THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. XIII. WILMINGTON, N. C., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23, 1889. NO 20.

Gen. Ransom was yesterday elected by the Legislature U. S. Senator for the ensuing term of six years, from next March 4th.
The Confederate pensioners met in Raleigh yesterday, 300 strong. They were received with open arms by the people. Last week it was thought that about 40 would attend, and on Tuesday the News and Observer placed the number at 100. They were escorted yesterday to the Capital by the Governor's Guard and all Raleigh turned out to do them honor.

The ice men of New York are forming a trust to force up the price of ice next summer. Thirty of the big dealers are already in the combination. The complaint is that while over $5,000,000 is invested in the business and over 3,000,000 tons are used annually in New York and vicinity, no profits have been made since 1885. The mild weather has given them a chance to work together and the thirty in the combination have agreed on these rates: Wholesale, $3.50 per ton; hotels, $4; small trade, $5; families, $8.

The rogues out in Minnesota are quarreling over the plunder. Sabin and Washburn both wanted to be Senator but Washburn had the strongest "pull" and so got a slight majority in the caucus. Sabin therefore cried "stop thief!" and so lustily that the Legislature will not elect until his charges of bribery have been investigated. A bribery investigation committee is at work and one member has already declared that he was offered $400 for his vote, which he declined to take, probably because the bid was not high enough.

Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria is a plucky young man. Not content with all his troubles as a ruler in the East, he is going to join the army of people engaged in settling the question as to whether marriage is a failure. A young woman named Princess Henriette, daughter of the Count of Flanders, is going to share his troubled throne—the same throne, by the way, which Mrs. Frank Leslie once said she would not have at any price, when a little Prince who wanted her tried to persuade her that Bulgaria wanted him. Prince Ferdinand's future wife is only 19 years old, and is one of the richest girls in Europe. It seems as though she might have done better.

The match was brought about by the Prince's hard-working and energetic mother, Princess Clementine of Coburg.
Yesterday's Charleston News and Courier thinks that the cotton crop this year will reach 7,500,000 bales. In an editorial article it says:
Day by day the cotton crop of 1888-89 assumes more generous proportions, and there are few who now dispute the fact that it will be the largest crop ever made. The conditions have been unusually favorable for maturing the crop, and, in many of the most fruitful sections the pickers are still actively at work in the field.
The result of the prolongation of the picking season, over the vast area of the Cotton Belt, must be an gratifying as it was unexpected. It seems not extravagant to hope, with the present outlook, that the crop will approximate, if it does not reach, the magnificent total of 7,500,000 bales.
The best of it is that the bulk of the crop has been marketed at prices that will go far towards making the agricultural interests of the South prosperous and independent.

Buck is his name and he is a Georgia Republican protectionist. He went to Indianapolis to see the Grand Mogul of his party, pretending that he had been sent for. He has returned and says:
I went to talk upon what is known as the Southern question. The President elect seems very anxious to obtain accurate information concerning the political condition of the South.
If Harrison really wanted to find out anything about the political condition of the South he took a very peculiar course to get at its true inwardness.
Referring to the rumor that Harrison favored building up his party in the South by giving offices to protection Democrats, Buck says that the Georgia visitors did not favor such a plan. Should the protectionists come to the support of the administration upon economic questions they should break away from Democratic organizations and should, with Republicans, support protectionists for Congress and other offices. Substantial recognition would follow. That is just it. To become the end man in a minstrel show a white man must not only black his face but his arms and his wrists as well.

Salvation Oil, the greatest cure for pain, has no equal. Persons suffering from rheumatism, neuralgia, or from cuts, bruises, sprains, &c., should not be without it. Cures are effected in an incredibly short time. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. For sale by all druggists.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Bank of New Hanover, held on Monday night, Mr. Wm. L. Smith was appointed Cashier, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. S. D. Wallace.
The Myrtle Grove oysters are at their best now. They are selling all of the way from 50 cents to $1 per bushel. Those that come from near the head of the Sound are delicious. They are as fresh and fat as the New River oysters.
Silver-plated knives, forks, spoons, and child's sets, carving knives and forks. Make your friends happy by making useful presents. A nice line of the above is offered by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.
We are glad to note that Mr. R. D. Cronly is at last sufficiently recovered from the effects of his recent very severe sickness to resume his place in our midst. His was a close call, and no mistake.
Democratic Club Meeting.
There was only a small crowd present at the meeting of the Democratic Club held at the City Hall last night, simply because, in our opinion, sufficient publicity was not given to the call. The only business transacted was the election of Capt. W. P. Oldham as President, Mr. John H. Currie as Vice-President and Mr. N. Jenkins as Secretary. The meeting then adjourned subject to the call of the chair.
Eighty-Seven Years Old To-Morrow.
The venerable Mr. Geo R. French, of this city, will celebrate to-morrow his 87th anniversary. He will receive a number of his friends in the afternoon at his residence and we have just seen a note written by him to an old friend, like himself an octogenarian, inviting him to call and take him by the hand on that occasion, which was written without glasses and in remarkably fine and distinct characters for a man of his years. We are glad to know that Mr. French continues to enjoy good health and hope that he may be spared many years yet to his family and friends.

