Inherited Blood Poison.

How many people there are whose distress from sores, aches, pains and eruptive tendencies are due to inherited blood poison. Bad blood passes from parent to child, and it is therefore is the duty of husband and wife to keep their blood pure. This is easily accomplished by a timely use of B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm). Send to Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, for book of most convincing proof.

James Hill, Atlanta, Ga, writes: "My two sons were afflicted with blood poison, which doctors said was hereditary. They both broke out in sores and eruptions which B. B. B. promptly controlled and finally cured com-

Some of the Wilmingtonians in Fayetteville had a sleepless time. One young man told us that he didn't get a wink of sleep on Wednesday. There were twelve in all in one room at the hotel and one of these was picking a banjo all night long. They should have picked that soda fountain at a temperature of banjo-player up and put his head 34°. Purest Fruit Syrup, Milk Shakes land, says: out of a window to cool him off.

Pockets Picked in Fayetteville.

Pickpockets broke loose in the crowd yesterday and some of the Wilmingtonians were sufferers. One gentleman lost $8 and his railroad ticket, another lost $65 and still another $150. One of our German friends lost an elegant new overcoat, for which he had recently paid $22. In picking the pockets the thieves in several instances cut through the coat and got the pocket book in this way. At last accounts no arrests had been made.

A Freak of Lightning.

Last Thursday, at Scott's Hill during the prevalence of a thunder storm, a two-story house standing near the track of the W., O. & E. C R. R., on the plantation of Mr. R. K Bryan, was struck by lightning, the bolt passing down the chimney on the outside of the house until near the ground when it entered the dwelling through two windows, tearing their shutters from the hinges, splitting their facings, cir Heating Stoves of all kinds and cling round the fire-place, ripping sizes. The Centennial.

Fayetteville has had a big time of it in the celebration of the Centennial of the adoption by the State of the Federal Constitution. It was a big thing and no mistake. Yesters day was to have been the big day and we were present then. The day was a failure, however, to a large extent, because of the rain. It began before day and continued stead. ily until nearly noon. The exercises were of course postponed, but at 2 We have freely made up our o'clock they were resumed. Senator Ransom came in on Wednesday Gen. Robert Ransom, who was at one time a resident of this city, and some others, and Senator Vance arrived yesterday. Gov. Fowle was on the ground on Wednesday and was of course handsomely received. At 11 o'clock Col. Roger Moore, Sarsaparilla neutralizes, and thus tor Ransom would speak at a grand stand erected in front of the Market House at 2 o'clock. There was no procession, other than that of the marshals and military. Chief Marshal Carr was in charge of the proceedings, which he opened on the grand stand in a graceful and beautiful speech. Mayor Ray, of Fayetteville, followed next and warmly welcomed all to the hospitalities of the city. Mayor Ray also introduced Gov. Fowle, who made The policemen sent from this city an eloquent address and presented regiments. The Governor then presented that distinguished Senator Gen. Matt W. Ransom, and for two hours and a half that gentleman held the vast audience spellbound with his matchless eloquence It has been called, and justly, the greatest effort of his life and that is as faithful an encomium on it as can > be passed. Letters were read from ex-President Jefferson Davis, expressing his great regret at not having been able to be present, and also from ex-President Grover Cleveland and President Harrison, Senator Vance was present on the stand and was heartily cheered. He was to have spoken to-day.

At 12 o'clock the committee met and decided, notwithstanding the unpromising aspect of the weather, to have the fireworks last night. They were let off at the Fair Grounds and it was the grandest pyrotechnic display ever seen in North Carolina.

At noon yesterday Marshal H. A: Latham, of Pitt county, in behal of all the marshals of the Centennial, made a handsome testimonia to Chief Marshal Carr in a graceful speech, which the latter accepted as gracefully.

The Centennial Ball took place on Wednesday night in the immense tabernacle and it was thronged with people. Gov. Fowle was present with his brass bound staff. The dancing did not begin until 11 o'clock. Previous to this the Marine Band, which graced the occasion through Senator Ransom's personal efforts, gave a grand concert. This we cannot describe, or even attempt to describe. We can only say that it was the grandest thing we ever heard. We hardly knew what music was until we heard that band.

The clowd on the streets has been variously estimated all of the way from 15,000 to 30,000 people. At the outside we do not think that there were more 20,000. But that is a big mass of people. The mud and slush were simply awful.

The Americans are to the front again; this time they report 115 suicides; just 36 more than Germany; but they still continue to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the best of all remedies for coughs and colds.
