The thermometer in this office registered 92 degrees at 12 o'clock today.

Firewood is very scarce here now. On Saturday there was very little left in the hands of dealers.

Lawn rakes of the latest and most improved patent. For sale by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

There is economy in building barb wire fences and in buying your wire from the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

We can make you comfortable for $1.00 by supplying you with the Ironclad Oil Stove. N. Jacobi Hdw Co.

That was a fine rain we had this morning but it left an immense amount of humidity in the atmosphere.

Painters, save money by buying your white lead, ready mixed paints, varnishes and brushes from the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. They sell none but the best.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself and superior to all other preparations in strength, economy and medicinal merit.

Enamoline, the best stove polish in the market. No dust, no mixing necessary. Use like shoe blacking. Every housekeeper should try it. For sale by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. †

Charlotte News: Mr. Ed. Stitt is now located in Wilmington as agent there for the Armour Packing Company, and is doing a big business. The Wilmington people will find Ed. a capital fellow and a good business man.

We would advise our readers to stop at the Wilmington Shirt Factory and look at the largest stock and the most handsome styles of lawn tennis shirts in the city and at prices to suit everybody. No. 123 Market street. Sign of the blue awning.

The engine of the Ocean View R. R. ran up to town and carried down a box car in which were the cars for use on the Switchback R. R. and soon the report got out at Wrightsville that it was a guard house sent down by the authorities in which to confine unruly excursionists.

Mr. Scott Stanford of this office, who has just returned from a trip to Charlotte, says that the crop outlook all along the line is simply magnificent. He has never seen a promise of better crops at this season of the year. The season has been very propitious and the farmers are beginning to feel better.

Tourists,
Whether on pleasure bent or business should take on every trip a bottle of Syrup of Figs, as it acts most pleasantly and effectually on the kidneys, liver and bowels, preventing fevers, headaches and other forms of sickness. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

The work of grading for the W. O. & E. C. R. R. is progressing rapidly. A large force of hands is now engaged in building trestles over the streams near the city, the largest of which is across the head of Green's mill pond, near the old Mosquito Hall place.

The Burden of Womanhood.
Thousands of women are silently suffering untold misery, simply because they shrink from consulting a physician in those numerous complaints arising from functional irregularities and disorders. Many a modest girl and woman prefers to bear her heavy burden in silence rather than to go to the family physician for advice. All sufferers from this class of disorders can, however, find prompt and sure relief in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a specific in such cases, and has brightened the lives of countless women by restoring them to perfect health.

Refreshing and Invigorating
Delicious Soda Water as drawn from Munds Brothers' magnificent new soda fountain at a temperature of 34°. Purest Fruit Syrup, Milk Shakes and Natural Mineral Water.

A Sketch of the Early History of Places and Settlers on the Northeast Branch of the Cape Fear River.

Between the Holly Shelter pocusin and the Northeast river, in Pender county, stands Lillington Hall, once the residence of General John Alexander Lillington, one of the heroes of Moore's Creek. Col. Lillington was the son of Col. George Lillington, an officer in the British army, who resided upon the Island of Barbadoes. Col. Lillington was made a brigadier general soon after the battle of Moore's Creek. His remains repose in the Lillington Cemetery, near his residence. A marble slab over his grave bears the following inscription:

"Sacred to the memory of General John Alexander Lillington, a soldier of the Revolution. He commanded the Americans in the battle of Moore's Creek, fought the 27th day of February, 1776, and by his military skill and cool courage in the field at the head of his troops secured a complete and decisive victory. To intellectual powers of a high order he united an incorruptible integrity, devoted and self-sacrificing patriotism. A genuine lover of liberty, he periled his all to secure the independence of his country and died in a good old age, bequeathing to posterity his many virtues."

The Lillington Hall land was patented May 6th, 1790, the grant reserving the rents, duties and one half of all gold and silver mines. The grant was headed: "George the Second, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, &c." and was signed "Gabriel Johnston, Captain General and Governor-in-Chief." The corner stone of the hall was laid in 1765. The war came on before it was finished and some of the rooms were never completed. There is now a fine magnolia grove in the yard; some of the trees are more than a century old. An engraving of the hall can be seen in Lossing's History, engraved from a drawing made in 1851 by the late Mr. Charles E. Burr, of this city.

