There have been twenty-three wrecks in the space of three weeks on the Savannah & Western Railroad.

The iconoclastic Republicans of the House will find in November next that they will have only a broken reed to lean upon.

Goldsboro had a lively little fire on Tuesday night. Six buildings were destroyed and six colored families were rendered houseless. The loss was $3,000.

And we are very gravely told now that the highly illustrious Matt Quay is "so worn out by the strain of the office-seekers and the politicians that he cannot sleep and can hardly eat." We are sorry to hear this. Matt should reserve some of his strength for the next fight, along in November. He will have his hands full and if he doesn't Quay then we are mightily mistaken. The Democrats of Pennsylvania propose to wipe their feet on that Matt.

A Montreal man has been condemned to pay the sum of $1 as damage for having called upon a person in a factory with a view to collecting a debt. The court held that the domicile of the debtor is the proper place at which to demand money that is owing. It further declared that to ask on the street for money that is due constituted an assault. It would appear that the average debtor has far more protection than the creditor. This is undoubtedly true in North Carolina where the exemption laws seem to be making a race of rogues out of hitherto honest people. It is a law which has outlived its usefulness, but it is here to stay as it is a part of the Constitution of the State.

Ex-Judge Advocate General Ingalls, in his recent tirade in the Senate the other day on the race issue, characterized the people of the South as unreconciled and "reinforcing the cowardly and degraded elements of the North that sym-pathized with treason," meaning thereby, we presume, Mr. Cleveland, Judge Thurman, Gov. Hill, Gov.
Campbell and others, who are traitors only to the Republican party and their vile methods; such men, for instance, as Ingalls, the coward who skulked in the rear during the war; James G. Blaine, of Maine, of Mulligan letters. Credit Mobilier and "burn this" record; W. W. Dudley, the "blocks of five" representative, and the late J. B.
Foraker, of Ohio, whose illustrious hari kari it would be well for some of the other distinguished members of his party to follow.

Revolutionist Reed, from his seat in the Speaker's chair of the House, has got the drop on parliamentary law, usage and order as thoroughly and effectively as the scoundrel who holds up a stage coach with his Winchester at the head of the driver.
The Democrats will of course be compelled to submit for they are in a powerless minority. Yesterday he reversed the precedents of the House by insisting upon it that members were present who were not voting, himself called out the names to the tellers, and refused appeals from his decisions. No man who has ever yet filled that chair has shown such a decided lack of the decencies—even the common honesty—of political life. When confronted with the record of his own remarks on the floor of the House on a previous occasion, protesting against the very course he pursued yesterday, he merely smiled.
He thought it a good joke, perhaps, that a man who occupied one of the highest positions in the country should be proved in open court a stultifier of himself and a traitor to his own convictions and his own record. It is a pitiful spectacle for the people of this great country to gaze upon.

It will all come right in the end, however. Reed is but a puppet of a day. Yet a little while and he will be gone, following Mr. Foraker's illustrious exit from the public view.
The ideo of next November will tell a tale.

He said he had heard that there was an end to all things—but there seemed to be none to his cough. He changed his mind two days later, after using only one bottle of Dr.
Bull's Cough Syrup.

Doomed to die, and oh, so young.
Is there nothing that can save This poor, hopeless sufferer From the dark and cruel grave?
Comes an answer: "Yes, there is:
'Favorite Prescription' try;
It has saved the lives of thousands Who were given up to die."
For all "female diseases," Dr.
Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the standard remedy, and no woman should despair of recovery until she has given it a trial.
