The Alarm This Morning.
The alarm of fire this forenoon, about 10 o'clock, turned in from box 15, was caused by the burning of a small hole in the roof of the kitchen of the dwelling on Mulberry street, near Front, occupied by Capt. Edward Everett and owned by Mrs. Leggett. The damage was very slight.

No Wonder She Envied Bridget.
A rich society lady told her servant, "I wish I could be as strong, healthy and full of life as you are!" The lesson is plain. The girl had plenty of exercise, and constitutional health and contentment. Riches will not buy health, always, but broken down women can find sure relief in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a powerful, invigorating, restorative tonic and nerve, and imparts strength to the whole system in general, and to the uterine organs and appendages in particular. For "rundown," debilitated and feeble women generally it is the greatest earthly boon.

Sunday School Convention.

During the session of yesterday afternoon Rev. G. M. Tolson delivered an address on "The Teacher's Work and how to do it." He defined his ideas of a model teacher, and then made some hard cuts at those who are but poor excuses for teachers. He spoke of those who were monkey teachers, and simply imitated others. He spoke of those who were poll parrot teachers, and simply repeated what they had heard. In the concluding part of his address there were fine sentences, noble sentiments and an earnest appeal for better work in the Sunday Schools. He was followed by Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, who spoke on "What has the Sunday Schools Accomplished?" We have secured the outline of this address. "My subject," said Mr. Peschau, is as wide as the world and reaches into eternity. It involves in part the history and work of the church, for in her organic condition the Sunday School is a very part of the church.

The speaker best defined what he understood by the Sunday School. There are two views of the Sunday School; one view was that it was only an adjunct or aid to the church, or a field lying alongside it, from which to glean from the church. The other view was that it was a part and parcel of the church, and this Rev. Mr. Peschau claimed was the view he took of it. It was the church caring for her young in the lambs' flock.

The Sunday School is a modern name in one sense; it is what may be called the "Bible School" of the earliest ages, and in its present form is more legitimately an outgrowth of the Reformation. The Roman Catholic Church saw the wisdom of caring for the young and in the 16th century Loyola and other dignitaries began such work, as the best means to offset the special work of Luther for the young begun in 1523. In 1560 the Church of Scotland initiated a similar movement. In 1665-8 Rev. Joseph Allein also worked in this direction. In 1674 in Massachusetts, and 1676 in Connecticut, a kind of Sunday school had been started, but the first one we have full records of was one begun in Ephrata, Pa., by a German named Ludwick Hoecker, in 1740, after giving a sketch of the Sunday school and an outline of its history, from which alone what she had accomplished could be learned, discussed the following points:

1st. The Sunday school helped the Church carry out the command of God, to "Train a child in the way it should go."
2d. It gave the Church a new element of power in a three-fold manner. It gave laymen work to do; it reached the parents through the children, and made the children more eminently useful in the Church.
3d. It made the masses intelligent by spreading Bible knowledge, and it was to solve the problem of the Church separate from the State and the public school without strictly religious education.
4th. It developed liberality.
5th. It helped to create the missionary age.
6th. Its best and noblest and grandest work is to help children to Heaven by leading them in a Holy life and to a Christian death.

The books of the Sunday school are the best antidote for pernicious literature. The songs of the Sunday school are the best substitute for sentimentalism. The papers of the Sunday school are the best exchange for the newspaper with its stories of crime. The order in the Sunday school is the best supplement to home training and the lessons of the Sunday school, the word of God, the purest and best human minds and hearts can learn.

NIGHT SESSION.
After devotional services by Rev. T. P. Ricard, Rev. Dr. Pritchard delivered an address on "Relation of Parents to the Sunday School." The great responsibilities of parents were forcibly impressed upon the minds of the hearers, and the speaker related several touching incidents of children that were truly and fully converted to God and became eminent Christians when 4 years old, and one 4 1/2 years old.

Rev. R. C. Beaman strengthened this statement by reciting how a child under his own observation, 4 1/2 years old, also became soundly converted. Both he and Rev. Dr. Pritchard pronounced themselves believers in child-conversion and child Christians.

Rev. P. H. Hoge was the last speaker. His subject was the "Relation of the Sunday School to the Church."

President Chadbourne made some appropriate remarks as to who are members of this Association. At this point a collection was made for furthering the work of the State Sunday School organization.

A vote of thanks was given, on motion of Dr. Pritchard, for the use of the church during the conventional session.

Rev. Mr. Hoge announced the coming of Rev. Mr. Reynolds; proposing a mass meeting of the schools here represented at a church to be appointed by the Executive Committee. The motion was carried.

Appointments of delegates to the State Convention being in order, Superintendent King nominated the following, one from each denomination represented: Messrs. C. H. Robinson, J. C. Stevenson, J. C. Davis, Dr. T. F. Wood and W. H. Strauss.

The doxology was then sung, and the benediction by Dr. Pritchard closed the pleasant reunion of Sunday School workers.

Entertainment at the Home.

We are requested to give notice that there will be an entertainment given at St. James' Home on Thursday, Feb. 28, at 8 p. m. Price of admission ten cents. Hot coffee, ice cream, cakes, home-made candies, etc., will be served at reasonable prices. The object of this entertainment is to procure funds for finishing a useful and much needed room, which has been built entirely by the proceeds of entertainments given by the children of the school. This is the first time we have asked for outside help, and we would be glad to see our friends and thankful for any contributions to the refreshment table. We have recently been presented with a "Boston Cook Stove." One of the purposes for which this room is needed is to give cooking lessons to the children.

