The meeting to night in the First Presbyterian Church will be devoted to hearing reports from the different societies and organization of the church instead of the usual Bible study.

The Light Fantastic. Prof. Bellezza's dancing class will hold a soiree at Germania Hall tomorrow (Friday) night, which will undoubtedly be an attractive and pleasant affair. Prof. Bellezza has been eminently successful as a teacher of dancing in this city, and his efforts have been appreciated as is shown by the fact that his classes are now much larger than they have ever been here before.

Thanks, Gentlemen! The Germania Cornet Band favored the editor of the REVIEW with a delightful serenade at his residence, corner of Third and Mulberry streets, last night. The editor was absent from the city at the time, but there were those present who fully appreciated the delicate courtesy conveyed by the sweet strains of well selected music. We heartily thank you, gentlemen, for the pleasant treat, and regret that the absence of our chief prevents him from speaking his gratitude in more fitting terms.

The Lenten season will soon be over, and then will come the festivities of Easter.

But few people from the surrounding country are to be seen upon our streets, they being kept at home busy with the farming operations of the season.

City Court.

The following were the proceedings in the City Court this morning: Wright Matthews, drunk and down, was fined $5 for the offense.

M. Best, colored, assault and battery, $5 or 5 days.

Charles Sterling, colored, disorderly conduct, discharged.

In the cases of several men and boys, charged with gambling, the hearing was continued until further evidence could be obtained.

Careless Writing.

Here are a couple of items, cut from one day's exchanges, which show how careless men will sometimes be:

The sexton dug up a fine gentleman's gold ring in the cemetery.

Such a notice makes it very easy for that fine gentleman to obtain his ring.

Are'n't this weather too lovely for any thing but love and wooing.

Apöströpe in the first word misplaced and form plural when it should be singular. Perhaps we might answer the query by saying it am.

The Shipwrecked.

The cast away men who were blown adrift last Sunday while on board the barque Albatross bound hence to Norfolk, and who were rescued from that vessel by the steamer State of Texas, Stewart, of the Mallory line, from New York to Ferdinandina, and taken into Port Royal, S. C., have all returned to this city safe and sound and with lots of experience. Mr. C. W. Kunold, who is one of the rescued passengers, states that they were rescued about 4 p. m. on the day of the disaster by the above steamer, the wind blowing a hurricane at the time and with a fearful sea running, so that it seemed impossible for a boat to live a moment in the seething waters.

A boat, however, through the most skillful seamanship, combined with dauntless courage, was successfully launched and the imperilled crew were safely landed on the deck of the steamer, much to their joy and relief from the fear of a terrible death. While on board the barque everything possible was done to heave the vessel to the wind but all efforts were futile and she drifted completely at the mercy of the relentless waves. The rescued men were treated with the kindest consideration by the officers and crew of the State of Texas, to whom they are deeply grateful. We congratulate them and their families for a deliverance from their great peril.

A Grand Enterprise.

Capt. M. Frank, of Columbus, Miss., Col. A. E. Thornton, of Atlanta, Ga., and Mr. George L. Baker, of Selma, Ala., are in the city. Capt. Frank represents the American Cotton Oil Trust, and the party are here for the purpose of inviting bids for the construction of the necessary buildings here for one of the largest cotton seed oil mills in the South. The company have contracted for a 300 horse power Heine boiler and a 300 horse power Corliss engine and expect to put in newly invented machinery which will work up forty tons of seed per day, besides operating the machinery which now forms the oil cake. The plant, which will be located on the Grafflin property at Hilton, will be on a magnificent scale, the intention of the company being to use about 200 tons of seed per day, but the buildings will be constructed with the view of doubling that quantity. The company will soon apply for a charter of incorporation with an authorized capital of $250,000. The supply of seed will be drawn mainly from this State and that portion of South Carolina bordering on the Atlantic coast line. The mills, including the warehouse, will front 450 feet on the Wilmington, Columbia & Augusta Railroad. The property extends to Smith's Creek, upon which it has a frontage of 800 feet, so that the wharfage and railroad facilities for handling will be ample. It is intended to have the mills in operation by the 1st of September, in season for the coming crop.

A Festive Occasion.

There was an elegant gathering of youth and beauty at the residence of Mr. George W. Harper, on Greenville Sound, last night to witness the impressive marriage ceremony of his lovely daughter, Rosa Harper, with Mr. J. B. Hewlett, also of Greenville. R. E. Heide, Esq., officiated. After the marriage the assembled guests were invited to partake of a bountiful and truly appetizing repast which with characteristic North Carolina hospitality had been prepared for them, and to which all did ample justice. The bridal presents were many and very pretty and appropriate. It was a joyful occasion and the festivities were kept up until a late hour or rather, until an early hour this morning. The happy couple have the earnest wishes of a host of friends for a long, prosperous and happy life, surrounded by all the blessings it is the good fortune of mortals to enjoy.

The receipts of cotton at this port to day foot up 6 bales.

Eggs were selling at 12½ cents per dozen in our market to day.

Spirits took an advance of two cents per gallon on a change to day.

A good coat of whitewash is being applied to the trees on Fifth street and also on Market street.

School children are beginning to calculate the number of days before the Summer vacation will commence.

Early vegetables are being brought into our market quite freely and the present favorable weather is doing much to hasten them forward.

It has been quite a long time since we have had a good opera or theatrical company to entertain our people. Where are they all, and why is this thus?

Nor brig Abbie Clifford, Store, cleared to day for St. Pierre, with 259,799 feet lumber and 192,250 shingles, valued at $5,500, shipped by Mr. E. Kidder's Son.

The trees are putting on their Spring dresses in earnest. We note no particular change in style over previous years, but they look becoming and beautiful, nevertheless.

There are quite a number of places in the city where the streets and sidewalks are sadly in need of repairs, and we expect that they will be attended to as soon as possible.

The meetings at the Baptist Chapel, corner of Fifth and Wooster streets are well attended and considerable interest is being manifested. There were eight who asked for the prayers of the congregation at the meeting last night.

Travel to the Sound is perceptibly on the increase, but it will be two or three weeks before the season will fairly set in. We expect that there will be an unusual rush of visitors to all our seaside pleasure resorts during the season.

Distinguished Arrivals.

Governor Fowle, accompanied by Quartermaster General F. A. Olds, arrived in the city this morning, and soon after breakfast left for the Sound, where the permanent encampment of the N. C. State Guard is to be held. They were accompanied to the Sound by Col. T. W. Strange, of the Governor's staff, Col. J. W. Atkinson, Maj. R. M. McIntire, Messrs. E. S. Latjmer, J. H. Watters and others of this city. They had not returned when our report closed, in consequence of which we were unable to-day to give any details of what was done.

W. O. & E. C. R. R.

The surveying party of the Wilmington, Onslow & East Carolina Railroad began the location of the survey of the line this morning. They began in the Southern part of the city near Kidder street and will push the work as rapidly as possible to completion, and the construction will be commenced just as soon as a sufficient length of line is located to determine its definite course. The surveying party is composed of Mr. Robert Lamb, Chief Engineer, Mr. F. L. Pitman, locating engineer, and Mr. Walter G. McRae, constructing engineer, together with their necessary assistants. This movement seems to look as if the Wilmington, Onslow & East Carolina Railroad is an assured fact, and that its completion will be at no distant day.
