The Biggest Yet.

We saw this morning, at Mr. J. Elsbach's shirt factory, on Market street, the champion shirt, as to der for a citizen of Sampson county. whose name Mr. Elsbach would not divulge. It measures 22 inches around the neck and 68 inches around the widest part of the tawe mean the skirt. A lot of collars were made to go with it and these also measure 22 inches. We might fairly call that the "king shirt."

A Real Chost Story.

There is considerable excitement in a certain neighborhood in this city over the recent appearance of what those who have seen it call a ghost. Not long ago a lady had oc casion to go into her back yard after nightfall. When she got on the back piazza she observed what appeared to be a female attired in white. She was startled and called her husband, when the apparation disappeared over the fence into the next yard. Nothing of importance was attached to this until the next morning when the same object was seen by the wife of a gentleman who has to go to his business at 5 o'clock. She had gone into the kitchen to prepare breakfast when she saw what appeared to be an old woman, dressed in white, wandering around in the next yard, Her husband saw it also, but when he hailed it, it disappeared. We await further developments.

Death of Mrs. Geo. C. Kelley.

We greatly regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Kelley, wife of our former fellow, townsman, Mr. Geo. C. Kelley, for many years past a resident of Birmingham, Ala. She had been sick for some time but no uneasiness was felt and the family here had no apprehensions until yesterday forenoon, when Mr. J. D. Kelley received a telegram saying that she was not expected to live Mr. Kelley's mother, Mrs. Geo. H. Kelley, had only recently returned from a visit to Birmingham, where she left her daughter-in-law sick but had not thought that she was seriously ill, and yestorday afternoon she left on 2:20 train on the C. C. IR. R. for Birmingham, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Addie. At 5 o'clock another telegram was received, conveying the sad intelligence of the probably to morrow.

Mrs. Kelley was Miss Icy Bates. She was a native of Wetumpka Ala., but resided here for a short Capt. W. B. Summersettt, Road time previous to her marriage. She leaves two children, both beys. sustained.

A Ruined Watermelon Crop.

Good watermelons are very starce. The rains have played havoc with the crops hereabouts. Mr. J. W. Westbrook, of Harrison Creek, Pen der county, who was here yesterday, told us that his two acre crep and 65 whites. Fifty nine persons of watermelons had been entirely ruined. Mr. Westbrook brought badges for their dogs. Eleven places into market last year some of the finest melons we ever saw. Similar complaints have reached us from other sections in regard to the watermelon crop.

Fresh Meat in Profusion. Five cows were killed on the Seacoast R. R. last night, about four miles from town. They must have been lying on the track. Another was killed this morning. In this latter instance a gentleman who witnessed it told us that the cow was standing by the side of the track, having been frightened off by the whistle, she jumped on the track again and tried to cross, when she was caught by the pilot and tossed into the that a railroad cannot be held liable for cattle killed on the track at night by a train. A Fruitful Topic.

theme for discussion. The New York Herald seems to have reduced the thing down to a science. It not only tells us what sort of weather Capt. Jos. Price, Harbor Master, we are to have to day or to morrow reports the following arrivals at but sometimes dips into next week this port during the month of July; and even next month. It reports that a very high air pressure, now exists over the Central Atlantic ocean, being stationary there, and it suggests that that phenomenon prevents the passage eastward of the storms of low barometer from the Rockies, forcing them to the northward, by which the humid atmosphere of the Gulf and South Atlantic is drawn up over the continent, furnishing the moisture for the excessive rains that have visited us. This condition of things the Herald suggests may continue until the middle of this month.

Fay's Automatic Fan Attachment. This grand invention for keeping ool, and the flies off at the same time, is just being introduced, and will have an enormous sale during the hot months.
