Physicians Confess.

All honest, conscientious physicians who give B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) a trial, frankly admit its superiority over all other blood medicines.

Dr. W. J. Adair, Rockmart, Ga., writes: "I regard B. B. B. as one of the best blood medicines."

Dr. A. H. Roscoe, Nashville, Tenn., writes: "All reports of B. B. B. are favorable, and its speedy action is truly wonderful."

Dr. J. W. Rhodes, Crawfordsville, Ga., writes: "I confess B. B. B. is the best and quickest medicine for rheumatism I have ever tried."

Dr. S. J. Farmer, Crawfordsville, Ga., writes: "I cheerfully recommend B. B. B. as a fine and reliable remedy for rheumatism, and as the best of the neck after other remedies effected no perceptible good."

Dr. C. H. Montgomery, Jacksonville, Ala., writes: "My mother insisted on my getting B. B. B. for her rheumatism, as her case stubbornly resisted the usual remedies. She experienced immediate relief, and her improvement has been truly wonderful."

A prominent physician who wishes his name not given, says: "A patient of mine whose case of tertiary syphilis was surely killing him, and who no treatment seemed to check, was entirely cured with twelve bottles of B. B. B. He was fairly made up of skin and bones and terrible ulcers."

THE DAILY REVIEW.

VOL. XIII. WILMINGTON, N. C. TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1889. NO. 49.

It is said that 50,000 hungry Republicans are already clamoring for "office" and that the number is growing steadily larger day by day.

As usual, just about this season of the year, it is announced that "all fears of an ice famine next Summer have been allayed." The crop will be a plentiful one.

The finest single sapphire in this country is owned by Mrs. William Astor, and her necklace of emeralds and diamonds is among the costliest jewels in America.

A pastoral letter from Bishop Healy was read in all of the Roman Catholic churches in Maine on Sunday last. It was about marriage and divorce and the doctrine of the church in this respect was most plainly insisted upon.

The little new President is probably in Washington City at this time. He left Indianapolis yesterday. It won't be long before he will wish that he had never left it. It takes a man of nerve and endurance to fill Washington's seat and Cleveland's successor must be a mighty man to ably fill his shoes.

1873, up to the time of his death, he received $3,000 a year as Bishop of the Southern Methodist Church and $3,000 as President of the Board of Trustees of the Vanderbilt University. His charity was so varied and extensive that he saved practically nothing. His estate, including his South Carolina plantation, is valued at $15,000. His wife received all with the exception of a small bequest to his daughter, Mary Gayle.

Entertainment at the Home.

We are requested to give notice that there will be an entertainment given at St. James' Home on Thursday, Feb. 28, at 8 p. m. Price of admission ten cents. Hot coffee, ice cream, cakes, home-made candies, etc., will be served at reasonable prices. The object of this entertainment is to procure funds for finishing a useful and much needed room, which has been built entirely by the proceeds of entertainments given by the children of the school. This is the first time we have asked for outside help, and we would be glad to see our friends and thankful for any contributions to the refreshment table. We have recently been presented with a "Boston Cook Stove." One of the purposes for which this room is needed is to give cooking lessons to the children.

The Eastern Question.

The perturbed state of Southeastern Europe, boding sooner or later a great European war, will lend intense interest to Prof. Tripp's historic delineations, soon to be given in Wilmington, as one of his lectures to be delivered here embraces a thorough elucidation of the momentous Eastern question in its complicated relations, illustrated by large colored maps, painted expressly for this series. Prof. Tripp, by long study and residence abroad, has acquired a mastery of his great theme, and is able to analyze with clearness and simplicity the underlying forces that move the great powers on the chessboard of European politics. This lecture, as we understand, was especially appreciated and commended by Rev. Dr. A. B. Palmer, of New Orleans, several years ago.

Joint Meeting.

