Day's length 9 hours and 44 minutes.
Sunset to-morrow afternoon at 55 minutes past 4 o'clock.

Have you secured your hog jowl and peas for New Year's dinner?

The banks in this city will close on Monday, the 31st, and Tuesday, New Years.

Tuesday is a legal holiday and many places of business will be closed on that day.

For North Carolina, fair weather, and slowly rising temperature.

There was a very heavy frost this morning. The house tops were as white as if covered with snow.

All kinds of School Books and School Supplies can be bought cheapest at Heinsberger's

Rheumatism is caused by lactic acid in the blood, which Hood's Sarsaparilla neutralizes, and thus cures rheumatism.

Portable fire-place grates. Just the thing for our climate. Are sold by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

The Register of Deeds issued marriage licenses this week for two white and four colored couples.

Some of the vessels in port have Christmas evergreens at their mast-heads. The effect is very pleasing.

If you want a picture framed go to Heinsberger's. He has a large assortment of Mouldings to select from.

We have knives for your boys and scissors for your girls. What will please them more for presents? N. Jacobi Hardware Co.

Do you use loaded shells? You will find that they will save you time, trouble and expense. For sale by the N. Jacobi Hardware Co.

Commencing with this evening and continuing until further notice, the Saturday night Bethel prayer and experience meeting will commence at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. Mr. Hoge's sermon in the First Presbyterian Church to-morrow forenoon will be especially for children and the front seats in the church will be reserved for them.

A watch night meeting will be held at Grace Methodist Church on Monday night, the services commencing at 10:30 o'clock and continuing until a few minutes past twelve, or the ushering in of the New Year.

Silver-plated knives, forks, spoons, and child's sets, carving knives and forks. Make your friends happy by making useful presents. A nice line of the above is offered by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

To the Hummocks
Through the courtesy of Mr. William Latimer, President of the Sea coast Railroad, the Charlotte Amateurs enjoyed a ride to the Hummocks to day, with an oyster roast at the end of it. They were accompanied by a number of young ladies and gentlemen of this city. The Amateurs returned to Charlotte on the 2:10 train this afternoon.

Will Not Show Here.
The Rutgers College Glee Club, who were booked for this city on Monday night, telegraphed this morning and cancelled their engagement. We have not learned the reason. It is probable that they also cancelled others as we see no sign of them in papers North of us. A number of reserved seats were sold by Mr. Heinsberger this morning and the money will be refunded.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses
Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the night. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

At St. John's Church to-morrow: Early celebration at 7:45; Morning Prayer at 11 o'clock; Evening Prayer at 4 o'clock; Sunday School at 3 p.m.

Give the boys the full day as a holiday on New Year's day and do not keep them working until it is too late for them to go anywhere to enjoy themselves.

There was one interment, a child, in Bellevue this week; three, all adults, in Oakdale; and three, one adult and two children, in Pine Forest.

Say, Wade, are all of your Charlotte ladies as pretty as those you sent down here yesterday, or did you pick out all of the pretty girls for the jaunt to Wilmington and keep the ugly ones at home? Let us know, quick.

A Lady Slips and Falls.
Miss Emily Kea, sister to Dr. J. E. Kea, slipped on an apple peeling this afternoon, on Market street, near Front and fell to the pavement. Some gentlemen near at hand rushed to her assistance, placed her in a chair and carried her across to Dr. Kea's residence. Dr. Storm was called in and says that the hip is severely injured, but he did not know at the time if it is fractured, as a careful examination had not then been made.

We have frequently urged upon the city authorities in these columns to do something towards putting a stop to the throwing of fruit hulls on the sidewalk, but so far as we know no move has yet been made in this direction.

Watch Night.
Watching the old year out and the new year in is an old custom whose origin is lost in the remote past. In England the custom has been maintained by many of the churches, and like other forms and ceremonies this has been perpetuated to some extent in America, chiefly among the Methodists. The custom still observed in England by congregations of the Church of England, of the Wesleyans, and the Dissenters, is to hold a special meeting for Divine service during the hour before midnight on the last day of the Old Year, so that the actual beginning of the New Year shall be consecrated by prayer, or by the singing of a hymn, at the very moment when the reckoning of one twelvemonth is finished and that of another is begun. The custom is similar among the American churches.

