Only one week now to Christmas. No indications received to-day, in consequence of some trouble with the wires.

All kinds of School Books and School Supplies can be bought cheapest at Heinsberger's.

Portable fire-place grates. Just the thing for our climate. Are sold by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

If you want a picture framed go to Heinsberger's. He has a large assortment of Mouldings to select from.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is a purely vegetable preparation, being free from injurious ingredients. It is peculiar in its curative power.

The N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. still lead in the sale of the best and cheapest heating and cooking stoves.

Do you use loaded shells? You will find that they will save you time, trouble and expense. For sale by the N. Jacobi Hardware Co.

We have knives for your boys and scissors for your girls. What will please them more for presents? N. Jacobi Hardware Co.

Oscar Wilde talks of coming back, and says he won't mind the ocean trip, so long he can get plenty of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup to kill off colds.

Cora Van Tassel closed a very successful week in Charleston on Saturday night. She will play here three nights next week and she will receive a cordial welcome.

Mr. E. Kuhblank, agent for the Robert Portner Brewing Company, returned on Saturday from a very successful business trip to Fayetteville.

See advertisement of Col. Thos. W. Strange. Assignee, of the auction sale to-morrow of the stock of goods in Messrs. Chas. F. Browne & Co.'s store, on North Water street. Bargains may be had there.

The music at St. Paul's Episcopal Church last night was very fine, and the church was fairly packed with people. The quartette consists of Miss Minnie Schwarz; Miss Lizzie Waddell, Mr. H. M. Emerson and Mr. A. S. Holden.

Next Monday is Christmas Eve and there will hardly be any business done on the wharf on that day. The Exchange might as well close up on Saturday and not reopen until Thursday, or Wednesday at the earliest.

Mr. A. W. Watson, on Princess street, in the Evans block, certainly has a store full of pretty things for the holiday trade. The ladies are invited to inspect it, in ad. published in this issue. There are many new and pretty and cheap things there, just the things for presents.

The schools will all give holiday from Monday, the 24th inst. to Tuesday, New Year's, inclusive. That is to say, the Christmas holidays this year for the juveniles will be from the close on Friday afternoon next, the 22d, until the morning of Jan. 2d.

There are but two trains on the Seacoast Railroad, one in the morning and the other in the afternoon. The evening train has been taken off for the present. During the Winter months trains or cars can be chartered on this road at reasonable rates.

Accident at the Wigwam. This morning, about 10 o'clock, while the street hands were engaged in taking down the old Democratic Wigwam, corner Seventh and Castle streets, the flag pole fell on the legs of Mr. Zach Hussey, breaking one of them just above the ankle. Dr. Potter gave an order for his admission to the City Hospital and Chief Hall sent him there in his buggy. Dr. Lane set the broken limb and it is hoped that Mr. Hussey will be about again in a few weeks.

Bishop Haid delivered last night, at St. Thomas' Church, the last of the series of eight lectures. His theme last night was "The Papacy and Pope Leo XIII." Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather there was a large congregation.

The New Pastor at Fifth Street.
Rev. R. C. Beaman, the new Pastor of Fifth Street M. E. Church, entered upon his ministerial labor in that church on yesterday. He preached at both services, in the morning and at night. On both occasions the congregation was very large. He is an earnest, eloquent divine, and won all hearts to him. The congregation of this church are to be congratulated on having this faithful Christian worker among them for the ensuing year.

Rev. Mr. Swindell at Grace Church.
The first quarterly meeting of the conference year was held yesterday and Saturday at Grace M. E. Church. Rev. Mr. Swindell, the new Presiding Elder, was present and preached two powerful sermons, at morning and at night. There were very large congregations in attendance and all were charmed and delighted and edified. Our Charlotte friends may well mourn the loss of this eloquent divine on their circuit.

City Court.
There was a large crowd assembled at the City Court this morning and the following cases were disposed of:

Eliza Harriss, disorderly conduct, discharged.
Abren Maloy, assault and battery, discharged.
Fred Hill, disorderly conduct, $10 or 20 days.

