Convincing Proof. In many instances it has been proven that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm), made by the Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga., will cure blood poison in its worst phases, even when all other treatments fail. A. P. Brunson, Atlanta, Ga., writes: "I had a running ulcer on one leg and on the other and felt greatly prostrated. I believe I actually swallowed a barrel of medicine in vain efforts to cure the disease. With little hope I finally acted on the urgent advice of a friend and got a bottle of B. B. B. I experienced a change, and my despondency was somewhat dispelled. I kept using it until I had taken sixteen bottles, and all the ulcers, rheumatism and all other horrors of blood poison have disappeared and at last I am sound and well again, after an experience of twenty years of torture." Root, Ward, Maxey, Ga., writes: "My disease was pronounced a tertiary form of blood poison. My face, head and shoulders were a mass of corruption, and finally the disease began eating my skull bones. My bones ached; my kidneys were deranged; I lost flesh and strength, and life became a burden. All said I must surely die, but nevertheless, when I had used ten bottles of B. B. B. I was pronounced well. Hundreds of scars can now be seen on me. I have now been well over twelve months."

Major T. D. Love advertises in this issue that he has accepted the agency of the Fayetteville Woodenware Co., of Fayetteville, and that he has samples of the articles turned out by the company at his office, No. 203 North Water street. This is a North Carolina industry and we recommend it to the favorable consideration of our people.

Brief But Touching.
The Charlotte News, in speaking of the death of Capt. Jarius D. Gardner, pays the following brief but touching tribute to his memory:

Capt. Gardner was one of the cleverest men we ever knew. There was no malice in him, and his charity was proverbial. He was one of Mr. Pearson's converts in Wilmington, and we trust that it is well with him.

Family Excursion.
The Germania Cornet Band will give one of their popular excursions on Thursday, the 13th, to Carolina Beach on the steamer Sylvan Grove. The Wilmington string band will furnish music for dancing and the Germania Band will give a musical concert at the Beach at 3:30 o'clock. All who may attend are guaranteed a good time.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

This newly erected temple of worship, on the corner of Fourth and Campbell streets, was dedicated to God with appropriate, solemn and impressive services yesterday, which were witnessed and participated in by a congregation, so large as to fill every available space in the auditorium, besides which many failed to gain an entrance in consequence of the throng.

The building thus dedicated to God's service is one of the most beautiful, commodious and attractive houses of worship in the city; but its structure and internal and external arrangements have so often been described heretofore, that a repetition does not become necessary at this time. Suffice it to say that those who have had charge of the construction have been watchful, faithful and zealous in their efforts to secure every possible desirable convenience for the comfort and accommodation of both pastor and people. The matters of light and ventilation have been carefully attended to, while the seats are arranged in a semi circular form, thus converging the line of sight directly upon the pulpit and its occupants. The building committee was composed of Messrs. W. H. Sprunt, chairman; Thomas F. Bagley, treasurer; George L. Morton secretary; Oscar Pearsall, Dr. A. D. McDonald, Jerre Hand, R. S. Love, J. W. Monroe, R. H. Chasten, J. C. Stewart, W. Smallbones, W. J. Smith, S. P. McNair and Rev. J. W. Primrose, all of whom rendered good and efficient and indispensable service, but it remains to be said that, from first to last, Mr. Thomas F. Bagley gave unremitting attention to the supervision of the work. The architect was Mr. A. G. Bauer, under whose immediate supervision and direction the edifice was begun and completed.

The services were commenced yesterday morning by a short voluntary on the organ, taken from Haydn's orations of "The Creation," Miss Annie Sprunt being the organist. This was followed by a short anthem by the choir, the vocalists being Mrs. M. Fletcher Manning and Miss Minnie Schwarz, sopranos; Mrs. F. H. Muse and Miss Belle Wood, altos; Messrs. C. H. Robinson and J. D. Smith, tenors, and M. F. Manning and C. T. Bowden, basses. Next came prayer by the pastor, Rev. J. W. Primrose, the congregation standing, and at the conclusion of the prayer, joining in singing the doxology.

