One of the brightest and most readable of the magazines is The Cosmopolitan, which has recently adopted the new feature of colored ons. Mr. Paul J. Schlicht, the founder of the magazine, gives some interesting exper-

"I conceived the idea of colored illustrations while in Europe. At that time I gave some aton to literature and art matters, although, to tell the truth, I was so nearly dead from malaria that at times I could scarcely hold up my head. It seemed to me that I would never be able to do business again or take any real st in life, and so, to make a long story I returned to America. The day I lanad in New York, a friend invited me to his home o dinner. He saw my wretched condition, and elered that he had something he was certain would positively cure it. More to please my friend than anything else, I took some of dy, and to my surprise I slept well that what. You can well imagine that I continued to take it the next day, and in brief, within one nonth from that time I was entirely cured of malaria in its worst form, wholly by the use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whizkey—no quinine, no fruga. During all this time I was encouraged to continue its use by my wife, who is a firm believer in temperance, as indeed I am myself, and in fact, my wife purchased it by the dozen are I have persuaded numbers of my friends to be the same means for restoring their health, and the results have invariably been valuable."

Mr. Schlicht is a gentleman whose word is above question, and the statement he makes the statement of the same means for restoring their health, and the results have invariably been valuable."

Mr. Schlicht is a gentleman whose word is above question, and the statement he makes the statement of the same prove a valuable suggestion to all sufferers from malaria.

Judge Brewer, of the United States Court at Leavenworth, Kan., has rendered a decision extending the temporary injunction restraining the Iowa railroad commissioners ufacturers indorse protection and from enforcing a schedule of rates on the roads of that State. This important case, it may be remembered, is the outcome of the radical action of the commissioners, under a law passed by the last Legislature, in fixing transportation rates at a limit so low that the corporations claimed they could not maintain the roads. Judge Brewer, while holding that the State can delegate such powers to a commission, and has the right to fix railroad rates, decides that those rates must in all cases be reasonable—that is, high enough to maintain the reads, pay fixed charges the burdened mind. Give Hood's and give some return to stockholders. The injunction is extended in order to give time to learn whether the Iowa schedule conforms to these conditions. It will be seen that this is a slight modification of the conclusions reached in the celebrated Granger decisions of fourteen years ago: The United States Supreme after eating, sour stomach, sick headache. Court there decided that when one devotes his property to a use in which the public has an interest, he in effect grants the public an interest in that use and must submit to be controlled by the public for the common good to the extent of the interest he has thus created. This decision practically fixed no limit to organs, regulates the digestion, creates a the extent of the public's interest, but Judge Brewer holds that it goes astronomer, reports in Nature that the multitudinous meteors known as the Perseids, which attain their maximum on August 10, have already commenced: On the 8th instant; at Bristol, twenty-five meteors were counted in four hours.

These included six paths which denoted a well defined radient a little noted a well defined radient a little south of Cassiopeia's Chair. They are presumably the advance of the great meteor stream which will st District, John H. Blount, of Perguimans. 2nd District, Geo. H. White. (col.) of Halifax. 3rd District, D. Worthington, of Martin. seem to bombard the earth next month from the constellation Perseus. Those who are fond of observing meteors need not wait till August 10. At the present date, as August 10. At the present date, as Mr. Denning says, the Aquarids, radiating from the star Delta Aquarii, usually reappear in marked abundance, the meteors ascending from low in the southeast and the brighter ones throwing off trains of sparks.

Here they are. Fifteen live, sensible, unadulterated questions. They are asked by Robert H. Cowdrey. the candidate of the Labor party for President:

1. Have you ever seen a laborer who cared a nickel whether he worked for a protected oran unprotected employer?

2. Have you ever seen a laborer who expected to receive more wages from a protected than an unprotected employer?

3. Have you ever seen a protected manufacturer pay higher wages than he was compelled to? 4. Have you ever seen a very wealthy firm pay more wages than a moderately wealthy one? 5. Have you ever given more for anything than you were required to? 6. If, then, the unprotected manufacturer pays just as high wages, and still is able to make a profit, by what method of reasoning do you arrive at the conclusion that the protected manufacturer pays higher wages because of protection? 7. And if the protected manufacturer does not pay more than the unprotected one, what becomes of your protection theories?

8. Is it your answer that protection raises all classes of wages in all occupations?

9. If that is it, then, as labor is not protected from foreign immigration, you must of course include the raising of all wages in all countries. Now, if that is true, then how about the pauper wages of Europe?

10. If you say capital will not be invested unless it is protected, how do you explain the fact that it is being invested in unprotected industries?

11. If protection prevents us from selling in foreign markets, does not protection make less work instead 12. If there is free trade in labor, and high protective prices for those things which laborers must buy, is not the laborer being robbed instead of benefited? 13. If protectionists desire to pay high wages, why do they always employ the cheapest labor they can find? 14. If wages are increased by protection, why do those protected manspend large sums of money to up-15. If unprotected industries pay the same wages as those that are protected, are they not as valuable, and if so, why burden them by making them pay heavy taxes to the protected ones?

Inherited

accumulating. Here, alas, they become terrible, fateful and overwhelming. No fact of nature is more pregnant with awful meaning than the fact of the inheritance of disease. It meets the physician on his daily rounds, paralyzing his art and filling him with dismay. The legend of the ancient Greeks pictures the Furies as pursuing families from generation to generation, rendering them desolate. The Furles still ply their work of terror and death, but they are not now clothed in the garb of superstition, but appear in the more intelligible but no less awful form of hereditary disease Modern science, which has illuminated so many dark corners of nature, has shed a new light on the ominous words of the Scriptures, "The sins of the fathers shall be visited upon the children unto the third and fourth generation." Instances of hereditary disease abound. Fifty per cent, of cases of consumption, that fearful destroyer of families, of cancer and scrofula, run in families through inheritance. Insanity is hereditary in a marked degree, but, fortunately, like many other hereditary diseases, tends to wear itself out, the stock becoming extinct. A distinguished scientist truly says: "No organ or texture of the body is exempt from the chance of being the subject of hereditary disease." Probably more chronic diseases, which permanently modify the structure and functions of the body, are more or less liable to be inherited. The important and far-reaching practical deductions from such facts-affecting so powerfully the happiness of individuals and families and the collective welfare of the nation-are obvious to refleeting minds, and the best means for preventing or curing these diseases is a subject of intense interest to all. Fortunately nature has provided a remedy, which experience has attested as infallible, and the remedy is the world-famous Swift's Specific, a pure vegetable compound-nature's antidote for all blood poisons. To the afflicted it is a blessing of inestimable value. An interesting treatise on "Blood and Skin Diseases" will be mailed free by addressing THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.
