Complimentary to the Amateurs.

A ball will be given the Charlotte Amateurs at The Orton to-morrow night, after the performance at the Opera House, by young gentlemen of the city. The company will be greeted with a hearty welcome on arrival and a full house. The box sheet for reserved seats will be open at Heinsberger's to-day.

To Go on the Ways.

The U. S. Revenue Cutter Colfax went down the river this morning. The Colfax has done excellent service during the recent severe gales on our coast by rendering assistance to more than one vessel in distress, and in other ways. We hear that she will shortly return to this city to go on Messrs. Skinner & Co's railway to have her bottom examined and repaired.

The Old and the New.

"Dance the old year out and the new year in." This is what the members of Germania Lodge No. 4, K. of P., propose to do, and it is what they will do at Germania Hall on next Monday night. It will be a decidedly pleasant occasion to all who may attend. Messrs. E. Kuhblank, H. H. Geischen, A. Adrain, H. C. Prempert and E. Frey constitute the committee of arrangements.

CARRIER'S ADDRESS

To the Friends and Patrons of THE DAILY REVIEW. CHRISTMAS, 1888.

Christmas cometh but once a year,
And Christmas of eighty-eight is here,
With all its joys and right good cheer,
And pleasures more than usual,
While we, the hearty Carrier boys,
Unmindful of child's smaller toys,
Hope you'll help to increase our joys,
While we sing to amuse you all.

Ev'ry night, in every street,
In Summer's dust and scorching heat,
Or Winter's cold and storm and sleet,
There plods along the Carrier,
And should he chance to reach you late,
You fret and scold and scratch your pate,
And say, "Why does he hesitate?"
That idle, lazy tarrier.

Sometimes we're sick, sometimes we're lame,
Sometimes we stop to see some game,
But still we "get there all the same,"
Thanks to our health and hardiness;
And when you've read the night's REVIEWS,
Which always give the latest news,
No longer then will you abuse
The boys for fancied tardiness.

Since Christmas last a year has fled;
Hearts have rejoiced and hearts have bled,
But brighter skies our hopes have fed,
With joys beyond comparison,
And while we've much to make us glad,
The last election made us mad,
For swapping Cleveland for a Rad,
That little Benny Harrison.

In fact we've little cause to growl.
In town or State, though Rads may howl,
We have Fowler, the State has Fowle,
Both of the genuine Democracy.
Our Mayor's earned our warmest praise,
He's down on all unseemly ways,
With twenty dollars or thirty days,
On the Radical aristocracy.

O'er all our varied city affairs,
He's on the watch, and constant cares,
And when a tramp or ruffian dares
To behave in the least refractory,
In fact, whatever man may sin
Against law, our city within,
The police will hustle him in,
In a manner quite satisfactory,

Great the change the year has brought round
Adding to joys that here abound,
We've now a railroad to the Sound,
For all who would like a day's pleasuring;
Where you may shoot game if you wish,
Or in the Sounds catch lots of fish,
Or oysters of which to make a dish,
The thoughts of which are worth treasuring.

The REVIEW is never inclined
To be one of the boastful kind;
But surely it don't run behind,

We can say without being a fictionist.
Subscribers who've paid in advance,
Would cause surpris had you a chance
To give a careful, searching glance
At our ever-increasing subscription list.

It's patient toiled for twelve long years;
Strong in hope, undismayed by fears,
Nor mindful of the scoffs and jeers
Of all who would show their friendlessness.
But with warm love for the true heart
That's cheered it on, e'en from the start,
Ever ready to bear a part
In a toil that almost means endlessness.

Now on this happy Christmas time,
(Hoping pardon for this poor rhyme.)
You'll think how much a quarter or dime
Would sweetly and certainly tickle us.
Even a dollar from out your purse
Would make you not financially worse,
And we'd hail you in gratified verse,
As a genuine old Saint Nickle-us.

We hope that all the girls and boys
May have their fill of Christmas joys,
And smaller ones get lots of toys.
To gladden the festivity.
With hearty greetings now for all,
Both old and young, both great and small,
And fat and lean, and short and tall,
In honor of Christ's nativity.

And now our simple song is sung,
(Our motto's "Go it while you're young.")
But then, an older, abler tongue
Would make the theme more glorious.
Merry Christmas, Happy New Year,
To parents fond and children dear,
We wish you all, with wine to cheer,
But pray don't get uproarious.

What splendid Xmas weather. It was pleasant enough on Christmas Day to be with doors open and windows up and to sit out on the piazzas. The weather for nearly a week past has been truly delightful, although unseasonable. It is at an end, however, as a big cold wave has been developed up in the North-west and is slowly moving in this direction.

Knights of the Golden Eagle.

