Spain's little King has an income of one million dollars a year.

Andrew Carnegie is of the opinion that a college education is of no use in assisting a man to fortune.

Senator Brown, of Georgia, says that Ingalls is "a mighty smart man," but he hasn't got any sense."

"There is beauty in amiability, neatness and purity," Mrs. Gladstone writes to a little New York college girl.

The Massachusetts savings bank commissioners suggest school savings banks as a means of teaching the young idea how to save.

Oliver Wendell Holmes always retires at the same hour, eats dinner in the middle of the day, and he walks at least two miles every twenty-four hours.

Vice President Morton's every day lunch, which he takes in the Senate restaurant, is a bowl of bread and milk, accompanied occasionally by a bottle of beer.

A young unmarried woman by the name of Kelly, who writes M. D. after her name, and who practices medicine in New York, is said to be an anarchist, but not of the order of those who advocate violence.

St. Louis has increased the salary of its policemen. Patrolmen will now get $83.33 per month instead of $75, and turnkeys will be advanced from $60 to $65 per month. The total increase per year will be about $45,000.

We exult and rejoice in Speaker Reed's course. He is doing just exactly right, from a Republican standpoint. He could not serve the Democratic party better. He is opening up a very broad path to the grave for himself and his friends.

Chicago Herald: If the Republicans, therefore, wish to abolish filibustering, they can do so, but in doing so they will simply saw off the limb on which they are sitting. Two years hence they will curse the day that they took the bit between their teeth and trampled on the minority, for a temporary and unhallowed advantage.

The question whether Mr. Cleveland will be a Presidential candidate in 1892 is a source of far more anxiety to the Republicans than to Mr. Cleveland himself. He recently made a characteristic remark when he said the continuance of the contest for the principles for which the Democratic party contended in 1888 is of vastly greater importance than the candidacy of any man.

Dom Pedro, Brazil's ex-Emperor, is writing the history of his life and reign, but the book will not be published until after his death. He says that he has been silent upon the subject of his recent revolution in Brazil, because neither remonstrance nor discussion would do good. Being asked if he would return to Brazil if elected President, he said: "With all my heart. No matter whether as Emperor, President or private citizen, I would gladly return to die among my people."

The grand jury is investigating the charges of corruption made against certain members of the St. Louis Municipal Assembly. One of the charges is the alleged distribution of $15,000 among members of the House of Delegates for the passage of a bill to grant a franchise to the Rapid Transit Railway Company. It is claimed that one member took a key to a safe deposit box, opened it, and took the $15,000, which he had previously seen placed there.