Nelson Mosely, disorderly conduct, discharged.

Death of an Old Citizen.
We regret very much to learn of the death in this city yesterday, of pleurisy, of Mr. Gibson Register, a native and an old and highly esteemed resident of Wilmington. He was buried to-day in Bellevue Cemetery, the funeral service taking place at Fifth Street M. E. Church, of which the deceased had long been a prominent and consistent member.

Mr. Register was, we think, about 54 or 55 years of age. He was for some years Superintendent of the Fifth Street Sunday school and the children of the school attended the services in a body. He was also a member of Stonehill Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and the lodge accompanied his remains to the grave. He was a machinist and had worked for many years past in the shops of the W. & W. R. R. in this city and was held in the highest esteem by his employees and his fellow-workmen. He leaves a wife and two sons to mourn their irreparable loss.

McKee Rankin.
Theatre-goers will be glad to learn that McKee Rankin, an old acquaintance and a great favorite here, will appear in this city this week. He is booked for Thursday, the 20th, and will be with us but one night. "The Runaway Wife" is the play he will present here. The piece is new to us and we will let another paper tell us what it is. The Chicago Herald says:

"A quiet story of domestic life—strong, but not vehement in incident, and so full of absorbing human interest and genuine pathos that the attention, enchainment at the outset, is held until the end. In point of simplicity and in the power that originates in natural methods as opposed, and the artificial realism so much in vogue, it narrowly escapes greatness. The true measure of a play is its effect upon an intelligent audience. The heart beat of the entire world is attached to the same keynote of sympathy, for human sufferings of a false tone is quickly recognized. "The Runaway Wife" strikes the keynote firmly and well—the principal vibration is in perfect time, and palpable defects in minor passages do not prevent the work in its unity from gaining the distinction and endorsement of hushed and absorbed attention. This is not an infallible test of merit, but is one of the tests upon which reliance may be placed in connection with a play that does not appeal to either sensational or depraved instincts. When a heart is concerned the popular verdict may be accepted with respect. The character of Arthur Eastman is effective and sympathetic affording Mr. Rankin an opportunity for sterling work that he improves. Both play and performance may be set down as successful. Happily there is no Parisian pruriency in this drama. On this account alone it is worthy of commendation."

The wind got around to the East yesterday and brought with it rain. It rained more or less all night and to-day the streets are very muddy. There was considerable high wind but it was probably merely local, as no cautionary signal was displayed.

There were several ridiculous errors in the second paragraph of our Washington letter, on Saturday last, due to the misplacement of words. These words were left out in the proof, and marked there properly, but were inserted in the wrong place by the compositor in correcting the proof.

The cautionary signal was hoisted here to-day, in obedience to instructions from headquarters at Washington City. It is the cautionary Southwest and it was raised at 10 o'clock. There is a storm now passing East of the Carolina coast. The signal was also ordered up at Morehead and Charleston.

Rev. Edmund N. Joyner, formerly of the Diocese of East Carolina, but now traveling in the interests of the Church Year, at Jacksonville, is in the city and preached a very fine sermon yesterday morning at St. John's. The Church Year is published in the interest of the Episcopal Church and we are glad to know that its sphere of usefulness is daily being enlarged. It is an excellent paper and it is published at a low subscription price—only $1 a year.

Hon. A. M. Waddell, who was in Washington last week, has returned to the city.

Capt. P. H. Sasser, of the Seacoast R. R., who has been on a visit to a sick brother in Georgia, has returned to the city. We are glad to hear that his brother is better.