A Runaway Brig.
"A RUNAWAY BRIG; OR AN ACCIDENTAL CRUISE," by James Otis, No. 16 of the "Boys' Home Library." Paper, 12mo. Price 25 cents. Published by A. L. Burt, 56 Beekman St., New York.

The newest volume in the "Boys' Home Library" hardly needs any introduction to the boys of this country; the name of the author on the cover is a sure passport to immediate favor. Everybody knows James Otis to be one of our foremost writers of stories for young people. "A Runaway Brig" is in his best vein, full of adventure and life on land and sea; as stirring a tale as any healthy, lively boy can wish for, and as free from any cheap sensationalism as it is possible for a book to be. It has been the aim of this "Boys' Home Library" to give only absolutely good books and the sixteen stories thus far issued cannot be surpassed for real merit and purity in all juvenile literature.

It is for sale at Heinsberger's City Court.

There was a large crowd assembled at the City Court this morning and a docket with ten cases entered upon it which were disposed of as follows:

William Brinkley, assault and battery, discharged.

D. C. Smith, disorderly conduct, case continued.

Thos. J. Hallwood, assault and battery, $10 and costs or 20 days.

William Brown, larceny, case continued.

Jennie Brown, disorderly conduct, $10 or 20 days.

Jane Williams disorderly conduct, $5 or 10 days.

Stricken With Paralysis.

We are greatly grieved to learn of the affliction with which Capt. Geo. Sloan, of this city, the Manager of the Wilmington Compress, has been visited. While at his residence, at about 7 o'clock this morning, he was stricken with paralysis. His entire right side is affected and at last accounts he was speechless, although apparently sensible.

Capt. Sloan is one of the most thoroughly esteemed citizens of Wilmington and the regret expressed has been universal. We can only hope that in our next issue we may be able to report an improvement in his condition.

Capt. Sloan is Dead.
We publish elsewhere a notice of the sad affliction which overtook Capt. George Sloan, at an early hour this morning, and just before we close we learn of his death, which took place about 3 o'clock this afternoon.

We have no language in which to express our regrets. Capt. Sloan was a noble, honorable, upright, gallant gentleman, an excellent citizen, a kind husband and father and a thoroughly consistent Christian. He was a native of Sampson county and was in business in Fayetteville as a member of the firm of Pemberton & Sloan when the war broke out. He immediately enlisted and served with gallantry and distinction, coming out of the strife, after a long imprisonment at Camp Delaware, as Captain of his Company in the 51st Regiment. We do not know his age but think that he was between 55 and 60 years old. He removed to this city soon after the close of the war and has resided here ever since, having been for many years past Secretary and Treasurer of the Wilmington Compress Company, an office which also covers the management of the compress works. He married a daughter of Mr. B. F. Mitchell and leaves a widow and several children to mourn their great loss.

At this writing it has not yet been decided positively as to when the funeral services will be held, but it is likely that they will take place to-morrow afternoon.

A Chaplain Chosen.
A meeting of the Executive Committee of the Seaman's Friend Society was held yesterday afternoon in the parlor of the Seaman's Home. There were present Mr. Geo. R. French, Mr. George Harris, Mr. R. E. Heide, Mr. George R. French, Jr., and Mr. L. Hansen.

Mr. George R. French, president, called the meeting to order, and explained the purpose for which the committee had assembled—to consider the election of a chaplain for the Home.

The secretary placed before the meeting applications from Rev. Richard Webb, Rev. W. M. Kennedy, Rev. J. M. Hedrick, Rev. T. P. Ricard, and Rev. Chas. E. Carlstrom. The appointment of Mr. Carlstrom was earnestly advocated by Dr. Thos. F. Wood, Mr. W. M. Cumming, Mr. J. M. Forshee, Mr. T. B. Kingsbury, and Mr. James Sprunt, who were in attendance.

