Easter Services.

The close of the penitential season and the advent of Easter was appropriately celebrated in this city yesterday, especially by the different Episcopal, and the Catholic and Lutheran churches. The attendance was large at all these places of worship, and the services were of an unusually interesting and impressive character.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH.
At St. John's, in the forenoon, the congregation was large. The church was beautifully decorated with flowers and evergreens; the former being in profusion. Dr. Carmichael preached an excellent sermon and the choir, which is composed entirely of ladies, rendered some of the most delightful music. In the afternoon there was a choral service for the children of the Sunday School, but on this occasion the attendance was not so large as is usually the case at these services on Easter Sunday. Just near the church, however, it began to rain and hundreds who desired to attend were thus deterred. Many of those who were present, however, have preferred a request that the services be repeated next Sunday. Those who were not present missed something really delightful. The children all marched in procession and singing from the Sunday School rooms to the church and up the aisle to the place assigned them, and as each class was called it advanced to the chancel where it was received by Capt. Catlett, the Superintendent. Besides its Easter offerings each class carried part of a huge butterfly, which was attached by Capt. Catlett to a chrysalis on the stage, the whole when complete, forming one beautiful whole. The music was very fine, the ladies of the choir having been assisted by Mr. W. N. Jacobs on the cornet.

ST. JAMES' EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
The advent of Easter was heralded at this church by the singing of a beautiful carol in the tower at sunrise yesterday morning, in which the charming voices of seventy five children rose like an incense offering to the newly awakening day. As their rich and sweet voices, all in perfect accord, floated out and became a part of the circumambient air and mellowed by the distance they became possessed of a weird and almost supernatural charm, rich in indescribable sweetness. Regular services were held in the morning and afternoon, besides a children's special service at 5 p. m. Large congregations were in attendance at all the services, which were especially appropriate to the occasion and were impressively interesting and instructive. The music was especially adapted to the occasion and was of a high order of merit. The floral designs, although not elaborate, were in excellent taste, reflecting much credit upon those who had charge of their arrangement. There was a peculiar chasteness in the floral groupings which was pleasantly noticeable and which left a most agreeable impression on all who had the good fortune to behold them.

ST. PAUL'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
The services at this church were of an extremely interesting character and all of them were enjoyed by unusually large congregations. The music was especially adapted to the occasion, and was rendered admirably and with true musical effect. The floral decorations were superb, and consisted in part of a cross of calla lilies on the altar, which was most beautifully arranged, and an elegant bouquet on the font surmounted by two doves, all of which were suggestively emblematical of the day and of the suffering and resurrection of our risen Lord. There were other designs of rare excellence which lack of space prevents us from mentioning. Suffice it to say that the entire decorations were chaste and attractive and elicited warm commendations from those present, many of whom were strangers in the city. It was a beautiful day, well calculated to awaken joyous devotional thought and to make the interesting services of the occasion more deeply impressive, and the congregation at St. Paul's were profited and, undoubtedly, blessed by their attendance at that sanctuary.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL EPISCOPAL CHURCH.
The services at this church were extensively varied and all deeply impressive. Our German fellow citizens, of whom the membership of the church is mainly composed, with an eye for the beautiful characteristic of that people, had most elegantly and elaborately decorated their beautiful house of worship with a profusion of flowers, both cultivated and wild, together with ferns and evergreens, so that the raptured eye, turning in any direction, was greeted with a vision of floral beauty arranged by fair and cunning hands, which was almost bewildering in its loveliness. It was a day of which floral decorations were appropriately emblematical, and our Lutheran friends had certainly made the best use of the means at their command. All the services of the day were deeply interesting, and those of the Sunday School were especially so. Much pains had been taken to have good music for the occasion and this feature of the service was crowned with complete success. The music was carefully selected, was wedded to appropriate words and through thorough preparation and practice, was well rendered by the Sunday School, by the choir and by those who took special part in the programme. The church was crowded to its utmost capacity at every service and all seemed imbued with the spirit of the joyous anniversary of which they were reminded by all the pleasant surroundings.

ST. THOMAS' PRO-CATHEDRAL.
This festival was celebrated with great solemnity. The altar was most profusely decorated with flowers and candles, and was a brilliant sight to behold. Great credit is due to those who had charge of the festooning of the sanctuary as much taste was shown in the act. First mass was celebrated at 7 a. m. by Rev. Father Moore. He spoke in an appropriate manner of the festival of the resurrection of our Lord, and congratulated the congregation on the large number of those who approached Holy Communion, stating that the number far exceeded that of any similar occasion in the past. The most elaborate part of the celebration took place at High Mass at 10:30 a. m., which was celebrated by Rev. Father Hill. The singing on this occasion was the finest ever in this church, consisting of the following:
Kyrie, Leonard; Gloria, St. Clair; Credo, St. Clair; Et incarnatus est., Raff; Et resurrexit, St. Clair; Laudate, Lambellotti; Sanctus, Fisk; Benedictus, Fisk; Agnus Dei, Fisk; Laudate Dominum, Novello. Great credit is due the members of the choir for the masterly manner in which they rendered their various parts and especially the soloists, Mrs. Watters and Miss Allen, soprano, Mrs. Donlon, alto, Mr. Reily, tenor and Messrs. Grant and Higgins, basses. A great feature of the singing was the solos rendered by Mrs. Watters. This estimable lady has a most pleasing voice, pure and clear in the upper notes and equally firm and full in the lower ones. At 7:30 p. m. vespers and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament took place. These services were held with the same solemnity as those of the morning. Too much praise can not be given to Prof. Raff, the brilliant and efficient organist and director of the choir of St. Thomas, who spared neither time nor energy in perfecting the singers in their various parts.