The late Samuel Black, Esq., commenced marling this farm in 1833. Edmund Ruffin was at that time marling his farms in Virginia. In 1848 he had marled all the Lillington Hall farm, containing 600 acres. Some of the fields marled 55 years ago yield now as large crops as at that time, although no manure has been applied since they were marled. The land has been in cultivation every alternate year, showing the permanent benefit land receives from marling. In December, 1851, this large tract of land was purchased by Daniel Shaw, Esq., who is its present proprietor and occupant.

On the opposite side of the river is "Ashe's Neck." In November, 1839, the late David McIntire purchased this farm from Levin Lane, Esq., the father of Dr. W. W. Lane, of this city. It was on this farm that the late Judge Ashe, of Anson county, passed his boyhood days. In an oak grove near the river is the "Ashe's family graveyard." Here is the grave of that true friend of the South, Wm. S. Ashe. He was the father of Capt. S. A. Ashe, postmaster at Raleigh. His friends remember his sad death while President of the W. & W. Railroad. This place is also the property of Daniel Shaw, Esq.

Further down the river is "Moseley Hall." All of the residences mentioned in this sketch were built with brick; some of the brick and tile were imported from England. The next place was that fine plantation owned by the late John Walker, Esq., known as Greenfields. Moore, fields comes next. All these plantations had large numbers of slaves on them. Rice, indigo and naval stores were their money crops.

Further down the river was the Vats plantation, now known as "Excelsior" the property of the Messrs. French Brothers. On this plantation they manufacture phosphate lime, raw N. C. phosphate, building lime, agricultural lime and marl. Their goods are shipped to all parts of this State and as far South as Alabama and North to New York. Their sales the present season were larger than ever before.

The next historic ground is Hynneham. The Wilmington and Weldon Railroad runs near this place. It was built in 1790 by Maj. Hynne. It was afterwards owned by Thomas Hill. Near the railroad bridge is the Oaks, built by Col. Samuel Swann. On the top of the brick mansion was a fish pond. The front door was of solid mahogany, with a large brass knocker. Col. Swann was killed in a duel in the rear of St. James' Church in Wilmington. The legislature pardoned his slayer.

The proprietors of these plantations were a host of noble worthies. The Ashes, Lillingtons, Moseleys, Moores, Swanns and Hynes were all rich and their hospitality had no limit. The society was refined and elegant and they all lived in great luxury. Does the present generation, with "all the modern improvements," enjoy as much real happiness?

Leaves a Wife and Eight Children.

Mr. C. A. McCraw, who accompanied the remains of Mr. W. A. Corley, who died in this city last Thursday from injuries received by a fall while at work on the new cotton seed oil factory building, to Columbia, returned to the city Saturday. He reports that Mr. Corley leaves a wife and eight small children, who are in distressing circumstances, as Mr. Corley had not been able to do any work for some time before he came to our city. While at work on the State building in Columbia he fell from a scaffold, sustaining injuries which disabled him and from which he had not fully recovered when he arrived here, a severe wound on his head not having healed. Mr. McCraw also states that the fall which proved fatal was the fourth accident of a similar nature that has happened to Mr. Corley.

Acting under the friendly feeling that generally prevails among workmen for a less fortunate fellow craftsman, the men at work on the building, one and all, contributed liberally of their wages Saturday and a neat sum was realized, which was forwarded to Mrs. Corley, at Columbia, Saturday night.

The Crop Bulletin.

The Weekly Bulletin issued by the North Carolina Experiment Station and State Weather Service, cooperating with the United States Signal Service, reports as follows for the week ending Friday, June 14th:

The rainfall, temperature and sunshine have been about normal. Although excessive rains are reported from a few localities, doing some injury to crops on low lands, yet the rains as a rule, have been seasonable and well distributed. The effect upon the crops has been generally favorable. Cotton, which has been previously reported as backward, has improved somewhat and may yet yield an average crop. Much of it that was replanted has come up, and with an average season the yield will probably be good. The outlook for tobacco is very favorable. The wheat harvest shows generally an abundant yield. Oats will probably be short. An abundance of fruit is reported.

The normal weekly rainfall for this State for the month of June, as determined from observations taken at Signal Service Stations in this State and at stations in the adjoining States of Virginia and Tennessee, embracing a period of from 4 to 13 years, is about 1.35 inches.

Eastern District. The rainfall in the northern portion of this district was probably slightly in excess of the average, but in the entire district there was about an average amount. The temperature was about normal and the sunshine a little below the average. Cotton, corn and peanuts are reported as improving.

Central District. The reports indicate that there has been a great improvement in cotton in this district. The weather has been very favorable to tobacco and to the harvesting of wheat, which is reported as being very fine. Oats have not done so well. The rainfall, temperature and sunshine were about the average.