The pastor then read a brief historical sketch of the church from the time of its formation in November, 1858, with 14 members, to the present time when it has 226 communicants. From the time of organization in 1858 until the commencement of Rev. Dr. Payne's ministry in 1874—a period of nearly 16 years—the total number of accessions to the church was 43, of whom, in addition to the three already named, four others are with it now, viz: Mrs. Joseph O. Bowden, Mrs. Julia Fillyaw and Mrs. Louisa M. Howell, who united with the church in March, 1859, and Mrs. A. Alderman, who became a member in 1861. Their first church building was on Chestnut street, between Seventh and Eighth, and their pulpit was first supplied by Rev. Martin McQueen, who served from January, 1859, until December, 1863, when he took service as chaplain in the Confederate States Army. In 1863 the total membership was 35. From the retirement of Rev. Mr. McQueen, in 1863, until November, 1870—a period of about seven years—the church had no stated minister. The Chestnut street church was sold in February, 1867, and the congregation worshipped with the First Church. From November, 1870, to November, 1873, the congregation worshipped in Brooklyn Hall, and the pulpit was supplied nearly all that time by Rev. H. B. Burr, under whose ministrations the church greatly prospered. In 1874 the brick church on Campbell street, immediately in rear of the present house of worship, was built. Rev. H. B. Burr having resigned, the church had no stated minister until June, 1874, when Rev. C. M. Payne, M. D., became the pastor. He remained pastor ten years, during which time many additions were made to the church membership. In April, 1884, Mr. Alex. Sprunt, one of the founders of the church, entered into rest. He had survived the period of the greatest depression in the history of the church, and witnessed the success of his constancy and untiring devotion. A tablet to his memory was erected by the congregation in the old church, and a memorial window, erected by his family in the present new edifice, will prove a continual reminder of that Christian heroism which expends labor where labor most is needed—following the example of Him who came, not to be ministered unto, but to minister unto others.

In December, 1884, Rev. J. W. Primrose, the present pastor, began his labors with the church and his ministrations have resulted in great good.

In June, 1888, a proposition to enlarge the old church was started, which resulted in the erection of the present house of worship, the first ground for which was broken October 1st, 1888. Previous to this, however, the name had been changed from "Second Presbyterian" to "St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church." The corner stone was laid with Masonic honors October 16th, 1888. Mr. William H. Sprunt has been superintendent of the Sunday School during the years of the present pastorate, keeping pace with all the best methods of instruction, so that it is now in a flourishing condition.

And now, with these facts before us, dedicating to God by His worship, a building which twelve months ago no one foresaw, and waiting to hear the preached gospel for the first time spoken within these walls, and that by a son and namesake of the original members, who planted and tended the diminutive germ of this church in prayer and faith and patience, we do praise God and take courage.

Rev. W. McC. Miller then read the well known hymn, "All hail the power of Jesus' name," which was sung to "Coronation," by the choir and congregation.

Rev. Alexander Sprunt, of Henderson, but a native of this city and son of our late esteemed townsman Mr. Alexander Sprunt, then read the Scripture lesson, which was comprised in portion of the 100th and 88th Psalms and part of the third epistle of John's Gospel. Next followed a prayer by Rev. P. H. Hoge, of the First Presbyterian Church, then the reading of a hymn by Rev. Edward P. Lane, of Campinas, Brazil, and the singing of the same by the choir. The latter also followed the hymn with an offertory which was an elegantly appropriate selection and which was sung in most excellent taste and musically skill.

Rev. Alexander Sprunt, who had been selected to preach the dedicatory sermon, then began by taking for his text the fiftieth verse of the sixth Chapter of Paul's Epistle to the Ephesians: "And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace."

Rev. Mr. Sprunt, although not looking like one who possesses great physical powers, seems to be a bundle of nervous force. He has a full clear voice with distinct enunciation and speaks rapidly, so that it would take an expert stenographer to keep up with his rapid flowing thoughts. His gestures, of which he uses many, were graceful and strictly appropriate. He spoke just 35 minutes, during which time he said nearly twice as much as ordinary speakers would say in the same time. The idea conveyed in his sermon that all Christians were engaged in a warfare against the powers of darkness, and no soldier of the cross was fitted for the fight unless he was completely clad. He might be fully prepared in all other respects, but lacking to be "shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace," he was as much unfitted for the fray as if he had put on none of his armor. It was a forceful, logical effort, and we regret that we can give no more than the foregoing brief outline.

Then followed a prayer by Rev. Edward Lane, a hymn read by Rev. Alexander Sprunt, the services concluding with the benediction pronounced by the latter gentleman.

Enamoline, the best stove polish in the market. No dust, no mixing necessary. Use like shoe blacking. Every housekeeper should try it. For sale by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. 1
