The Democratic National Commit tee spent over $100,000 in printing. It distributed over 15,000,000 copies of documents, and sent 2,000 speakers throughout the country to enlighten the people on the subject of tariff reform and other vital issues of the hour. To this must be added the work done by the various State committees, which printed and distributed as many pamphlets as the National Committee, besides handling an even larger number of their own speakers. The most widely circulated and popular document sent out by the National Committee was the President's tariff reform message of last December. It was so plainly worded and so admirably written that it was easy for all classes to get right down to the meat of the thing after one careful reading. About 2,500.000 copies of the message and 500,000 copies of the national platform were printed in twelve different languages. There were English, German, French Spanish, Swedish, Italian, Polish. Hungarian, Bohemian, Febrew, Welsh and Danish. In addition to the President's message there was also printed in French the speech delivered at Port Furon; Mich., by Senator Thurman, and it met with a large demand from French people all over the country. There were also 200,000 copies printed in Eng lish. This was the only speech by Thurman circulated by the Na. tional Committee. Italy's swarthy sons in New York and in Connecti cut, Indiana and filinois were fur nished with several hundred thou sand copies of the message printed in Italian. The Hungarian and Bohemian documents were circulated mainly in New York city. The Hebrew reprints were distributed among the Jews of New York, and, in addition, 50,000 copies of a pamphlet of especial interest to the Polish Jews employed in the "sweating" clothing factories in the east side of New York city were circulated. In fact the message served as the text of the Democratic camfact that at all of the great World's Exhibi-tions, since that of Parls, 1867, in competition first printed the convention of the start.
