Rev. Sam P. Jones
WHAT HE SAYS ABOUT DR. KING'S Royal Germateur!
We are in receipt of a letter from the above world-renowned Evangelist, from which we take the following extract: "I returned from Taylor, Texas, on the 12th inst. I find my wife has been taking 'Royal Germateur' two weeks to the GREAT IMPROVEMENT OF HER PHYSICAL SYSTEM. She is now almost free from the distressing headaches with which she has been a martyr for twenty years. Surely it has done wonders for her! I wish every poor suffering wife had ACCESS TO THAT REMEDY."
It is an infallible cure for rheumatism, neuralgia, paralysis, insomnia, dyspepsia, indigestion, debility, palpitation, liver, bladder and kidney troubles, chills and fever, catarrh, all blood and skin diseases, female troubles, etc.

President Harrison's Administration is said to have a 'chronic chill'—it gets so much cold shoulder from its party.

The making of wooden shoes is quite an industry in New York. There is no demand, however, for wooden heads, as there is no legislative election pending now.

The United States Senators paid $140 for street car tickets during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1889, and the people had to foot the bill. Surely this could not have been charged against the stationary account!

The depth of a sea about six miles deep is reduced by 620 feet by compression. If the ocean were incompressible the level of the surface would be 116 feet higher than it is at present, and about two million square miles of land would be submerged.

The German Empress, it is said, is forming a 'League for the Preservation of Good Habits' among Prussian ladies. The London ladies are doing better than this. They are entirely discarding their old habits good or bad, and are riding straddlewise, like men.

The engagement of Miss Mary Anderson to Mr. De Navarro has been formerly announced in letters received on this side of the water from the gentleman. They will probably be married early in the Summer and Mrs. De Navarro will never be seen on the stage again.

Representative W. L. Wilson, of West Virginia, has no intention of retiring from Congress to accept the presidency of the State University of Missouri. Tempting offers from a financial standpoint were made to Mr. Wilson to make him give up his legislative life in exchange for the professional, but he would rather be a prominent Congressman than a college president.

It is said that a large proportion of the plumes worn by the ladies who attend the Queen's drawing rooms are hired from a shop which makes a business of renting out plumes. The feathers are worth from four to ten dollars, and the rent of them is two dollars and a half for each occasion. Our "plumed knight" thus has a new source of supply.

Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., formerly of this State, but now pastor of the Twenty-third Street Baptist Church in New York, lectured in Boston on Monday night, and the New York Herald publishes a very interesting report of some of the plain truths he told there. There is a misprint, however, in the article. It should be South Carolina instead of North Carolina. We publish herewith an extract:

Mr. Dixon said that the Southern question was seen through a mirage, on account of the way in which the political, the educational, the literary, the tourist the reform, the newspaper, the sectional, the hereditary and the all round steel plated quacks and the quacks who had failed at everything else befogged the question for selfish ends. "In only two States, North Carolina and Mississippi, is the negro in the majority. The educational test in the former State disfranchised seven-eighths of them. The intelligent, powerful classes find ways to accomplish their purposes," said Mr. Dixon, and he pointed Bostonians to the fact that though this is a Democratic city by 8,000 majority, Mr. Hart was elected Mayor last December by 3,000. There had been outrages in the South and their perpetrators should hang for them; but the whole people should not be indicted. The Southern negroes polled in the last Presidential election sixty-seven per cent. of their total vote by the census. In fact," said Mr. Dixon, "they vote more than in my opinion they ought to vote, for 760,000 of the 1,000,000 who voted in 1888 could not read the ballots they cast."

In discussing the true solution of the problem the speaker said: "Deportation is all nonsense. The negro will be free when Christ shall make him free. The negro is becoming free every day, and is emancipating himself from those who would make tools of him. It will take time and patience to solve this problem. The negro must have education of the head, the heart and the hand. We must have sweeping ballot reform that shall stretch from sea to sea and from Canada to the Gulf. Ballot reform bills must be passed in every State in this country."

Hood's Sarsaparilla has the largest sale of any medicine before the public. Any honest druggist will confirm this statement.

The owner of a big store in Paris insisted upon giving $1,000,000 to found a home for soldiers' children and his relatives thereupon had him confined in a mad house. Don Juan Wanamaker is safe.

