A white boy, whose name we could not learn, had his foot crushed this morning in stepping from a street car on North Fourth street.

"It pleases me so I shall use no other," is what the farmers said when asked about the Boy Clipper Plow, sold by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. †

As the season promises to open so much sooner than usual this year it is probable that Summer schedules will be adopted here early in April.

Paint your Buggy for 75 cents, "6 bits," with Detroit car. Paint, a varnish and paint combined. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Sold by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co. †

Harbor Master's Report.

From the books of Capt. Joseph Price, Harbor Master, we get the following report of arrivals at this port during the month of February: American—4 steamers, 3,684 tons; 1 brig, 303 tons; 9 schooners, 2,975 tons; total 14 vessels and 6,962 tons.

Foreign—11 barks, 4,313 tons; 1 brig, 267 tons; 2 schooners, 253 tons; total, 14 vessels and 4,833 tons.

Total arrivals, American and Foreign, 28 vessels aggregating 11,795 tons.

The Cold Wave and the Snow.

There was no false alarm this time about the cold wave. It got here on time early yesterday morning and it was accompanied by a light fall, at intervals, of what is really sleet but which our folks here call "honey snow." During the day there was also noticeable, occasionally, particles and flakes of snow floating through the atmosphere but these seemed to have been blown here from a cloud somewhere in the neighborhood, but not over the city. The sun broke through the clouds during the afternoon but did not seem to warm the atmosphere as it was very cold last night and this morning there was plenty of ice in exposed localities. The same conditions seem to have obtained at other points in this section.

Vegetation has had a serious setback. Green peas and other early vegetables have been cut down and much damage to tender plants has been sustained in the city gardens. The fruit, it is hoped, is all safe, as it was a dry freeze, there having been no moisture on the trees, but it is impossible, as yet, to estimate accurately if this is the case.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure constipation, biliousness, sick headache, bilious headache, and all derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Mortuary Report.

Dr. Potter, Superintendent of Health, reports 35 interments here during the month of February. Of these 2 were still-born, 1 was brought here from elsewhere and 2 were drowned. The actual number of deaths, therefore, was 30 instead of 35.

Cotton.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the month of February foot up 5,524 bales, against 5,618 bales for same month of last year, a decrease of 124 bales. The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 130,657 bales, against 145,491 to same date last year, a decrease of 14,834 bales.

A Good Day's Work.

Weakness of itself is not a disease. It is, however, a most distressful symptom. Alas! how many wearily drag themselves about, every effort giving them distress, existing without any of the pleasurable sensations of robust health. Are you in this condition? Why? There is no excuse for feeling mean and miserable. Remove the cause of your distress, which undoubtedly is a state of blood impurity and a disordered system. How? Why by doing as others have done.

G. W. Chandler, Red Fork, Ark., writes: "I was so weak that it was only with great effort that I could do anything. I used several bottles of Botanic Blood Balm, and can now do a good day's work."

"Able to do a good day's work!" Is there not something sweet and refreshing in that expression? Strength to vigorously do this or that. Strength that is only overcome by natural fatigue. Strength that when expended, is by rest and nature fully renewed. Such will be your reward if you give B. B. B. a trial.

H. B. Randolph, Brunswick, Ga., writes: "I was under the care of nine different doctors, but not one did me the good that Botanic Blood Balm has done me."

Building Associations.

Building Associations have done a great deal for Wilmington and promise to do much more. They have them in Charlotte and they are epidemic there, a new series being issued every few months. The results in the way of new buildings are really astonishing. We learn from the Charlotte News that "since 1881 the Building and Loan Associations have built 600 houses in Charlotte. Put six hundred houses, big and little, in a row, and see what a town they make. That is the Building and Loan Associations' contribution to the upbuilding of Charlotte in nine years. Six hundred houses built through the aid of these associations, in nine years, is the best answer that can be given to the question asked at the outset of this article. And, to impress upon our readers an idea of the growth of Charlotte in these nine years, we beg to remind them that these 600 Building and Loan houses are over and above all the private building enterprises, such as churches, three cotton factories, hotels, depots, and residences gone."

Little Lord Fauntleroy.

