THE INVALIDS' HOPE. Many seemingly incurable cases of blood poison, catarrh, scrofula and rheumatism have been cured by B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm), made by the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga. Write to them for book filled with convincing proof. G. W. B. Balder, living 7 miles from Athens, Ga., writes: "For several years I suffered with running ulcers, which doctors treated and pronounced incurable. A single bottle of B. B. B. did me more good than all the doctors I kept on using it and every ulcer healed." D. C. Kinard & Son, Towaliga, Ga., writes: "We induced a neighbor to try B. B. B. for catarrh, which he thought incurable, as it had resisted all treatment. It healed him, and continuing its use he was cured of scrofula." E. M. Lawson, East Point, Ga., writes: "My wife had scrofula 15 years. She kept growing worse. She lost her hair and her skin broke out fearfully. Debility, emaciation and no appetite followed. After physicians and numerous advertised medicines failed, I tried B. B. B., and her recovery was rapid and complete." Oliver Secor, Baltimore, Md., writes: "I suffered from weak back and rheumatism. B. B. B. has proven to be the only medicine that gave me relief."

There is an irresistible holiday feeling in the atmosphere to-day and as a consequence we have rushed this issue to press at an early hour so as to give our printers a half holiday, in the afternoon.

Many of the jurors summoned to attend the Federal Court have been in town for two days. When they got here they found for the first time that the court would not convene until to-morrow morning.

The Saturday tencent rate for children on the Seacoast railroad has been abandoned; but a special rate of 25 cents for all will be in effect on Saturdays. The regular rate of 50 cents will be charged on Sundays.

There will be a very pleasant patriotic exhibition to-night at the City Hall, for the benefit of the Brooklyn Baptist Church. At its close refreshments will be served. The admission will be placed at 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Death of Mr. Greer. We regret very much to announce the death of Mr. David J. Greer, an old and highly esteemed resident of this city. He died at his residence, on Seventh street, between Princess and Chestnut, at 10:45 o'clock last night, in the 74th year of his age. He had been sick for some time and his death was not unexpected. The interment takes place this afternoon.

J. ELSBACH, Prop'r.

A Complete Holiday.

Every thing but the newspaper offices and the drug stores seem to have been closed to-day. It has been made a general holiday and as a consequence there is but little in the way of news to be had. The streets look as they do on Sunday only a little more so. The Seacoast road ran extra trains and they have been crowded. The earth has been depleted of worms and the little fishes have been treated to an unusually fine feed. All public buildings have been closed.

Very Good. On the front of Mr. Sol. Bear's dry goods and clothing house, which was closed to-day, appeared a card bearing the following excellent and patriotic sentiment:

As neither my employes nor myself will be here to celebrate the next Centennial of the Inauguration of George Washington, the Father of His Country and the First President of the United States, he who gave religious freedom to all mankind, this store will be closed for religious purposes until Wednesday morning. God has blessed this country for One Hundred Years and may He bless it for many hundred years more.

Personal. Mr. W. J. Penny left last night for a visit to the Northern markets. Capt. R. M. McIntire is in New York, taking in the Centennial and purchasing more new goods. Mr. John E. Tarrentine has returned from an extensive business trip to Northern and Western cities. Dr. R. H. Lewis, of Raleigh, is here on a professional visit. We are sorry to learn that Mr. A. F. Lucas was taken quite sick last night and is confined to his room to-day.

A Reward of $500 is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of catarrh which they cannot cure. The mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties of this remedy are irresistible. 50 cents, by druggists.

The Bells and the Churches. All of the church bells pealed out their centennial echoes at 9 o'clock this morning, at which hour services were held. The attendance was large in all and the services were very interesting and appropriate and in special reference to the day and the occasion. In St. James', where the Episcopal congregations united in the service, they were unique as well as interesting. The same service was used there, as nearly as possible, as that which was used by Bishop Provost in St. Paul's Church, New York, one hundred years ago, on which occasion Gen. Washington and his cabinet were all present. Rev. Mr. Arnold, of St. Paul's, preached an excellent sermon. The Parish of St. James is itself about 150 years old, that is, as the immediate successor of St. Philip's Parish, and recently celebrated its individual semi-centennial.

The Magazine. The May number of the Magazine of American History brings an entertaining chapter of Centennial information, "Washington's Historic Luncheon in Elizabeth," with pictorial attractions, including a sketch of the Boudinot mansion, portraits of some of Washington's contemporaries, with engravings of the china table service and silverware that was placed before the "Father of His Country" on that occasion. These will be regarded with interest now, as the same service is to be placed before President Harrison at the luncheon given in his honor the day of his arrival in New York City, April 29, 1889. "Oak Hill, the Home of President Monroe," is from the pen of the editor. "Indiana's First Settlement," by the Hon. E. A. Bryan, is an able pen picture of the state of Indiana. Then follow "The Harrisons in History," by Mrs. Ella B. Washington, "The Historic Quadrille," by Gen. John Cochrane, "Reminiscences of Mrs. Bradford," the daughter of Hon. Elias Boudinot, by J. J. Boudinot; "Slavery in Connecticut," by Charles M. Andrews; and "Louisburg, 1745, Bunker Hill, 1775," by Natham M. Hawkes. As usual, it is a specimen of typographical beauty. Price, $5 a year. Published 743 Broadway, New York City.

The Wilmington Light Infantry in full uniform, attended the services at St. James' Church this morning.

Belford's Magazine.

The May number of Belford's Magazine contains its customary varied assortment of interesting reading. The opening article, "A Familiar Mystery," deals with a theory of dreams, and with occultism. Preston Connelly deals with the negro question in the South and James A. Macknight, an ex-consul, gives an account of the abuses of the American Consul service, and suggests a remedy. The complete novel, "The Tribulations of one Ebenezer Meeker," by Elizabeth Cummings, in a very clever and realistic dialect story, in which love, religion, Christian science and faith cure, crime and remorse are very happily intermingled. There are, besides, three excellent short stories: "Doctor Merivale," "Jen," and "An Episode of 'Sixty-four.'" J. W. Watson contributes a readable sketch about "Pirates on Broadway." The poetry includes some vigorous lines on "International Copyright," also "The Troubadour," a graceful bit of society verse. The pressing negro question is also dealt with in the editorial department by Donn Piatt, who furthermore discusses, in his usual brilliant style, on "The Condition of Parties," "More of Our Diplomacy," and "The Kingdom of Satan." The customary book reviews and dramatic and musical notes complete an excellent number.

Mr. Wm. Otersen will, after to-day, (30th), discontinue the sale of spirituous liquors and will devote his entire time exclusively to the sale of groceries, tobacco, cigars, etc., and will pay special attention to ladies and children. See ad. in this issue.

A Reward of $500 is offered by the manufacturers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, for a case of catarrh which they cannot cure. The mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties of this remedy are irresistible. 50 cents, by druggists.

A Card. THE NATIONAL LIFE AND MATURITY ASSOCIATION, WASHINGTON, D. C. GENTLEMEN:—I have to acknowledge the receipt of five thousand dollars ($5,000) in full payment of the two policies of life insurance held in your company by my late husband, James F. Shober, M. D., of this city. Dr. Shober had been insured with you at the time of his death less than two years and the prompt payment of this sum by your company shows the value of life insurance and the fact that even those who seem at the time to be in the best of health may be the first ones whose claims will be made against a company. Accept my thanks for the prompt payment thus made, proving the stability and soundness of your company and its readiness and ability to meet every claim against it in full when due.
Very respectfully yours,
ANNIE M. SHOBER.
