COMMON SENSE!

This uncommon kind of sense is more often displayed in these latter days. One of the evidences is that some are wearing what are known as "Common Sense" Shoes.

These shoes are wide at the toe and low heels and those who have tried them will wear no other. They can be found in all qualities and in the different widths at Severe Cases of Blood Poison.

Thousands suffer from blood poison, who would be cured if they gave B. B. B. (Blood Balm) a trial. Send to the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for book of wonderful cures, and convince the most skeptical. It is sent free.

J. O. Gibson, Meridian, Miss., writes: "For number of years I suffered untold agonies from blood poison. Several prominent physicians did me little if any good. I began to use B. B. B. with very little faith, but, to my utter surprise, it has made me a well and hearty person."

Z. T. Hallerton, Macon, Ga., writes: "I contracted blood poison. I first tried physicians, and then went to Hot Springs. I returned home a ruined man physically. Nothing seemed to do me any good. My mother persuaded me to try B. B. B. To my utter astonishment every ulcer quickly healed."

Benj. Morris, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I suffered years from scaly blood, which physicians pronounced it a hopeless case. I had no appetite, I had pains in hips and joints and my kidneys were diseased. A mass of running sores. In this condition I commenced a use of B. B. B. It healed every ulcer and sore, and I am now completely within two months."

CAUTION

Beware of Fraud, as my name and the price are stamped on the bottom of all my advertised shoes before leaving the factory, which protects the wearers against high prices and inferior goods.
If a dealer offers W. L. Douglas shoes at a reduced price, or says he has them from my name and price stamped on the bottom, put him down as a fraud.

Young Men's Christian Association.
The regular monthly meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association last night was well attended.
The reports of the committee showed advancement that is truly gratifying. The work has been greatly systematized since the association has occupied its present rooms.

The following additions were made to the membership: Active members 11, associate members 11, sustaining members 15.

Interest in the work of the association is increasing, as is shown by the increased average of attendance at the devotional meetings, and by the more intelligent and thorough work of the committees. The number regularly making use of the reading room is gratifying.

Our Public Building.

A friend in Washington City has written to us, sketching the outlines of the history of the appropriation for the public building in this city.
It shows plainly that the representatives from the Cape Fear section, backed by General Ransom in the Senate, have worked with both zeal and intelligence to secure the appropriation. We agree with our correspondent and go further when we say that criticism of the acts of our representatives in this matter is not only in bad taste but really savors of ingratitude. Our correspondent writes as follows:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 18.
EDITOR REVIEW.—It seems impossible that any citizen of Wilmington or any newspaper would criticize our members of Congress for the supposed smallness of the appropriation for the public building there who had at all examined the facts.
It is very easy to find fault, but none know how hard it is to do. The $200,000 was more than originally asked for, and more than its best friends here thought would get thro'.
Let us see. It used to be the custom here to ask for an appropriation, say $100,000, use that up in the foundation; ask for another and raise it one story; ask for another, and so on.
No legislator knew what a building would cost when once started.
So abused was this privilege—(and it would be proper to say that the Raleigh building was started when it obtained)—that the Democrats in Congress put a stop to it and adopted the plan of making these bills read "the site and building thereon, when completed," "shall not exceed," &c. So it will be seen that, with the amount stated in lump, and an economical Democratic House to steer through, and a cold matter-of-fact member from Texas or Maine ready to demand in chilling figures the population, commerce and postal and other business, it is no easy matter to get the amount each well-wisher of the town desired. Indeed, the people of Allentown, Pa., with 40,000 inhabitants, actually, and with reason, think the President ought not to have vetoed their little building bill of $125,000.

But let us see if our friends in my old home did not get what they asked for. Col. Green introduced in the House on Dec. 11, 1883, a bill for this public building at Wilmington, which went on to say "the site and building thereon," and shall not exceed the cost of one hundred thousand dollars." And even with this modest amount, the bill slept the sleep of its pigeon-holed fellows.

Again, on January 5th, 1886, Judge Bennett introduced a bill for the same purpose, asking for one hundred thousand dollars, having been preceded, by understanding, by Senator Ransom, who introduced his bill in the Senate December 9th, 1885, for the same purpose, but who asked for two hundred thousand dollars. These two bills, practically the same, were bandied about from one House to the other, cut down, sent to conference committees, and finally, the Senate conferees declining to yield, the House receded, and the act appropriating $200,000 was approved February 4th, 1887. This is the history of this bill, as it is of many others. And I remember that when the House was willing to yield and make the amount $150,000 Judge Bennett hesitated as to whether he ought not to accept that rather than lose all.

If it was so hard to get what was gotten, how much harder would it be to get an increase, and what overshadowing statistics would have to be produced! Charlotte was lucky to get what she did, with the temper of the House for the last four years.

But Wilmington, glorious old Wilmington, has a Representative here who will leave no stone unturned to facilitate her progress, and whose zeal in her behalf will neither be accelerated or depressed by hastily or thoughtless criticisms. He has just succeeded in arranging with the architects of the Treasury that the building shall be of Anson brown stone entire; that its height shall be increased, and the foundations strengthened; some desirable changes made in the interior, and that the interior finish shall be of native curled pine.

I have written this simply in a spirit of justice, and the best friends of Wilmington will not condemn the labors of friends performed with an eye single to her good.

Accident by a Land Slide.

An accident, caused by a land slide, took place early this morning to the train which left here last night on the Carolina Central Railroad, going West. It occurred about one mile beyond Lilesville. The engine was derailed but all the cars remained on the track. The engineer, Mr. Meisenheimer, was badly injured, but the fireman was unhurt. No one else was injured. The train was cleared up in a few hours and both of the day trains have passed the spot. The train due here at 1:40 was about two hours and a half late. Mr. Meisenheimer was very seriously hurt but he was reported to-day as being as comfortable as could be expected.

Mr. McKee Rankin will appear at the Opera House in this city to-morrow night in his new play, "The Runaway Wife." Our exchanges all agree in saying that it is a good thing, and well produced. The Chicago Inter-Ocean says:

The characters are distinctly drawn and well differentiated without any attempt at moral contrasts, and the construction of the play shows the dramatic expert. In his performance of the principal male character, Mr. Rankin gets fairly well away from the mannerisms of the frontier hero with which his reputation as an actor has been so long associated. The chief merit of his work is in the manly tenderness and intelligent sensibility with which he defines the nature of character, and really he has done nothing more admirable in many years than his interpretation of Arthur Eastman, artist. A little finer art in the external treatment and representation of the characters will entitle his work to high praise.

Store Broken Into.
Some time Monday night Capt.
Macomber's store, seven miles East of Wilmington, was entered by way of the front window. The shutter was pried open and both sections of the sash were broken. The gentleman's only want at the time was money, as not one cent's worth of stock was taken or displaced. A lot of old red cents, about thirty, were carried off and the fellow was generous, if not honest, as he left a part of the pile, taking only about three-fourths of the whole. And to show that he was on friendly terms with the proprietor, he left his pistol and took particular pains to put it in a snug little place for safe keeping.
Capt. Macomber says it is exactly where he would have put it had he left it with him for safe keeping. He also says that an old-fashioned farmer's spring gun has been set in his store many hundreds of times but because of its being so dangerous and so easily forgotten the same time ago discontinued its use but says he will have to again get it out and put it on duty again.