What the Coast Line is Doing.
For evidences of the material prosperity of this city one will only have to visit the local freight depot of the W. & W. R. R. at the foot of Red Cross street. The interests of the railroads centre here are not inimical to those of the mercantile interests and it argues that the increased business and facilities of one bears a direct and tangible influence on the other. For, if the business of Wilmington is not increasing, then there would be, perhaps, no necessity for the Coast Line extending its facilities here for taking care of its local business.
The freight yard has, until the past season, been amply large for the expeditious handling of the immense volume of trade which is poured into the lap of Wilmington, over the roads of the Coast Line, but this season's business has so materially increased that the yard is now somewhat overtaxed and the company is having constructed a yard, for through freight, at or near the site of the old Union Depot.
The new yard will be used exclusively for through business and the present yard, which has heretofore accommodated all the business, will be given up entirely to the local trade. It has twenty-two switch tracks, that is, tracks exclusive of the main lines, with an average capacity of twenty cars to the track, making in round numbers a capacity of 440 cars. The new yard will have for the present a capacity of 250 cars but there is ample room at the "Y" to increase the facilities whenever the occasion require.
By way of digression we will state that 44 trains pass over the W. & W. R. R. daily and 64 over the Charleston and Columbia division of the Coast Line.
The Coast Line has a fast freight route, the Atlantic Coast Dispatch, handling exclusively fruits, vegetables and other perishable freights, which will prove a very great benefit to our truckers and grape growers during the coming season. This line is now carrying immense quantities of oranges, etc., from Florida and frequently so heavy is this business that the trains are run in sections and we understand that a six section schedule is being made to accommodate the business, which will soon be greatly augmented by the early vegetable traffic.
For the past three months the Coast Line has delivered daily to Wilmington 200 car loads of local freight; in fact, so heavy is this trade it has been found necessary to run two sections of the local freight from Florence over the W. C. & A. R. R. In order to handle promptly the immense and growing local trade, the Coast Line has put on its roads new and powerful eighteen-inch cylinder engines, in place of the fifteen and sixteen-inch engines, which formerly did the work. All the side tracks on the roads have been lengthened and in some places pass tracks have been laid.
Some idea of the local business may be had when it is understood that a train of forty cars of to-day is equal to eighty or more cars of the days of yore.
As the local business of the railroads has increased so materially, and this increase is expected to continue, we take as a good indication of the material growth of our city, and our future prosperity will be in proportion to the increased business of our railroads.
We as a city should feel a pride in our great feeders and congratulate ourselves that the gentlemen who control these destinies are in sympathy with us.

Pender County Pigs.
Mr. J. T. Collins, of Burgaw, killed two pigs yesterday morning that were each only 8 months old on the first of the month. One of these tipped the beam at 120 pounds and the other at 170 pounds. They were raised at Burgaw and were of Essex and Guinea breed. Now let us hear from other parts of Pender county and see who can beat this.

City Court.
There was a slim attendance at the City Court this morning and only two cases, which were disposed of as follows:
Ed. Artist, building up a fire in the street, 5 days in a close cell on bread and water.
Duke Kelley, disorderly conduct, $5 or 10 days.

Attacked on the Street.
A young lady who resides in Brooklyn was taken with a fit yesterday afternoon on Front street and was first taken to the City Hall by a policeman and afterwards conveyed to her home in a carriage by some kind young gentlemen who became aware of the circumstances. She lost her hat and was escorted through the streets in this condition. She should have been put into a carriage at once and taken to her home. She remained under the influence of the attack for some time after the physicians had been called in. When she had partially recovered it was discovered that in the paroxysm she had bitten her tongue severely.

A MINUTE.
At a meeting of the Directors of the Bank of New Hanover, held this day, the following minute, ordered by Col. John W. Atkinson, was unanimously adopted:
The Board of Directors of the Bank of New Hanover having been informed by the President that our Cashier, STEPHEN D. WALLACE, after prolonged illness, has now passed away, deeply regretting his loss, deem it our duty to his memory to place on record our high sense of the character and great worth of our departed friend and associate—therefore Resolved, in the death of STEPHEN D. WALLACE we lose a faithful and upright officer, who in life justly commanded the respect and confidence of this Board, and, as we are assured, of all the patrons of this Bank; and tender to his family our heartfelt sympathy in their sore distress.
Resolved, That a copy of this minute shall be furnished by the Secretary to the family of the deceased and be placed on the official records of this Board of Directors.

Bears Near the City.
Two bears appeared yesterday near Jumping Run, scarcely a mile beyond the Southern limits of the city, and attacked a hog, belonging to Mr. James Hewitt. Mr. Hewitt saw them but could not get a shot. The bears got frightened and left. There was some talk of a bear hunt this morning with Mr. Phil Thomas' fox hounds but that gentleman says he has heard nothing of it. He says, further, that you can't track a bear with fox hounds as the moment the dogs are turned loose they will hunt for foxes and not for bears.
