The Rev. B. Mills is a Presbyterian clergyman od Doctor of Divinity, whose station is a de Centre, Kan. He is an earnest preacher, thful pastor and a man who has the courage of his convictions. Some time since he made a statement which appeared in the public prints ad which, as all outspoken statements do, ocned much comment. Many letters were ed to him upon the subject, to one of which Rev. Dr. Mills replied:

"Your favor with the inclosed slip is at hand, The facts are these. My wife was an invalid for Several years and, on our physician's recommendation, used a certain preparation with very at benefit. I received a letter inquiring as to its effects, to which I replied as follows: 'I am sbyterian clergyman, a Doctor of Divinity, not of medicine, but I am not afraid to say that Duffy's Formula and Duffy's Pure Mait Whiskey are the purest and most effective preparations as medicines, I know of, and my experience is a large one.' I am a temperance man and never used and never would advise any man or woman to use any intoxicant as a beverage. My recom-mendation of Duffy's Formula and Whiskey was and after a thorough knowledge of their great the as medicines. The statement was made liberately and based upon facts, and I do not state to stand by it. The many temperance on who have written me on this subject do not m to realize that I was a temperance man,

we above correspondence speaks for itself. It
we that an earnest, honest, orthodox minisho desires the greatest physical as well as declare the truth about what he has be pure, valuable and good. The world realnly be far better if there were more scientious, honest and able men.

James A. Bradley, the boss of Asbury Park, originally bought the tract of land now occupied by that city for practically nothing per acre. It was then a howling wilderness of sand, swamp and mosquitoes. Now lots large enough to build a cottage on and swing a hammock alongside sell as high as $2,000, if well located, and the worst of them will bring $150. Mr. Bradley has sold most of the land, but he keeps an iron grasp upon the neck of the community by reason of the conditions he exacted of purchasers. Among the conditions he required that no liquor should be sold upon the premises purchased, and that Sunday should be observed there in the strictest Henry R. Blackwell, the husband of Antoinette Brown Blackwell, the first ordained woman preacher of this country, and one of the leaders of the woman suffrage movement, is heart and soul in accord with his wife in all her work. He married her during the first year of her ministry at South Butler, N. Y. She was then 26 years of age and handsome, as indeed she is yet with her gray hairs. He aided her in all her work for women's enfranchisement, was in accord with her beliefs when she withdrew from the Church from her inability to believe longer in orthodoxy, and has aided her in her philosophical and literary labors since. He is recognized by woman suffragists throughout the country as a staunch worker in their interests, and, with Fred Douglass, is always an orator at national conven tions. Mr. Blackwell is treasurer of the Mexican and Central and South American Telegraph companies.

The Verdict Unanimous.

One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing" Abrabam Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Eight big ocean steamers are being built for the transatlantic lines, and some sharp contests of speed are expected when they are floated, for all are being built with a view to lowering the record. The Guion Line has on the stocks what will be the biggest vessel affont-not including, of course, the Great Eastern, which is to be broken up. She will be 11,500 tons. Sir William Pierce, who designed the Oregon Alaska, Umbria and Etruria, is her designer, and he says she will cross the ocean in five days. Her length will be 560 feet, breadth of beam 63 feet and depth of hold 52 feet. Several striking departures will be made in her construction.

Mr. Gladstone's study at Hawarden Castle is rather curiously arranged. The walls are covered with books, and volumes are also massed in large shelves jutting out from the walls into the room. Between each partition of books there is room to walk; thus the saving of space in arranging the library in this manner is enormous. The stock of books perhaps exceeds 15,000 volumes, and notwithstanding this large number Mr. Gladstone has little difficulty in placing his hand on any volume that he may require. There are three writing desks in the room; one is chiefly reserved for correspon dence of a political nature, another is used by Mrs. Gladstone. Looking out of the study window the flower beds facing the Castle present a pictures que appearance, while the heavily-wooded grounds beyond stand out in bold relief and form a massive green background.
