"An Exquisite Christmas Present." BY PALMER COX.

Christmas is at hand, and so is Palmer Cox, with another of his in imitable "Queer People" books, but this book surpasses both the others in the weirdness of its wit, dealing as it does with gay goblins, grim giants, comical clowns, merry monarchs and all sorts of queer folks.

By long odds this is the jolliest Christmas book we have yet seen. Hon. D. N. Richardson says: "If you don't get a supply of it into my ward soon the neighbors' children will tear my house down." Critics of all classes commend it. Major General O. O. Howard says: "It is Ayer's Almanac for 1889, published by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass., comes to us in the shape of a eminent novelist, Geo. W. Cable, it," while the elegant Amelie Rives writes "one does not have to wish one's self a child again to enjoy such books because one feels a child still after reading them." General Lew Wallace pronounces it "An exquisite Christmas present for the little ones of a household," white Mrs. Lew Wallace declares, "Many a child will dance with delight over this charming Christmas gift.

From an avalanche of such commendations one more should be "Cup that Cheers but does not Inebriate." added. Robert J. Burdette, the noted humorist, exclaims, "Happy and gifted indeed is Palmer Cox, who can take a pencil in one hand is as good as champagne at one-tenth the price. There is nothing better as a beverage for the Christmas Feast. Our Export Beer never stales. It will keep in any climate for and a pen in the other and draw pictures and write poems for all we heartily concar. It is a daisy.