Ex-Governor Ames, of Massachusetts, has returned from a trip to Cuba and says he learned while there from the Consul General at Havana that Secretary Blaine "favors free trade between all the islands of the Antilles, Mexico and the United States," and the ex-Governor Ames at the same views.

We are glad to know that Hon. Samuel J. Randall has improved so much that he is able to attend to his correspondence now. He is sorely needed now in the House, nearly as much so as when in the dark days of reconstruction he battled almost unaided against the encroachment of the centralizers and in defence of constitutional liberty.

The Democrats are greatly pleased with the success in the elections held in Ohio on Monday. An unusually large vote for Spring elections was polled. It was almost a clear sweep in the Northwest, where the Republicans put in some of their mightiest efforts. The Herald correspondent looks upon the result as an endorsement of Campbell and Brice and as evidence that the Buckeye State is fast becoming thoroughly and reliably Democratic.

LOCAL NEWS.

INDEX TO NEW ADVERTISEMENTS, R. C. ORRELL—Livery Stables, J. F. GARRELL—Spring Lambs, C. W. YATES—Window Shades, etc., W. M. CUMMING—Yardsticks given away

For other local see fourth page.

Capt. N. H. Sprunt, of Kenansville, was in the city to day.

Boys! we can sell you a Bracket Saw, with frame, for 10 cents. N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

A new board crossing has been placed at the Postoffice, where it has been sorely needed for a long time.

The Second Regiment, N. C. S. G., have been invited to be present at the unveiling of the Lee monument in Richmond.

This is good growing weather for the crops. The sun shines clear and the wind has been from the Southwest all day.

When ready to build, paint or repair you will find it to your advantage to buy your material of the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

"It pleases me so I shall use no other," is what the farmer said when asked about the Boy Clipper Plow, sold by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

Dr. R. H. Lewis, of Raleigh, is in the city and is at Dr. Wood's office, where he can be consulted by those who have trouble with the eye or the ear.

The peach trees are in full bloom now and it is a remarkable fact that some of the same blooms which are on the trees to day were there a month ago.

Ask for "Our Old Chief." This new and improved Wamsutta Shirt is now ready and for sale at our Shirt Factory only, at 75c. 122 Market St., J. Elsbach, prop.

Brunswick County Superior Court adjourned for the term yesterday about 9 o'clock. There was a slim docket and it was all cleared off in about 24 hours.

Paint your Buggy for 75 cents, "4 hits," with Detroit earg. Paint, a varnish and paint combined. Guaranteed to give satisfaction. Sold by the N. Jacobi Hdw. Co.

Our sprightly and newsy neighbor, the Goldsboro Argus, has entered on its sixth year and celebrates the fact by appearing yesterday as a trade issue with a colored cover and a brightly illuminated frontispiece. We are glad to note these signs of prosperity for its worthy of them all.

Some of the street force are at work cutting away the parasitical fungus, mistletoe, which is doing so much damage to the oak trees here. It is astonishing how the thing thrives and grows, when it once gains a foothold, and how rapidly and completely it will knock all of the life out of a big tree.

Dogs continue to depredate on the beautiful grass plot on Market street. There are now two unsightly holes there, dug by the miserable curs.

To day is the anniversary of Gen. Lee's surrender. It took place April 9, 1865, just 25 years ago. It was the saddest day the South has ever known.

Dr. E. Porter, of Rocky Point, with his son, a lad from a military school, who sports the grey his father wore so faithfully for four long and bitter years, was in the city to day on a brief visit.

Toby Sykes, a boy about 12 or 13 years of age, got his hand caught yesterday in a machine at the Industrial Manufacturing Co.'s works and will probably lose several of his fingers in consequence.

It blew some big guns here yesterday afternoon and last night and it has not been exactly a dead calm to-day. There was no warning signal raised and hence we presume that it was merely a local affair.

It is acknowledged by every one that I. Shrier, corner Front and Princess streets, does the largest clothing business in Wilmington, and every one that buys there saves at least from 15 to 25 per cent on the dollar.

Mr. W. M. Cumming is distributing free to housekeepers (but not to children) a number of yardsticks. Mr. Cumming, by the way, turns out as nice work as can be had anywhere. Patronize your home people.

It is rather early for Spring lamb but Mr. John F. Garrell has secured a fine lot, all this year's lambs, which will be offered for sale by him on his stalls every day this week. It is from the Cape Fear lowlands and as it has been well pastured there it will be found toothsome, tender and fat. See ad.

