Meteorological.
We are indebted to the U. S. Signal Office for the following meteorological summary of this place for the month of August, 1888:
Barometer—Average for month, 30.08; highest, 30.24, on the 16th.; lowest, 29.86, on 21st.; monthly range of .38.
Temperature—Average for month, 76.9; highest, 95.2, on 7th.; lowest, 58.8, on 24th.; monthly range, 36.4.
Humidity, average for month, 86.4; wind, prevailing direction, southwest; highest velocity, 28 miles, southwest, on 21st; total monthly movement, 41.35 miles. Rainfall, total for month, 4.61 inches; greatest daily, 1.56, on 9th.; number of days on which rain fell, 13. There were 11 clear days, 11 fair days and 9 cloudy days. Thunder storms occurred on the 2nd, 9th, 10th, 11th, 13th and 19th.

For the Proposed Gala Week.
A correspondent in the city writes: "Some of our tax-payers are opposed to any gift or contribution from the city for the gala week. They doubt the right of the Alder men to give away money or property of the city and think it would be far preferable to spend any surplus money they may have in improving the streets and the sanitary condition of the city."
This may be but there are many who think otherwise. The assistance to be asked for is not large and the benefits which must accrue ought to far exceed the cost. As to the "right" of the Board to make this or any other appropriation of like nature there is no doubt. There is nothing in either the constitution of the State or the charter of the city which forbids it. It is their business to make appropriations and their discretion is absolute, subject, of course, to the consent and approval of that thorn in their side, the Board of Audit and Finance.
At least this is the way it appears to us and we have taken some pains to look into the matter, as the same possible objection which occurred to our correspondent occurred to us.
But we do not think that such an appropriation will be made. If it does it will probably be killed by the Board of Audit and Finance.

Point Caswell Items.
Mr. J. Eakins, of the Point Caswell section, was at the Point Caswell picnic on Thursday, as spry as some of the young fellows around there who are 50 years his junior. He was 94 years old on that day, with good health and good eyesight—both so good, in fact, that he sometimes shoulders his gun and goes out deer driving.
Mr. L. Vollers was presented on Thursday by Capt. George Mortor with a handsome silver cup.
Mr. Vollers is successful as a farmer as well as a merchant. He has a cotton patch near his house which is a good thing to see. There is one stalk there which is 7 feet high, and with over 600 bolls on it. He has also a fine orchard and is becoming renowned in that section for the magnificent pears which grow there.

Burglars. You can be safe from them by using the Burglar Proof Blind Locks, sold at Jacob's.

Cape Fear Academy.
We have received from Capt. Catlett, the principal, a catalogue of the Cape Fear Academy for the current year. We are glad to know that the prospects of this excellent home school for the next session are very fine. Seventy students were borne on the rolls last session. Capt. Catlett has labored hard to build up this school in our midst and he is entitled to a warm support and encouragement at the hands of our citizens.

The Excursion to Southport.
There are two committees at work on the preparations for the excursion which is to take place on Wednesday next on the Sylvan Grove to Southport, one of ladies and one of gentlemen. The ladies are looking to the larder and the gentlemen to the arrangements for the comforts and accommodation of the guests. They will see to it that all who attend find all of the enjoyment possible out of the occasion. They will look after the ladies and children especially. One interesting feature, not before mentioned, will be the presence of the uniformed Knights Templars, who will act as an escort to Grand Master Robinson and his aides.

The Ups and Downs of a Trip to Point Caswell.
A party of nine young men, among whom was a member of the REVIEW staff, left here Thursday morning at 4:20 o'clock for a trip to Point Caswell on the steam launch Boss, Capt. Geo. L. Morton, to attend a picnic given by several young men of that place. We had a very smooth and pleasant time until within eight miles of Point Caswell and then the trouble began. As the water in the river was about 4 feet deep and our boat was drawing 5 feet, we stopped awhile to rest with the bow fast on a shoal, but with the assistance of Mr. Scott, who is an expert in the art of wading and diving and who is peculiarly fitted by nature for the former, we succeeded in getting afloat again, and started off rejoicing. But our joy was soon turned into sorrow, for we had not gone more than five miles when we struck on a sand bar and stopped again, not because we wanted to, but because we could not help it. Mr. Scott was again called on to go overboard, and like a hero of old, by name Leander, he plunged into the black waters of the river without a murmur, and for a few moments was lost to the sight of his friends but still dear to their memory, by the mud in Black river. We worked for two hours to get clear but to no avail. Capt. Morton had all of the ballast and passengers conveyed to land in the life boat, but to no purpose, the Boss wouldn't budge worth a cent. Two of the passengers, taking pity on the others as well as on themselves, for it was about 11 o'clock in the day and our provisions and liquors had both given out, walked to Point Caswell and informed Capt. Black, of the Lisbon, of our condition. Capt. Black at once got his boat under way and came to our assistance, an act of kindness which will not soon be forgotten. He tried to pull us off but had to give it up and take us on board of his own boat, and in a few minutes landed us at Point Caswell just in time to get dinner. We had been without anything (to eat) for ten hours and the way we waded into that elegant dinner spread by the ladies under the umbrageous oaks at Point Caswell was a caution.

After dinner the crowd adjourned to a hall near by where dancing was soon found to be in order. The merriment was kept up until 12 o'clock and by that time the party from Wilmington, with fatigue and want of sleep, were about completely used up. We left Point Caswell yesterday morning and after a few more mishaps arrived here safely yesterday afternoon.

Wife-Cloth for your windows and doors can be had at Jacob's Hdw. Depot.
GUARD AGAINST THE STRIKE.
And always have a bottle of Acker's English Remedy in the house. You cannot tell how soon Croup may strike your little one, or a cold or cough may fasten itself upon you.