Western District. There was probably been a greater improvement in the condition of all crops in this district than in any other. Cotton, corn and all other crops have made wonderful improvement during the past week. Wheat, which is being harvested, is turning out well. Crops generally are growing rapidly. The rains have been generally seasonable. A large yield of fruit is promised. Tobacco doing well.

The thermometer in this office fell 7 degrees in two hours to day and that in the middle of the day. At 1:30 it was 91 and at 3:30 it was 84. The wind got around to the North and caused the change.

SHE IS GRATEFUL.
"I saved the life of my little girl by a prompt use of Dr. Acker's English Remedy for Consumption."—Mrs. WM. V. HARRIMAN, New York. Munns Bros., druggists

NORTH FRONT STREET.

Mrs. N. Jacobi has returned to the city from New York, after a visit of several weeks.

For fishing lines, leads, bobs, poles and hooks of all kinds go to the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. †

Forecasts.
For North Carolina, rains on the coast, showers in the interior and stationary temperature.

Haupten Sidney College, Va., has conferred the title of Doctor of Divinity upon Rev. Peyton H. Hogepastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city.

Don't forget the picnic to be given to-morrow at Carolina Beach by the Baptist Sunday School. It promises to be a very enjoyable affair. The Grove will make the usual two trips, at 9:30 a. m. and 2:30 p. m.

A jeweled clover-leaf scarf pin was lost yesterday by a lady somewhere between St. James' Church and Orange street, on Third, or on Orange, between Third and Front. The finder will be rewarded if he will leave it at Mr. Jas. C. Munds' drug store.

Utilizing the Blockade Runner.
The new bath houses erected by the Ocean View Railroad on Wrightsville Beach are directly in front of the old wreck of the blockade runner which lies several hundred feet from the shore. Life lines will be stretched from this wreck to the shore and cross lines will be run between these. A windlass will be erected on the beach and the lines can thus be tautened and slackened as the requirements may be.

Early Days on the Cape Fear.
We publish elsewhere a series of brief sketches of noted places on the Cape Fear river, near this city. It is greatly interesting. It was compiled for us by a valued friend, who knows all of these places, the legends and the traditions attached to them, by heart. We have heard some of these latter and if the spirit ever moves him to such a deed our friend would confer a great benefit upon the people of this section by giving them publicity.

The Switchback.
We all ought to be happy now. The Switchback R. R. is up and at work on Wrightsville Beach, on the premises of the Ocean View R. R. Those who have never ridden on one of these railways have an enviable sensation in store for them. At first sight it looks like the maddest wildest freak to be dashed down and up at an angle of 30 degrees and whirled hither and yon, just for the sake of a sensation, but there is really no danger in it. It is a novelty which is ever new.

City Court.

There was quite a large docket for the Mayor's consideration this morning.

Alex. Richardson, Carrie Forster and Mary J. Lawrence were all bound over to the next term of the Criminal Court in the sum of $50 each, justified bond, for engaging in an affray in Paddy's Hollow on Friday evening.

Alice Sampson, colored, disorderly conduct, not guilty.

Robt. Jackson, colored, disorderly conduct, was fined $5 and the costs, in all $7.75.

Randall Mayo, colored, disorderly conduct, fined $5 and costs, in all $7.75.

Louis Jackson and Richard Washington were also up on the charge of disorderly conduct but their cases were continued until Wednesday morning, on account of the absence of a witness.

PLEASE NOTICE.
We will be glad to receive communications from our friends on any and all subjects general interest, but
The name of the writer must always be furnished to the Editor.
Communications must be written on but one side of the paper.
Personalities must be avoided.
And it is especially and particularly understood that the Editor does not always endorse the views of correspondents unless so stated in the editorial columns.

Messrs. VanAmringe & Co. auctioneers, will to-morrow close out the balance of the stock of tobacco, cigars, snuff, etc., in the store corner of Front and Princess streets. It will be sold in job lots.

For Diocesan Missions.

There were very interesting joint services held last night in St. John's Church, the congregations of the three white Episcopal churches in this city all participating. The music was rendered by the surpliced choir of St. James' Church and it was very fine. The services were largely choral. Addresses were made in the order named by Rev. Mr. Strange, the Bishop and Rev. Dr. Carmichael. Earnest appeals were made for funds for Diocesan Missions and a collection for this purpose was taken up. The congregation was very large.
