Severe Cases of Blood Poison.

Thousands suffer from blood poison, who would be cured if they gave B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) a trial. Send to the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., for book of wonderful cures, that convince the most skeptical. It is sent free.

J. O. Gibson, Meridian, Miss., writes: "For a number of years I suffered untold agonies from blood poison. Several prominent physicians did me little if any good. I began to use B. B. B. with very little faith, but, to my utter surprise, it has made me a well and hearty person."
Z. T. Hallerton, Macon, Ga., writes: "I contracted blood poison. I first tried physicians, and then went to Hot Springs. I returned home a ruined man physically. Nothing seemed to do me any good. My mother persuaded me to try B. B. B. To my utter astonishment every ulcer quickly healed."
Benj. Morris, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I suffered years from syphilitic blood poison which refused to be cured by all treatment. Physicians pronounced it a hopeless case. I had no appetite, I had pains in hips and joints and my kidneys were diseased. My throat was ulcerated and my breast a mass of running sores. In this condition I commenced a use of B. B. B. It healed every ulcer and sore and cured me completely within two months."

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

(Sp. Corr. Daily Review.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 5, '89.
Somebody has said that "he who makes two blades of grass to grow where one grew before is a philanthropist," likewise I would say that he who by act, or deed, contributes to the good of the community in which he lives, who makes it easier for the people to live, who creates employment for them, is not only a philanthropist but a patriot as well. Some time ago I read in the REVIEW an advertisement of a printing firm from which I inferred that some of your business men were sending their printing work to be done elsewhere when the firm aforesaid was prepared to do it upon equally good terms, and the money in such case would be kept at home and would go into the local circulation. As I find it expressed in Hedrick's column: I have already told you that I am a constant reader of that part of your paper, and, by the way, I strongly suspect that one or more of our leading merchants here have done the same thing, as I find long advertisements in our local papers offering the same class of goods in almost identically the same language that he uses. He says, "Nothing for labor spent abroad. The money cost for work feeds our own people, comes back to you again and builds up our city. This is true economy," and it is true economy.

In these few words he states the whole case and I hope your people will profit by them and profit by the suggestion. The REVIEW, if you will pardon me for saying it to your face, has worked nobly in this direction. I recall numerous paragraphs and a recent editorial, which, I think, are bearing some fruit, but not all that they should. I see that R. M. McIntire, that excellent gentleman and liberal advertiser, returns "thanks for an unusually good holiday trade," and "Heinsberger's Live Book Store" sends New Year's greetings to those who have made its trade very large this season.

But to come back to Jackson & Bell, by way of illustration, and I hope these gentlemen will pardon me for referring to them by name, as they are REVIEW acquaintances only. Suppose all the people in Wilmington, who have work in their line to be done, get them to do it. They would very soon have to increase their facilities for business, including their workmen, who in turn would patronize the merchants, mechanics and professional men. They might buy a "Jacobi Axe," and some of Boatwright's self-rising buckwheat; or a dinner set from Watson's; a pair of "Pat. Leather Tips" from French & Sons; embroidery from Katz for wives and daughters, to say nothing of a suit of N. C. goods to be found, as per ad., at the Northeast corner of Front and Market streets; and subscribe for the REVIEW.

When a boy, one of our pastimes was to set up bricks on end in a row, and when a long line had been formed to start the end one and the whole would come down one after another. We called it "Jerk go to Market," I think. Thus we all touch each other at some point—each helps the other and all are benefited. This is practical patriotism as well as "true economy."

There is not one of your readers, I venture to say, who will not agree that this is a consummation devoutly to be wished. But words, however eloquent, won't bring it about. Deeds are necessary. I well recollect a grand gathering in Wilmington, in the days ante bellum, at which it was resolved to do divers and sundry things, all calculated to make North Carolina independent of the world and the rest of mankind, one of which was to build ships, to do the carrying trade, &c. &c. It was a meeting of representative men—good men and true, who believed what they said; but faith without works is dead, and there were no works. The sentiments were excellent but accomplished nothing, and one could hardly forbear saying with old Sir Peter Teazle, "Oh!—a—your sentiments." Your correspondent, then a beardless youth, scarcely out of his teens, was a delegate and wanted much to say something, but was too much oppressed by his lack of years. I wanted to suggest that the members of the convention pledge themselves to go out into the community and practice the patriotism they so fervidly talked. The president of the meeting was educating his children at the North; several of the committee on resolutions had bought their carriages and harness, one or two of them within a few weeks, in Newark; some boasted of having their clothes made in New York, where tailors and shoemakers had their measures. They meant well but their practice and example made them little better than a curse to the community. The ablest man in the State who had his shoe patched by the resident cobbler, and paid him for it, was to that extent the better citizen.