A Bold Robbery.

Some one entered the premises of Mr. T. T. Seeders, on McRae, between Mulberry and Walnut streets, on Thursday evening and made a raid on the larder, cleaning it of all its contents. The thief succeeded in making good his escape without being detected by any of the inmates of the house.

There seems to be a good deal of pilfering going on in that neighborhood recently, as it was only a few minutes after this robbery was perpetrated when a strange colored woman was seen on the premises of Mr. Andrews', adjoining Mr. Seeders', but she became frightened and left without having had an opportunity to steal anything.

The Target Shooting.

The Wilmington Light Infantry had a shoot at the Hunnocks yesterday afternoon. The weather was bad but they carried down 40 rifles. Corporal W. P. Toomer made the best score, winning the Golden Star medal, and Private W. R. Morrison made the second best and was also awarded a prize. The names of the ten best shots in this contest will be preserved to form a team to represent the W. L. I. in any inter-company contests that may take place next Summer.

Pastorate of Seven Years.

Rev. F. W. E. Peschau, pastor of St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church, will, with the services of to-morrow, close seven years' labor as the Lutheran pastor of our city. He will preach in German at 11 a. m. and in English at 7.30 p. m.

City Court.

John Waddell, drunk and down, was ordered locked up in jail for 30 days.
An Italian tramp was sent below.

In all cases of neuralgia, there are certain localities where pain is more intense—these are called the "painful points." Rub the "painful points" thoroughly, when afflicted with this disease, with Salvation Oil, the great pain annihilator. Price 25 cents a bottle.

We still lead in low prices and the best cook stoves. N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

The National Cemetery Roadway.

We were mistaken in saying a few days since that the bill making an appropriation for a road to the National Cemetery had passed the House and had gone to the Senate. Such was our information, but it was not correct. It is still in the House and we are afraid that it will stay there awhile longer. We have a letter from Senator Ransom to-day calling our attention to this fact. If it were in the Senate we have no doubt that the Senator would secure its passage at this session. On Wednesday Maj. McClumny made a heroic effort to have it considered in the House, but failed for the want of a quorum. Following are the proceedings from the Record:

Mr. Robertson, of Louisiana, I call up for consideration the bill (H. R. 11524) to construct a road from Wilmington, N. C., to the National Cemetery adjacent thereto, and for other purposes, which has been reported from the Committee on Military Affairs as a substitute for House bill 4307.

The bill was read as follows: Be it enacted, etc., That the sum of $10,000, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the construction of a macadamized road, at a width of 30 feet, leading from Fourth street, on Market street, in the city of Wilmington, N. C., to the National Cemetery in the vicinity of said city, the same to be expended under the direction of the Secretary of War; Provided, That no part of the money so appropriated shall be expended until the city of Wilmington shall, by proper ordinances, grant to the United States the right, without expense, to grade and macadamize the street along the route selected for the construction of said road, and also provide in said ordinance that when said road is constructed that said city will keep the same in repair as far as the entrance to the National Cemetery; And provided further, That no part of said money shall be expended until the county of New Hanover shall, by proper orders duly entered of record, widen the county road, if necessary, along the route selected, so as that it shall correspond in width to the street of said city selected for said macadamized road; Provided also, That the city of Wilmington shall put in at its own expense a suitable stone curb and gutter along so much of said streets as are situate in said city; And provided further, That the contract to construct said road shall be awarded to the lowest bidder, after due advertisement, the Secretary of War to have authority to reject any and all bids.

Mr. O'Neill of Missouri, as other gentlemen are allowed to call up bills for consideration, I hope I will not be denied the right, before the evening closes, to call up and pass a bill (H. R. 2575) for the relief of John Sherk.

Mr. Robertson, I do not yield at this time to the gentleman from Missouri, but will yield to the gentleman from North Carolina [Mr. McClumny].
Mr. Townsend, How long?
Mr. McClumny, I only ask for two minutes. I do not want to detain the House by any eloquence with which I might entertain them on this occasion. If I had time I would launch out in praise of my friend from Indiana "in thoughts that breathe and words that burn" for giving me sufficient time to appeal to the House in favor of the passage of this bill. As showing how much I appreciate his courtesy and kindness, I must be pardoned for saying my heart—and I carry one in a thin bosom—beats heavy for him. While I know I could entertain the House, I prefer, however, to take up the time in securing the passage of my bill. It is a just measure. Everybody is in favor of it; and I hope the House will pass it at once. [Laughter and applause.]
Mr. Washington, How old is that bill?
Mr. McClumny, It is of age, and I hope you will allow it to pass. [Laughter.]

At this point a division was called for and it resulted, ayes 34, noes 1. No quorum. Mr. Robertson thereupon withdrew the bill.

SHE IS "GRATEFUL."

"I saved the life of my little girl by a prompt use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption."—Mrs. WM. V. HARRMAN, New York,ington. Munds Bros., druggists.

At High Noon.

Mr. J. G. L. Gieschen, of the Aeme Saloon, placed us under obligations to-day: Just at the witching hour of high noon a boy appeared, carrying a huge waiter, on which were one dozen of the finest New River oysters we have seen this season. Mr. Gieschen has more of those on hand and is prepared to accommodate all of his patrons.

Indications.

For North Carolina, fair, except local rains on the coast, and colder, with a cold wave.
Day's length 11 hours and 8 minutes.

PLEASE NOTICE
We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects of general interest, but
