IN CONGRESS YESTERDAY.

SENATE. WASHINGTON, September 17 .-- Mr.

Mitchell introduced a bill to reduce Mr. Sherman offered a resolution directing the Committee on Foreign Relations to inquire into and report at the next session of Congress, the state of relations of the United States with Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada, with such measures as are expedient to promote friendly commercial and political intercourse, the committee to the Senate briefly upon it.

Mr. Hoar offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing the Committee on Finance to inquire as to the cotton bagging trust, and what legislation is necessary to counteract it.

The Senate proceeded to vote on Mr. Blair's motion to reconsider the vote passing the Chinese Exclusion bill. The motion was rejected—yeas 20, nays 21. So the bill remains passed, and now goes to the President for his approval.

House amendment to the Senate bill concerning details of officers of the army and navy to educational institutions were concurred in; and the bill now goes to the President.

The House bill to enlarge the powers and duties of the Department of Agriculture, and to create an executive department, to be known as the Department of Agriculture, was taken up, the question being on the amendment striking out section 5, which transfers the Weather Bureau of the Signal ser

Without action the bill was laid aside till to morrow, and the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES Mr. Weaver, of Iowa, introduced a bill to prohibit the deposit of pubbanks, except for convenient dis-bursement of public funds. Re-

Mr. Dingley, of Maine, offered a resolution calling on the President for information as to whether the rights of American fishermen have been violated by the Canadian au-thorities within the past year, and if so, whether he has retaliated, as he had authority to do under the act of March 3d, 1887. Referred.

From Black River.

Mr. J. W. S. Robinson, of the Black River section of Pender coun ty, is in the city to-day. The news which he gave us is not good news. The river is still very high and much damage has been done to the crops. There has been so much rain that cotton and corn are both sprouting in the field. As soon as the weather clears up and gets dry again the farmers propose to gather their corn and save what they can of it.

The Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley people are showing much activity in that section. There is a large force at work at Black River Chapel and they are throwing dirt at a lively rate. The work is progressing in this direction.

The Cotton Bagging Problem. EDITOR REVIEW:-The encouragement of home enterprise should be the motto of every patriotic jour-nalist, but in the discharge of this laudable duty important facts and beneficial truths should not be kept back, and especially from the farmer, as may have been the case with some of your "esteemed cotemporaries" in regard to the cotton bagging business.

I abominate trusts and anything else originated to the detriment of the farmer; but after an experience of many years in ginning and baling cotton, I am forced to the conclu-sion that much of this agitation about cotton bagging is "much ado about nothing." Let us see: It takes six yards of jute bagging to cover a bale of cotton. This, at trusts prices, costs 13 cents per yard, or 78 cents. This bagging will weigh two pounds to the yard—so the weight of your bale is increased by Orton House, a postponement was is no deduction for the bagging in 2,500 yards lienricita l'aish d Cashmere, decided upon. There are many the sale of the bale of cotton, and good reasons for this. Possibly you have twelve pounds of bagging at 10 cents per pound, or $1.20. Take 78 cents from $1.20 and you have 42 cents as the net profit to the farmer on every bale sold. This is my experience, and am I right? The lighter the bagging the more the farmer