The people of Wilmington have shown a liberal public spirit, as their railroads and other works testify, and the State has largely profited by her enterprise and example, but there is one more thing to be done to complete her success, and that is to patronize the home workmen, and keep their money at home as much as possible. Then the merchant can increase his stock; the mechanic his facilities for doing the work required, the laborer will find paying employment, the farmer will have a better market for his produce, and all can unite in singing:

"Then let all who love us, love the land that we live in.
As happy a region as on this side of heaven.
Where plenty and freedom, love and peace smile before us
Raise aloud, raise together, the heart-cheering chorus—
Hurra, hurra, the Old North State forever;
Hurra, hurra, for the good Old North State."

The receipts of cotton at this port to day foot up 328 bales.

The rainfall for the past 24 hours amounts to .62 of an inch.

The new moon entered on its second quarter last night.

All kinds of School Books and School Supplies can be bought cheapest at Heinsberger's.

The N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. still lead in the sale of the best and cheapest heating and cooking stoves.

Portable fire-place grates. Just the thing for our climate. Are sold by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

Catarrh originates in serofulous taint. Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood and this permanently cures catarrh.

If you want a picture framed go to Heinsberger's. He has a large assortment of Mouldings to select from.

We have knives for your boys and scissors for your girls. What will please them more for presents? N. Jacobi Hardware Co.

Indications.

For North Carolina, clearing weather, and on Thursday morning much colder with a cold wave.

The annual meeting of the lot owners of Oakdale Cemetery will be held at the office of the Company in this city on next Monday evening.

Mr. H. Cronenberg announces that until further notice the price for cabinet photos will be $3 per dozen. This means cheap work as well as good work.

Capt. B. H. Webster, High Chief Ruler, I. O. R., will lecture in Temperance Hall on next Friday evening, on which occasion the public are invited to attend.

We are sorry to hear that Mayor Fowler continues quite sick and that there is no material improvement in his condition. He is wrestling with a touch case of jaundice.

Silver-plated knives, forks, spoons, and child's sets, carving knives and forks. Make your friends happy by making useful presents. A nice line of the above is offered by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

We are requested to state that the lecture announced to be delivered by Col. James G. Burr at the Opera House this evening, has been postponed until further notice, on account of the weather.

Steamship Gulf Stream, which sailed yesterday for New York, returned here to-day. She got as far out as the Knuckle buoy when some slight, but important, derangement of her machinery necessitated her return to this port. She will probably sail again to-morrow.

The steamer D. Murchison, heretofore owned by the Express Steam boat Company, has been purchased by the Cape Fear and People's Company and the Bladen Company, owners, respectively, of the A. P. Hurt and the Cape Fear. She will be continued on the line between this city and Fayetteville, under command of the popular Capt. J. C. Smith, and will run on the same days as heretofore.

The Legislature met to day at noon. At a Democratic caucus last night Mr. A. Leazer, of Iredell, was chosen for Speaker of the House. B. M. Furman, of Asheville, (the same old Bob), was nominated for Principal Clerk of the Senate, and D. B. Nicholson, of Clinton, for Reading Clerk.

Exports Foreign.

Schr Maggie Abbott, McIntosh, cleared to day for Barbados with 173,000 feet lumber and 101,800 shingles, valued at $2,985.78, shipped by Mr. E. Kidder's Son. Brig Richard T. Green, Patrick, cleared for Barbados with 143,103 feet lumber and 450,000 shingles, valued at $3,991.10, shipped by Messrs. Geo. Harriss, Son & Co.

Clear and Colder.

The cautionary Southwest signal was hoisted here this morning at 10:15 o'clock. There was a storm at that time central near Chicago and moving Northeast. The winds, which had been from the East and Southeast, were veering to Westery and colder, clearing weather will follow. The signals were also ordered up at Charleston and Morehead.

The Fire This Morning.

The alarm of fire at 3 o'clock this morning, turned in from box 35, was caused by the burning of two frame dwellings, on Market, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. One was owned by Col. Roger Moore and occupied by Charles Johnson, colored. It was insured for $200 in the Hibernian of New Orleans, represented here by Messrs. Atkinson & Manning. The other was owned and occupied by D. Thomas, colored, who had insurance to the amount of $550 on house and furniture. He lost nearly everything he had.

The Mercantile Agency.

"The Mercantile Association of the Carolinas," as announced in our advertising columns to-day, is now open for business, with offices in the old office of the Orton House, on the second floor of the building. Its projectors are all gentlemen of this city of marked business enterprise and ability and of unquestioned probity. They solicit the patronage of the business public. Their telephone is No. 7.

Criminal Court.

The following cases were disposed of to-day:
State vs. R. B. Shepperd, larceny. Verdict guilty, with a recommendation for mercy.
State vs. Jno McKoy, removing crop, defendant submits. Judgment suspended until the next term of court when the defendant must pay the costs.
State vs. Jno Moore, abandonment. Guilty.
State vs. George Stone, larceny. Not guilty.

The Knights of Pythias.