At a meeting of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, held last night, at their hall on Third street, the following officers were elected:
N. C.—G. W. Carter.
Vice C.—D. D. Cameron.
H. P.—R. M. Capps.
S. H.—G. P. Quinn.
V. H.—J. S. Ellis.

"Not a Green Christmas."

This has not, by any means, been a "green Christmas." There was nothing to make it green besides a lot of holly and mistletoe and a few newspaper men. A "green Christmas" means one where there have been no killing frosts and we have had lots of these this season.

The Phantastiques.

The D. Q. I's were out on Xmas Day, small in number, but enormous in rig. They had a fine time and attracted a great deal of attention. About a hundred promised to come out but they didn't get there, more's the pity.
There was a colored club of phantastiques on parade. There was a large number of these and they had a wagon load of music along. They also made a very fine display.

City Court.

There was a small crowd assembled at the City Court this morning and the following cases were disposed of:
Jerry Allen, disorderly conduct, judgment suspended.
Florence Canady, assault and battery, discharged.
Fred Merritt, stealing a ride on a street car, discharged.
Julia Murray, disorderly conduct, judgment suspended upon payment of costs.

Running After Reynard.

The fox hunters hereabouts had some very fine sport on Xmas day. Three of the Goldsboro Club came down and there was a fine run, with a pack of about 60 dogs. Several starts were made until at last the dogs struck a warm track back of Mr. J. B. Harris' place and ran the fox down. The bush was claimed by Mr. Hunter, of Goldsboro, and Mr. Willie Morrison, of this city, and we have not heard to whom it was awarded. There was also some very good sport yesterday and two foxes were run down and caught.

Christmas Conflagrations.

Christmas Day was enlivened by several small fire alarms. For only one was an alarm sent out for the department, and that was in the afternoon, when a hole was burned in the roof of a small frame dwelling on Castle street, between Sixth and Seventh, owned by Mr. Elijah Hewlett.

There were two alarms yesterday. The first came from a two-story frame dwelling, on Nixon, between Fifth and Sixth streets, belonging to Fred Anerum, colored, which was destroyed. There was no insurance. The firemen prevented the flames from spreading, though three dwellings on premises adjoining the burned building were damaged to the amount of about thirty dollars. Two of these buildings belong to Mr. J. P. and Mrs. Anna Chapman, and the other to Sampson Isler, and are insured.

The second alarm came from Eighth, between Bladen and Harnett streets, in a house owned and occupied by Cato Sneed. The fire was speedily extinguished, and the damage was slight—estimated at about thirty dollars, and covered by insurance with Messrs. Smith & Boatwright.

There was also an alarm this morning, at 3 o'clock, sent in from box 42. It was caused by the burning of a one-story frame building on the corner of Orange and Eighth streets, owned by Messrs. Kidder and Bradley and occupied by Mr. E. Y. Pollock. The building and furniture were nearly all destroyed, but the loss was covered by insurance.

Reception and Supper.

The Wilmington Cotillon Club gave their first dance and banquet at the Orton House last night. It was largely attended and was a splendid and enjoyable occasion. The music was very fine and the floor was filled with dancers. At 12 o'clock an elegant supper was served and afterwards the dance was resumed. It was in every way a delightful and successful affair.

Not Very Much Damage.

The British brig James Mason loaded with rosin, in the hold of which fire was found early on Friday morning, and which was towed to the shoals and pumped full of water, has been floated and is now at Evans' wharf. The cargo will be discharged and a survey held to ascertain the exact damage to vessel and cargo. It is roughly estimated now that the brig is but slightly injured and that the loss on the cargo will probably not exceed ten per cent.

King Winter's Court.

There was a large audience at the St. John's school room last night to witness the rendition of the charming little operatta of "King Winter's Court," which had been in preparation for some time past. The little lads and lassies covered themselves all over with glory and old Santa Claus was—well, it was certainly an admirable "Santy," the best we have ever seen, and we hope that the entertainment will be repeated on some cooler night. The proceeds were for the benefit of the Sunday School and a snug sum was realized.

J. O. Gibson, Meridian, Miss., writes: "For a number of years I suffered untold agonies from blood poison. Several prominent physicians did me little if any good. I began to use B. B. B. with very little faith, but, to my utter surprise, it has made me a well and hearty man."
Z. T. Hallerton, Macon, Ga., writes: "I contracted blood poison. I first tried physicians, but then went to Hot Springs. I returned home a ruined man physically. Nothing seemed to do me any good. My mother persuaded me to try B. B. B. To my utter astonishment, my ulcer quickly healed."
Bert Morris, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I suffered years from syphilitic blood poison which refused to be cured by all treatment. Physicians pronounced it a hopeless case. I had no appetite, I had pains in hips and joints and my sinews were diseased. My throat was irritated and my breast a mass of running sores. In this condition I commenced a use of B. B. B. It healed every ulcer and sore and cured me completely within two months."