A Case of Quiet Heroism.
This is the title to an article which we find in the Churchman and which we are so sure will be read with interest here that we reproduce it in our columns. It is as follows:

The heroes of the mission field are not all engaged in foreign lands nor in the Western regions of our own land. We have reason to believe that there are unknown and unsuspected lives of brave and silent endurance among the missionaries of the Atlantic seaboard, which would move the heart of the Church to sympathy and helpfulness, if they could only be made known. In a recent conversation with Bishop Watson, of East Carolina, we drew from him an account of the stipends of the clergy of his diocese, of which the following is a brief abstract. He has twenty-five clergymen receiving stipends for clerical work in serving sixty-six congregations. These men may be divided, according to their incomes, into four classes. The first class of five is comparatively rich. One has a stipend of $2,000; one has $1,500; three have $1,000; all have rectories; and two increase their incomes by teaching; two add something to their incomes by teaching; two have no rectories and have no other income than their stipends. In the third class of seven clergymen the stipends range from $600 to $500. Five have rectories; three make something by teaching; two have no rectories and do not teach. The fourth class of eight clergymen have stipends ranging from $400 to $275. There are three rectories among the eight; four of the eight eke out a subsistence by teaching; one has some private means; and without a rectory, serves one congregation, pays his own house rent and maintains a family on $400. In this statement we include $950 distributed from the diocesan mission fund, $1,000 contributed to the work among the colored people, and $800 received from the Board of Missions and applied to the support of clerical missionaries. These men are not complaining; the diocese of East Carolina has made no moaning in the ears of the church. It was with some difficulty that we drew the facts of the case from Bishop Watson. But we cannot withhold our tribute of admiration at least from those eight men who serve eighteen congregations of the church, without complaint, on an average daily wage—we can hardly call it a salary of eighty eight cents and two mills. We would not, if we could, withdraw one penny from the church's other missionary fields. Not one of them receives too much. But—at this Christmas season—might not something extra be sent to those quiet men of East Carolina, without diminishing the contributions which are needed by, and are due to, others?

Silver-plated knives, forks, spoons, and child's sets, carving knives and forks. Make your friends happy by making useful presents. A nice line of the above is offered by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

Severe Cases of Blood Poison. Thousands suffer from blood poison, who would be cured if they gave B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) a trial. Send to the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for book of wonderful cures, that convince the most skeptical. It is sent free.

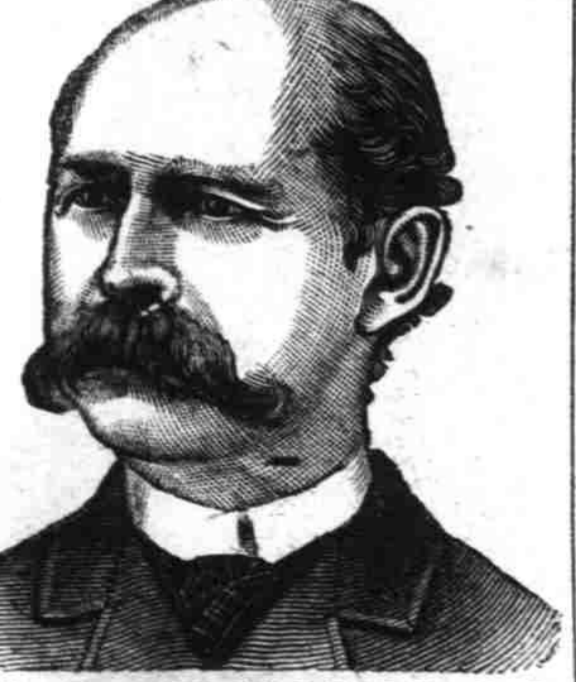

J. O. Gibson, Meridian, Miss., writes: "For a number of years I suffered untold agonies from blood poison. Several prominent physicians did me little if any good. I began to use B. B. B. with very little faith, but, to my utter surprise, it has made me a well and hearty person."

Z. T. Hallerton, Macon, Ga., writes: "I contracted blood poison. I first tried physicians, and then went to Hot Springs. I returned home a ruined man physically. Nothing seemed to do me any good. My mother persuaded me to try B. B. B. To my utter astonishment every ulcer quickly healed."

Benj. Morris, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I suffered years from syphilitic blood poison which refused to be cured by all treatment. Physicians pronounced it a hopeless case. I had no appetite, I had pains in hips and joints and my kidneys were diseased. My throat was ulcerated and my breast a mass of running sores. In this condition I commenced a use of B. B. B. It healed every ulcer and sore, and cured me completely within two months." dec 10 1w d&w