There is no doubt of the fact that one of the largest and most cultivated audiences of the season will be present at the Opera House to night to witness the presentation of "Little Lord Fauntleroy." All who have read the book will want to see the play. The company is a very good one, and has scored a success wherever they have appeared. Mr. Jas. Brady, the manager, says of the company: "Our 'Little Lord Fauntleroy,' for we have two of them who alternate in the title role, are two winsome little misses, Flossy Ethel is 9 years old, a Canadian child, and as pretty a girl as has ever been pictured on canvass. She bears the true patrician imprint on her features, and her head is crowned with gold. Georgia Cooper, who plays at the matinee, is the youngest of all the Fauntleroyes. She is, as she says in her lines, 'I'm just 7 you know,' and she stands about knee-high to a pony. As for the company, I will only say that I have yet to read a sentence or hear a word that was not written or spoken in its praise. I do not think that, taken in its entirety, there is a better one travelling. It is, and I say it without hesitancy, up to the standard of a well organized metropolitan stock company.

"This will last out a night in Russia when nights are longest there" he said, clapping his hand over the aching tooth. But a friend suggested Salvation Oil, and he was fast asleep in twenty seconds.—Price twenty five cents a bottle.

Forecasts.

For North Carolina, warmer and fair weather.

Commendable.

All claims not consistent with the high character of Syrup of Figs are purposely avoided by the California Fig Syrup Company. It acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, cleansing the system effectually, but it is not a cure-all and makes no pretensions that every bottle will not substantiate.

On Inspection Duty.

Mr. F. P. Chaffee, the courteous Signal Service observer at this station, has been ordered on special service and will make a tour of inspection to the offices in this section of country. He will be absent several weeks but expects to return to his post on or before April 1st. During his absence his assistant, Mr. George W. Eddy, will have charge of the office here and will fill the duties of the position.

Around the World.

We hope to see a large audience at the Opera House to-morrow night. If merit has anything to do with it the seats will certainly all be full. Capt. Bixby has of late devoted a great deal of his private time and attention to the proper presentation of the lecture and the attendant beautifully pictured representations of famous cities and scenes. As he says in a circular addressed to the members of the Wilmington Library Association: "This lecture and its views have been tested by delivery over a large part of the United States during past years, each view being accompanied by nearly a half page of interesting descriptions, the whole being continuous. The style of the lecture being descriptive and much the same as that of illustrated articles in Scribner's, Century, &c., and not being in the least operative or theatrical, it is specially suitable for the Lenten season. The lecture will be identically the same as delivered to $500 and $1,000 houses elsewhere in the United States. A private trial last Wednesday at the Opera House showed stereopticon and lights in perfect order; and views as fine as were ever placed upon a screen. If the first lecture meets with sufficient encouragement, it will be followed by others of similar style along other routes of travel."

Magazine of American History.

With a bright and entertaining December number, this popular publication completes its twenty-second volume. It is a noteworthy fact that no other periodical of the time is so carefully preserved by its readers for elegant binding as this literary and historic treasure, and in no library on this continent does a more valuable series exist for reference, its corps of writers being unsurpassed. The frontispiece to the current issue is a fine portrait of Lord Brougham, and the opening paper by the editor is a pleasing sketch of his early career, during the infancy of our Republic. The second illustrated paper is a "Tribute to Hooper C. Van Voorst," the late eminent president of the Holland Society. The third is "The Story of Brave, Beautiful Margaret Schuyler," a charming historic ballad. Curiously interesting is the article following "The Drawings of a Navajo Artist," illustrated with the Indian pencil; as is also the "Acrostic by John Quincy Adams," in fac-simile. "The Sciota Purchase in 1787," and the "Private Contract Provision in Ordinance of 1787," are the most important contributions to the number; these are both ably written, and will doubtless serve to correct many errors in recent histories of Ohio. "Joseph Hawley, the Northampton statesman," is the theme of a scholarly paper followed by "Fort Perrot, Wisconsin." "First Editions of the Bible printed in America" and "General Grant and the French." This splendid magazine is steadily exerting an educational and healthful influence in all departments of literature and study. Subscription price, $5.00 a year. Published at 743 Broadway, New York City.

Young 87 is here.

"Young 87 is here," remarked Smith at his breakfast table New Year's morning. "Where, papa?" "Why, May, he's everywhere around I suppose." "Then—I suppose his mamma don't mind his being out in the snow—as I suppose she keeps a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup."
