A famous Washington gambler, it is said, will soon go to preaching. He would have begun it ten years ago, but he has only just now found a cure for his cough. It is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

Tried to Hold His Nose.
One of the Hook and Ladder horses took a tumble this morning as he was being driven rapidly around Market street, into Front, on the way to the fire. His knees were skinned but he was not seriously hurt. He was trying to hold his nose at the time, with one of his forefeet, as he always does, in passing through that filthy section of the city, where the new $175 street sweeper has not been seen or heard of in two months, more or less.

Stockholder's Meeting.

Confirmed.
The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers, the California Fig Syrup Company.

Cash vs. Credit.
My unparalleled success since I have inaugurated my cash system and my increase in patronage proves beyond doubt that the public appreciate low cash prices and that a party who sells for cash can undersell his competitors who credit. I shall offer extra inducements from now until after the holidays to all purchasers of Clothing, Furnishing Goods, Hats and Caps.

City Court.
The following was the docket for the Mayor's consideration this morning:
Alex. Potter, disorderly conduct, continued.
Josephine Pigford, disorderly conduct, $5 and costs.
Simon Gregg, disorderly conduct, discharged.
Sol Nash, assault with a deadly weapon, was required to give bond in the sum of $50 for his appearance at the next term of the Criminal Court, in default of which he was committed.

An Important Meeting.
A called meeting of the Ladies' Memorial Association will be held in Atlantic Hall to-morrow (Friday) afternoon at 4 o'clock, at which a full attendance of the members is requested. All other ladies who wish to become members of the Association can have an opportunity at this time, and are cordially invited. The membership fee, while small, would add to the revenue and thus assist in that which every truly Southern woman should feel as a privilege and which the Association is earnestly desirous of doing, namely: To place a medallion of our deceased President with name and date of death upon our Confederate Monument at Oakdale. Star and Messenger please copy.

The Drapery on the Stage.
In the hurry of making up our report yesterday of the proceedings at the Opera House, and the short time allowed us for doing so, we neglected to notice the beautiful and appropriate decorations on the stage. These were placed there by some of the ladies of the Memorial Association who had been requested to decorate the stage. These ladies worked until a late hour on Tuesday night, preparing the decorations. The colors of the Ladies' Association, black and gray, predominated. Long streamers of these colors, pendant from the ceiling, fell in graceful festoons to the right and left of the stage. The speakers' stand was ornamented with a large portrait of President Davis, encircled with a wreath of immortelles. A small purple banner, with the words, in golden letters, "Awaiting the Great Reveille", was suspended just between the portrait. Above this latter two small Confederate flags were crossed. On the right was a portrait of Robert E. Lee and on the left one of Stonewall Jackson. Our loving gray Spanish moss was entwined everywhere. A Confederate battle flag, which had been borne from the field at Appomattox and the beautiful banner of the Children's Memorial Association, both draped with crape, were placed at the wings. There was also on the stage a profusion of plants and flowers.

What's the sense in saying that Catarrh cannot be cured when Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is so sure and positively certain that the proprietors offer $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which they cannot cure. A full pint of the medicine is made by dissolving one fifty-cent package of the powder in water. Sold by druggists; 50 cents.

Peterson's Magazine.
Peterson's for January shows marked signs of improvements and gives promise of a brilliant year. The engravings are exceptionally fine, and the colored needle work design is of the handsomest. "A Great Reformer" is a capital sketch fully illustrated, and so is Katharine Allen's story "With the New Year." Lucy H. Hooper's serial "A Magnificent Marriage," opens delightfully, and in striking contrast to this tableau of Parisian American society are the exciting pictures of Texas life in Howard Seely's novel et, "A Romance of the Big Horn." Among the poems "Martha Washington's Watch," by Minna Irving, deserves special mention. Every lady should have this magazine for its fashion news and fancy work patterns alone. Terms, $3 a year, with largely reduced rates when taken in clubs. Address Peterson's Magazine, 308 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

The Fire This Morning.
At a little before 8 o'clock this morning the alarm of fire was sounded. It came from the foot of Chestnut street and from the upper floor of a building occupied by Messrs. J. D. McEachern & Co. as a grain and feed store. There was a large lot of hay stored on this floor and it is presumed that the fire caught in some way from the chimney as it was near this that it was first discovered. The various arms of the Fire Department were promptly on hand but the flames spread so rapidly in the combustible material that it soon became a stubborn fight. The building was flooded with water, however, and the fire was soon under control. With the exception of the hay and other feed in Messrs. McEachern & Co.'s store, the loss is less than might have been expected. It is more largely by water than by fire. Messrs. Chas. E. Browne & Co. were next above Messrs. McEachern & Co., and under the floor where the hay was stored. They were insured with Messrs. Smith & Boatwright, in the Providence Washington, of Providence, R. I., for $500 and with Mr. A. A. Brown, in the St. Paul's, for $500. This will probably cover the net loss on the stock. Mr. B. F. Keith, Jr., occupied the corner store. His stock was valued at between $2,000 and $2,500, on which there was insurance with Messrs. Smith & Boatwright for $500, in the Hamburg-Bremen, and $1,000 with Messrs. Northrop, Hodges & Taylor in the London & Lancashire.

Some few of Mr. Keith's goods were removed, but nearly the entire stock was left in the store and was deluged with water. Messrs. J. D. McEachern & Co. valued their stock in hand at between $1,200 and $1,300, and on this they had insurance with Mr. M. S. Willard, in the Sun Fire Insurance Co. of London, for $1,000. Capt. C. D. Myers, Mr. H. McL. Green and Mr. Geo. D. Parsley had offices above Mr. Keith's store and succeeded in removing their effects. The building is of brick and was built nearly half a century ago by the late Mr. O. G. Parsley. It is the property now of the estate of the late Julius Samsou. The walls are cracked and scarred in several places. It was insured with Messrs. Smith & Boatwright in the Liverpool, London & Globe for $5,000, and this will amply cover the loss.