Nominations were called for and Mr. George Harris nominated Rev. T. P. Ricard; Mr. R. E. Heide, Rev. J. M. Hedrick; Mr. W. P. Oldham, Rev. W. M. Kennedy; Mr. George R. French, Jr., Rev. Chas. E. Carlstrom, and also Rev. Richard Webb.

A ballot being taken it was found that Rev. W. M. Kennedy had received a majority of the votes cast, and on motion his election to the position was made unanimous.

The secretary was instructed to notify Rev. Mr. Kennedy of his election as chaplain and request him to state at what time he will be ready to assume the duties of the position.

In addition to the above we are requested to state that the estimate of Mr. Carlstrom's character and abilities, as set forth in our issue of the 30th, were not unfounded, as is proved by the fact that the request for his appointment by the Executive Committee was signed by a majority of the members of the Society. Capt. Anderson of the Swedish harque Liana, also spoke in favor of Mr. Carlstrom.

"Kings may be blest," but Sam was glorious. O'er a the ill o' life victorious, He rode to town his silver spent, for Salvation Oil, the liniment.

The Register of Deeds gives notice that the "Schedule B Tax" is due on the first day of January, and the law requires that it shall be paid during the first ten days of the month.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church.
English services will be held in St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, corner Sixth and Market streets, to-morrow both at 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m.

We have a new carrier on one of the routes North of Market street, that which goes into Brooklyn, and if our friends there should miss their papers we would be glad to have them report it at once at this office, either in person or by postal card.

It had been intended to repeat the operetta of "King Winter's Court" given by the children of St. John's Sunday School, Monday evening, but owing to the absence of several of the principal characters it has been found necessary to postpone it.

"The Old Leaf," will be the subject to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock by Rev. L. T. Christmas, at the Central Baptist Church, corner of Seventh and Red Cross streets, and at 7:30 o'clock p. m., a "Praise Meeting."

"Esther" and the Amateurs.
The Charlottese have come and gone. They were cordially welcomed and gladly entertained while here, but their visit was too brief. We have had, as it were, a mere glimpse of a lot of pretty ladies, with some magnificent toilets, and of a number of handsome, clever gentlemen. They gave us, however, something to remember them by in days to come, for the exquisite harmonies produced by them at the Opera House last night, in "Esther," will live long in the memory of those who heard them.

The Opera House was well filled. It was probably the most fashionable audience of the season. As is unusual with us here many of the ladies were in full evening dress, for they had prepared to go immediately from the Opera House, at the close of the performance, to the Orton House, where a german had been tendered complimentary to the visitors.

We do not propose to write a critique in detail of the cantata, for we know that we could not do it justice. It was most exquisitely produced and no one was disappointed. It was all like a delightful dream—a dream of pretty women and beautiful music—than which none can be more pleasing.

At the close of the performance the visitors were all escorted to the Orton House, where they were joined by a number of young ladies and gentlemen and where the dance was soon on and joy was unconfined. This was kept up with much enjoyment until a late hour (or an early hour, as you please), the only interruption being about midnight, when a tempting repast was served.

For the Review.
JAMES GIVENS.

"One of the Crew."
The hero of the ill fated steamer John H. Hanna, buried on the Mississippi river, Dec. 24, 1888.

Just one of the crew—
What should he do?
What I and you
And the rest of the crew
And all the other passengers,
'Tbout heeding the shrieks and cries
And tears,
Or the honor and fame in future years,
Wouldn't er done: Just run
And saved his life while death
was rife.
But no; he leaped to the wheel
And with nerves of steel,
And with iron grip,
"Mid the smoke and flame,
He forced the ship
To the shore again;
Then held her there,
That others might live!
While his limbs all bare,
And his manly face,
Were blackened and burned
With the awful heat,—
And the skin was turned
On his hands and feet
As he staggered and fell
O'er the fire ship's side;
But all was well,
And the cooling tide
Bore him ashore,
And, what was more,
A score of lives he saved, they said
As his limbs and eyes were burned
away,
And his soul went home. Jim Givens
is dead,
But his name will live till the Judgment Day.