A joint meeting of Stonewall Lodge No. 1 and Germania Lodge No. 4, Knights of Pythias, will be held at Castle Hall this evening for the purpose of receiving and welcoming to the city Gen. William Ward, of New Jersey, Supreme Chancellor of the Order.
To-morrow night, at the Opera House, the newly elected officers of both lodges will be installed. The exercises will be very interesting and the public are invited. The following programme has been adopted for the occasion:
1. Call to order, by Mr. E. Kubblank, Chancellor Commander of Germania Lodge.
2. Music.
3. Entrance of Grand officers.
4. Prayer, by Rev. W. S. Creasy, Prelate-elect of Stonewall Lodge.
5. Music.
6. Installation.
7. Declaration of Principles, by Mr. H. L. Votlers, Chancellor Commander-elect of Germania Lodge.
8. Address by Gen. William Ward, of New Jersey, Supreme Chancellor of the World.
9. Music.
10. Dismissal, by Mr. E. B. King, Chancellor Commander-elect of Stonewall Lodge.

TAKE IT IN TIME.

"For want of a nail, a shoe was lost; for want of a shoe, a horse was lost; for want of a horse, a rider was lost." Never neglect small things. The first signs of pneumonia and consumption can positively be checked by Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption. Munds Brothers, Druggists.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

Patience in February.

There was a pretty full meeting of the members of the Wilmington Operative Company at Capt. Jno. L. Boatwright's residence last night. It was decided then to produce the opera of Patience during the first week in February, at the Opera House. Another meeting of the Company is called for next Tuesday evening at Capt. W. H. Northrop's residence, on Fifth street, between Market and Dock.

Our Savings Bank.

The statement of the Wilmington Savings and Trust Co., as submitted at the meeting of the stockholders on Monday afternoon, is published in this issue to-day. This institution has been in existence less than a year—only ten months—and the exhibit it already makes is a very flattering one. The capital stock is but $25,000 and yet the deposits already amount to half of that sum, and $34,000 has been loaned. Its success is already an assured one. There are now 611 depositors, of whom 451 are white and 160 colored.

Fifth Ward Hook and Ladder Co.

At the regular meeting of the Fifth Ward Hook and Ladder Co. held on Monday night, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
President—M. G. Silva.
Vice President—Charles Farrow.
Secretary—Oscar Kennedy.
Treasurer—John Ebert.
Foreman—J. G. Swann.
First Assistant—W. T. Watkins.
Second Assistant—Joe Kennedy.
Axemen—Thodore Swann, O. B. Watson, T. J. Dowling, James B. Meadows.

By Rail and Sea.

Our old friend and school-fellow, Capt. Jno. H. Marshall, of Norfolk, paid us a visit this forenoon. He arrived here yesterday afternoon on the little steam yacht E. M. G., which was brought overland to Norfolk, from which port Captain Marshall piloted her to this city. The E. M. G. was brought by rail from Sanford, Maine, the native town of the Messrs. Chadbourn, of this city, to Norfolk, Va. There Messrs. W. J. Bodwell, C. A. Bodwell, E. M. Goodall and P. M. Ricker embarked on the little craft, which measures 32 feet by 8 feet beam, 30 inches deep. They will spend a week here and then bend their way towards the "land of flowers."

A Large Funeral Concourse.

We spoke briefly on Monday of the death of Dr. James F. (Shober) the colored physician who has practiced medicine in this city for many years past. His remains were interred yesterday afternoon in Pine Forest Cemetery. The funeral services were conducted from St. Stephen's A. M. E. Church, the Rev. W. O. Alexander officiating. The pall bearers were J. K. Cutlar, F. C. Sadgwar, C. A. King, John Hargrave, Adam Brown and W. H. Bradley.

The funeral cortege was the largest we have ever seen in Wilmington, with one exception, in honor of any colored person. The church was literally packed and there were hundreds unable to gain admission. The deceased was held in great esteem by the people of his own race here; and this feeling was shared by those of our white population who knew him. He was a North Carolinian by birth having been born in Salem in 1855. He graduated at Lincoln University, Philadelphia, and also in the Medical Department of Howard University, Washington, D. C. He was one of the most notable men of his race in the State and probably the only regular medical practitioner.

PLEASE NOTICE.

We will be glad to receive communication from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest, but the name of the writer must always be furnished to the Editor. Communications must be written only on one side of the paper. Personalities must be avoided. And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

First National Bank.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the First National Bank of Wilmington was held yesterday at the banking house in this city. The meeting was organized by calling Hon. George Davis to the chair and appointing Mr. H. M. Bowden secretary. Directors were elected for the ensuing year as follows: B. F. Hall, James Sprunt, H. M. Bowden, G. H. Smith, George Chadbourn. The Directors' meeting for election of officers will be held in a few days. This report should have appeared yesterday, but, to tell the truth, we overlooked the fact that the meeting was called for that day. A candid confession is good—sometimes—for the soul.
