Better Fare and Better Attendance.
We have heard some very nice compliments paid the present management of the Island Beach Hotel. A gentleman who interviewed a number of guests there now, at the pavilion on Thursday night, says that they one and all spoke in very high terms of the conduct of the house. They say that there has been a great improvement in the fare and the attendance since Mr. Platt left and that any one who can find fault with the management must be hard to please. There are a large number of guests there now and the number is being constantly augmented.
