Almost every one starting off for the summer takes some reading matter. It is a book out of the library, or off the bookstand, or bought of the boy hawking books through the cars. I really believe there is more trash read among the intelligent classes in July and August than in all the other ten months of the year. Men and women who at home would not be satisfied with a book that was not really sensible, I find sitting on hotel piazzas or under the trees reading books the index of which would make them blush if they knew that you knewwhat the book was. "Oh," they say, "you must have intellectual recreation." Yes, there is no need that you take along into a watering place "Hamilton's Metaphysics," or some ponderous discourse on the eternal decrees, or "Faraday's Philosophy. There are many easy books that are good.

You might as well say, "I propose now to give a little rest to my digestive organs, and instead of eating heavy meat and vegetables I will, for a little while, take lighter food-a little strychnine and a few grains of ratsbane." Literary poison in August is as bad as literary poison in December. Mark that. Do not let the vermin of a corrupt printing press jump and crawl into your Saratoga trunk or White Mountain valise. Are there not good books, that are easy to read-books of entertaining travel, books of congenial history, books of pure fun, books of poetry, ringing with merry canto; books of fine engraving, books that will rest the mind as well as purify the heart and elevate the whole life? There will not be an hour between this and the day of your death when you can afford to read a book lacking in moral principle.-T. De Witt Talmage in Ladies' Home Journal.

Prince of the Comoros.

Another sable personage is now visit- Store. ing Paris in the person of Prince Mardjane, of the Comoro Islands, which lie off the east coast of Africa near Mozambique. He is here in order, it is said, to furnish the government with information concerning his country, but this riage. The lover that never grum would seem to be a vague, semi-official bled at holding a 130-pound girl for explanation of his presence in Paris. hours grumbles if he has to hold a Whatever may be the object of the prince's coming he has neglected to provide himself with an interpreter through whom he could make his business known; and when he and his secretary appeared at the ministry of marine not a single official could understand a word which either of the strangers uttered.

After a weary waste of atrocious French on the one hand and of absurd a fence in Morris' county, Ga.: "If Arabic on the other an interpreter was any man's or woman's cows or oxen summoned hastily and some light was at last thrown on the wishes and intention of the distinguished black. Prince Mardjane has had a perilous voyage from his native land, for he was shipwrecked a few days after its shores receded from his view and, having been picked up by an English vessel, he was taken to the Cape.—Paris Letter.

Grew Old While Drowning.

Richard L. Edwards, 19 years old, was drowned while rowing on the Ohio. The body was swept beneath some barges and could not be recovered. Friday a corpse was found floating in the river near Rising Sun, Ind. On the body was a watch and ring both bearing the initials R. L. E. Apparently the body was that of a man at least 50 years of age with snow white hair.

Edwards' brother positively identified the body from the jewelry and clothing. When the young man fell into the river his hair was coal black; that of the corpse was pure white. Fright doubtless made the change while he was struggling for life. There has been great excitement along the river over the mysterious case. It is the first instance on record where a man was prematurely aged while drowning.-Cincinnati Cor. Pittsburg Dispatch.

Gift to Richmond College.

The family-wife and children-of T. C. Williams have given $25,000 to endow a law professorship in Richmond college. Some months before his death er. Mr. Williams sent to Treasurer C. H. Ryland his check for $10,000 to aid in endowing the college and at the same time he offered to give $5,000 toward endowing a chair of law, conditioned on the raising of $20,000 more in a given time. The condition was not complied with, and of course Mr. Williams' estate was released from the obligation to pay the $5,000. But now his wife and children step forward and pay the entire $25,000, and thus give to Richmond college the T. C. Williams law professorship.-Richmond Herald.

The Fashionable Fox Terrier. Every dog has his day, and the fashionable dog of just this present day is un-questionably the fox terrier. Abundant evidence of this fact can be picked up any fine afternoon by a walk through a nable New York thoroughfare. The younger set of men about town, almost to a man, own fox terriers. Their sisters and the other fellows' sisters of their acquaintance own them; blushing school girls own them, and, like certain kinds of patent medicine, children cry for them. Indeed, it may be truly said that there are few well to do families who TO BE SOLD BY SUBSCRIPTION ONLY. have not at one time or another had one of these sprightly, intelligent and pugna-cious little dogs.—New York Tribune.

Rapid Work in the Census Office.

A quick piece of work was done by the census office clerks one evening. A circular was printed for distribution to the enumerators. It was set up at 2 o'clock and about 90,000 copies were printed. These were placed in about 48,000 envelopes, addressed to the enumerators, and by 3 o'clock in the morning the entire number, distributed by states and counties, were in the counties. A large force of clerks were
