroads, the general pub-lic or the Committee of Safety, and astounded at his utterances, and the railroaders were in the highest degree incensed and started to leave the room. Judge Gresham and Senator McDonald pacified them, howator McDonald pacified them, how-Harrison spoke only for himself, and did not reflect the views of the "Committee of Safety." When the railroaders left the room, Fireman Savre turned and said: "We shall ever, by the assurance that General railroaders left the room, Fireman Sayre turned and said: "We shall remember you for this, General Harrison."

Another remark made by General Harrison, in a speech July 25, 1877, has been treasured up by the labor-ing men and especially the railroaders. While Harrison was addressing a crowd his remarks took the line of argument that the strikers had no real grievance; that they received fair wages and were generally well treated. To this one of the strikers retorted: "We don't average a dollar a day." "A French or German working-wages brakemen receive in this country," quickly replied Harrison. That the railroaders have lived up to their promise to remember General Harrison is now pretty evident. The various brotherhoods are organizing within themselves what | tNov. 12th. are really Democratic clubs, but which are named"Brakeman's Anti-Harrison Clubs." All the brotherhoods and railroad organizations have held specially called meetings and they are actively organizing to prevent his carrying his own State.

IT WON'T BAKE BREAD-In other words, Hood's Sarsaparilla will not do impossibilities. Its proprietors tell plainly what it has done, submit proofs from sources of unquestioned reliability, and ask you frankly if you are suffering from any disease or affection caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, to try Hood's Sarsapa rilla. The experience of others is sufficient assurance that you will not be disappointed in the result.

SCROFULA

It is that impurity in the blood, which, accumulating in the glands of the neck, produces unsightly lumps or swellings; which causes painful running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which developes ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimples, cancerous growths, or the many other manifestations usually ascribed to "humors;" which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. Being the most ancient, it is the most general of all diseases or affections, for very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, often when other medicines have failed, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. Some of these cures are really wonderful. If you suffer from scrofula, be sure to try Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Impurities in the blood produce diseases Bodily and mental health depend upon a healthy condition of the blood. The blood, particularly in the spring and during the hot summer months, becomes clogged with impurities, which poison it and generate disease. A harmless blood purifier, without a particle of mineral poison in it, such as mercury or potash, is necessary to remove these impurities and to restore the healthy tone of mind and body. The best purifier and tonic known to the world is Swift's Specific (S.S.S.). In regard to its wonderful purifying and tonic powers we give a few testimonials as follows:

Mr. Wm. A. Siebold, with Geo. P. Rowell & Co., 10 Spruce Street, New York, writes March 29th, 1883: "I feel it my duty, for the benefit of others who may be afflicted as I was, to write you this letter, which you can use as my testimony in any way you choose, I will answer any inquiry from others in relation to the facts herewith stated. In February last I suffered great pain and inconvenience from boils, all over my neck; I could not turn my head without acute pain and my blood was in poor condition. After trying all the usual remedies in such cases, and finding no relief, by the persuasion of Mr. J. W. Fears, Manager of your New York Office, I used one bottle S. S. S, and I improved rapidly and very soon I was entirely relieved of my "Job's Comforters," Now not a sign of my affliction can be seen. I feel strong and cheerful. S. S. S. is a fine tonic as proved in my case. I sleep soundly and my appetite is good. Dr. J. N. Cheney, a well-known physician writes from Ellaville, Georgia: "I use S. S. S.

in convalescent fever cases with the best results. It will, in my judgment, prevent summer dysentery, if one will take a few bottles in the spring, thus preparing the bowels for the strains of summer." Mrs. Scott Liston, 116 Zane street (Island). Wheeling, West Virginia, writes: "Having used S. S. S. for the blood, I can safely say that it beats anything I have used to cleanse the blood and make a new being out of a per-Mr. M. S. Hamlin, Winston, N. C., writes: "I use it every spring. It always builds me up, giving me appetite and digestion, and enabling me to stand the long, trying, enervating hot summer days. On using it I soon become strong of body and easy of mind."