A joint meeting of the Board of Aldermen and Board of Audit and Finance was called yesterday afternoon at the City Hall to secure the endorsement of these bodies of the bill drawn up by the Legislative Committee of the Chamber of Industry, to submit to the voters of Wilmington the question of a subscription of $150,000 by the city to be used in encouraging new enterprises, etc., as heretofore published in the Review. Mayor Fowler presided at the meeting, and there were present Aldermen Ricard, Pearsall, Dudley, King, Price, Sampson, Walker, McEachern, and Mr. R. J. Jones and Mr. W. I. Gore of the Board of Audit and Finance.

Mr. Jno. D. Bellamy, Jr., President of the Chamber of Industry, explained the matter, at the request of the Mayor, and after considerable discussion the Board of Aldermen, upon Alderman Ricard's motion, unanimously approved the action of the Legislative Committee of the Chamber of Industry.

Mr. Jones, chairman of the Board of Audit and Finance, said that there was not a quorum of his board present, and it could not, therefore, take official action. He submitted, as an amendment to the bill, the following:

Provided, That all factories or manufacturing companies now located within the city of Wilmington and furnishing products for local consumption only within said city, shall be likewise entitled to the same rights and privileges as are accorded under this act to factories or manufacturing companies of like character which may be established in said city after the passage of this act.

Mr. W. A. French and Mr. Bellamy explained that the bill made it discretionary with the trustees to grant exemption for taxation, that this clause was inserted for the very purpose of protecting manufactures or companies already established, if the occasion should arise to prevent competition by non-taxpaying companies or corporations.

Alderman King seconded the amendment submitted by Mr. Jones.

Mr. W. A. French said he represented the largest industry in the city. He did not ask exemption. He was sorry the amendment was offered, and he hoped it would be withdrawn. "If the bill was amended there would not be time to get it through the General Assembly. It would have to be returned to the Chamber of Industry and submitted to the other Boards which had sanctioned it for approval.

The amendment being put to a vote was rejected.

Rock Crystal Spectacles and Eyeglasses.

Advice to old and young: In selecting spectacles you should be cautious not to take more magnifying power than has been lost to the eye as in the same proportion that you pass that point of increase, will cause you further injury to the eye. Using glasses of stronger power than is necessary is the daily cause of premature old age to the sight. You can get the best at Heinsberger's.

We have walnut, ash, oak and cherry stains in small cans, ready for use. Just the thing for housekeepers. N. Jacobi Hardware Co.

Mrs. R. F. Foley has returned to Southport from a visit to her daughter, who resides in Baltimore.

Ruth and Boaz.

A very large and fashionable audience assembled at the Opera House last night to witness the presentation of the beautiful cantata of "Ruth." It was given by the choir of St. John's Church, under the management of Mrs. W. H. McFarlane and the musical direction of Prof. Raff, and the proceeds are for the benefit of the church. The choir were assisted by some of the very best musical talent in the city and the entertainment was in every way a pleasing and delightful affair. The cast was as follows: Naomi, Mrs. J. H. Waters; Ruth, Miss M. Schwarz; Boaz, Mr. E. P. Boatwright; First Reaper, Mr. R. H. Chapman; Orpah, Miss Amoret Cameron; Israelitish Woman, Miss Jessie Kenan; Jewish Maiden, Mrs. W. Catlett; Messenger, Mr. U. M. Robinson; Assistant Reaper, Mr. A. S. Holden. The chorus consisted of fifty ladies and gentlemen.

The piece moved smoothly from beginning to end and its rendition was a delight to the audience, as was amply attested by the frequent and hearty applause. The tableaux were also very fine, especially that which closed the slumber scene in Act IV. In the last act, the Vith, Boaz spreads a feast to celebrate his marriage with Ruth and this was the most realistic part of the entire presentation, for it was indeed a veritable feast, which had been provided by the ladies of St. John's Church for the benefit of the performers. Only in this one respect did Boaz fail to come up to the standard of the character, in its modern adaptation, and that is when he failed to invite the newspaper men who were present to help him get away with that supper.