A Pleasing Sense
Of health and strength renewed and of ease and comfort follows the use of Syrup of Figs, as it acts in harmony with nature to effectually cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 50c and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

The Easter Egg Hunt.
The attendance at the Easter egg hunt in St. John's churchyard yesterday afternoon was very large. The little ones were out in great force. The eggs were greatly in demand and the supply soon became exhausted and had to be hurriedly replenished. It was the largest Easter egg hunt ever known here.

Death of Rev. Charles Carlstrom.
A letter received here from Mrs. Carlstrom announces the death of Rev. Charles Carlstrom, who left this city in June last to carry the gospel to his people in Finland. He suffered very much from dropsy but died happy. His wife and child, who are natives of this city, expect to return here next Summer.

This Morning's Fire.
The alarm of fire this morning, at 10:30 o'clock, was caused by the burning of the house of Sophie N. Brown, colored, on Walnut street, between Fifth and Sixth. The house was almost entirely destroyed and some of the furniture was lost. There was insurance on the building for $310 with Messrs. Smith & Boatwright in the Virginia Fire & Marine Insurance Co.

The Lame Walk.
Pitiful indeed is the condition of those who are confined to their beds or chairs unable to walk. How grateful all such must feel when they recover from their helplessness. B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) has made more than one lame person happy. Mrs. Emma Griffiths, Union, Tenn., writes: "My little boy had scrofula so bad his knees were drawn up and his knees stiff, and he could not walk. He derived no benefit from medicines until I tried B. B. B. After using it a short time only, he can walk and has no pain. I shall continue its use."
Mirtle M. Tanner, Boonville, Ind., writes: "I had blood poison from birth. Knots on my limbs were as large as hen's eggs. Doctors said I would be a cripple, but B. B. B. has cured me sound and well. I shall ever praise the day the man who invented Blood Balm was born."

Refreshing and invigorating.
Delicious Soda Water as drawn from Munds Brothers' magnificent new soda fountain at a temperature of 34°. Purest Fruit Syrup, Milk Shakes and Natural Mineral Water.

The Concert Last Night.

The Opera House has never yet held a more cultured and a more appreciative audience than that assembled last night at the Classical Concert, given under the auspices of the ladies of the First Baptist Church. The stage setting was very fine, a pleasant scene having been selected, and the stage itself was profusely ornamented with flowers and plants, the work, by the way, of Mrs. S. H. Burr.

The concert itself was an artistic gem. That is what we have been told it was and by those capable of formulating an opinion on the subject. For ourself we candidly confess that it was somewhat beyond us. It is only a cultured musical ear that can appreciate properly such things. This is not meant as in any way a criticism upon a truly delightful and meritorious entertainment, one which in point of art would have been a credit to any musical community in any part of the world, but is merely the confession of ignorance of one who stands without the temple doors and would fain enter in, but cannot, because Nature has disbarred him. It is an honest confession, at all events, and we commend it to some others who profess great delight and great appreciation of things which are, by the way, as far above and beyond their comprehension as ours.

We have seen and noted these things previously. We have heard the "divine songstress" tear the chromatic scale all to pieces and then, when an encore was called for, have heard the full, rich, sweet voice rise softly in the cadences of "Suwanee River" and in this draw forth a tumult of applause that the most famous aria in the world could never have called out. Such a thing as this proves two facts; it proves that there is more or less of the divine afflatus of music in every man's make-up and it proves that it is only the select few, who have been initiated into its mysteries, who can understand and appreciate the higher phases of the glorious world of soft and beautiful harmonies.

But last night's concert was a fine thing; as we said above, we have been assured of this fact by those on whose judgment we can confidently rely. The programme had evidently been selected with great care and the rehearsals had brought almost perfection in tone and movement. Every feature of the programme was beautifully and exquisitely rendered and every appearance was the signal for liberal applause and a hearty encore. We will not attempt to follow the programme in its details. The ladies taking part in the order in which they appeared, were Mrs. Thorburn, Mrs. Jenkins, Miss Gabrielle Derosset and Mrs. Geo. Welch, and the gentlemen were Mr. E. P. Boatwright, Prof. Herndon, Mr. Nathan Mayer, Mr. Brooke French, Mr. Geo. P. Welch and Prof. Greenwald.
