The Daily Review.
JOSEPH T. JAMES, Editor & Prop'r.
WILMINGTON, N. C.
SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1890.
Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as second-class matter.

The Atchison (Kansas) Champion a radically Republican paper, has created a sensation in that State by taking a bold stand against the reelection of Hon. John J. Ingalls to the United States Senate. It bases its opposition on the ground that "Ingalls has never during his eighteen years service in the Senate done a solitary thing in the way of legislation, never secured the passage of a single measure, never as much as given assistance in good faith to obtain the enactment of any bill for the benefit of Kansas, but, on the contrary, has simply used his position to advance his personal interests in politics." This is certainly very plain talk for a party organ.

After eighteen years Austria has at last completed its great topographical map of the Austro-Hungarian empire. The map is in 752 sheets, and furnishes a great deal of topographic details that has never been available before for map making. It has been very interesting to observe the rapid growth of our knowledge of the Southern part of Europe since the Russo-Turkish war. One of the large map houses of Germany, commenting upon its notable new map of the Balkan Peninsula, said a while ago that, for the first time in the history of its existence, sufficient geographical data is now accessible to make it desirable to publish maps of the Balkan States on as large a scale as those of the rest of Europe.

Louisiana has a floating debt of nearly $3,000,000, made up of bonds, interest coupons unpaid, State warrants and certificates of indebtedness. So low is the credit of the State that these evidences of indebtedness have been selling at an average of about fifty cents on the dollar. It is now proposed by the New Orleans Stock Exchange that the State fund this indebtedness at half its face value in long-time bonds. It appears that most of this debt is held in the State, and a large portion of the certificates, bonds, etc., netted the State but little, if any, more than the value at which it is proposed to fund them. It is hoped to place these new bonds, which will be 4 per cent, at par or over, and in that way to restore the finances of the State to a reasonably healthy condition. New Orleans expects to benefit by this transaction, as its credit is intimately connected with that of the State. The city business, however, is done upon a purely cash basis, and it, therefore, has no floating debt.

"A change to the Democrats in ten districts, as compared with 1888," says the St. Louis Globe Democrat, (Rep.) "would wrest the next House from the Republicans and put the Democrats in control. A hundred or two hundred votes here and there in a dozen close districts transferred from the Republican column to the Democratic next fall would break the Republican supremacy in the National Legislature for the second half of President Harrison's term and place the Democrats in power in the popular branch of Congress. The situation demands the earnest and critical attention of the party chieftains." The Globe Democrat may rest easy. The situation, says the Charleston News and Courier, is receiving the most careful attention that the party chieftains can give it. They know that they cannot hold their majority in the Northern States, and are preparing, therefore, to make up for their impending losses by counting in a score of Republican candidates from the Southern States. This is the sole motive for the Congressional election bill which is now on the stocks and will be floated before Congress adjourns.

A Scrap of Paper Saves Her Life
It was just an ordinary scrap of wrapping paper, but it saved her life. She was in the last stages of consumption, told by physicians that she was incurable and could live only a short time; she weighed less than seventy pounds. On a piece of wrapping paper she read of Dr. King's New Discovery, and got a sample bottle; it helped her, she bought another and grew better fast, continued its use and is now strong, healthy, rosy, plump, weighing 140 pounds. For fuller particulars send stamp to W. H. Cole, Drugist, Fort Smith, Ark. Trial bottles of this wonderful Discovery free at Robt. B. Bellamy's wholesale and retail drug store.

Dyspepsia
Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the source of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced."
